The annual Christmas closing of Auburn School took place Tuesday Dec. 22 with a goodly number of parents and visitors. The school was tastefully decorated with green and blue trimmings. A large bell that hung in the centre of the school room with streamers on all sides added additional cheer. Miss Callaghan, teacher, examined the pupils in their different subjects each and every one displaying his and her talent. Mrs. Angus A. MacNeill assisted Miss Callaghan in examining the pupils. The feature of the examinations was a current event match by the pupils 8, 9 and 10. The sides were evenly divided, and each pupil had a set of questions prepared to ask one another, and needless to say these questions were different as they consisted of World's Events. Teachers and pupils deserve praise in the way they handled this match. A short but interesting programme then took place as follows opening address of Welcome, by Theresa Corrigan, Clara MacIntee, Recitation, Arnes MacNeill, Recitation, 5 Little Fingers, Solo, Darling Nellie Grey, Theresa MacIntee, and Frances MacCarron, Recitation, Bare Feet by Joseph MacGaughey, Mary Boylan, Recitation, The Calf must not ring to-night, Picturesque Star drill by 5 girls, Mary Boylan, Frances MacCarron, Theresa MacIntee, Recitation, Clara MacIntee, Recitation, Corrigan, Recitation, Betty MacGaughey, The Doll, Solo, Frances MacCarron, Recitation by Louis MacNeill, Christmas Night, Solo by Theresa MacIntee, My Sunshine.

WESTERN FLOWERS BLOOM IN WINTER

During the summer station staffs along the lines of the Canadian National Railways vie with one another in producing beautiful displays of flowers and ornamentals. These same staffs usually think of other things during the winter months. An exception to this rule is J. Schlaser, Section Foreman at Rosevear, Alberta, east of Jasper National Park, who had on display in the station grounds there a pleasing display of Cineraria which he says were "Not grown in a hot house, but in the station grounds in winter."

Canada's 1940 honey crop is estimated at 22,874,400 pounds according to the Agricultural Department of the Canadian National Railways.

In Memoriam

MRS. JOHN NOY

A short time before midnight on the night of Jan. 9th at her home in Village Green there passed away one of the oldest citizens of P. E. Island in the person of Mrs. John Noy at the ripe age of 100 years and 16 days. Mrs. Noy was born on Dec. 24th, 1840, and it was with great pleasure that her friends brought their gifts to her on Christmas eve, and wonderful to relate she was able to see and appreciate the kindness of those who sent their gifts. She was tenderly cared for during the past year of weakness and infirmity by her granddaughter Avis and her husband Fred Mossman. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. D. K. Ross, B.A., of Pownal United Church who referred to the unusually long life of the deceased which extended back to within three years of the crowning of Queen Victoria and extended over the reigns of five British sovereigns and in the period of great progress and development of the Empire, and the world. Mrs. Noy was a girl of six when Rev. John Geddie went out as the first foreign missionary from P. E. I. to one of our British colonies to preach the Gospel to the non-Christian world.

The hymns used at the service were "The Lord's My Shepherd," "Near My God To Thee," and "Safe in The Arms of Jesus."

The service at the house was at 2 o'clock and interment was made in Pownal Cemetery at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Noy was universally loved by all who knew her. She was of a bright and cheerful disposition and never complained about the rheumatism which caused her pain during the last month or so of her life. She was a diligent, faithful wife and mother and was able to be around the house doing her work without glasses until she was 99 years old. The death of her son James in March 1939 was a terrible blow to her, from which she never recovered. She leaves to mourn her beloved granddaughter Avis, Mrs. Mossman, in the old home, her daughter Mrs. Daniel Mitchell at Village Green and Sarah Ann in Mass U. S. A.

Massachusetts Maple Leaf Fund

Canadians will be heartened by news from an organization in the States which is expanding rapidly in an effort to make its support and enthusiasm count to the fullest in the war efforts of Canada and Britain; namely, the Maple Leaf Fund, Incorporated.

Recently the Massachusetts Maple Leaf Fund, a new branch of this organization, came into being under the honorary chairmanship of Sir Herbert Ames. Under the Fund's sponsorship, Sir Herbert has been making a series of speeches to representative eastern audiences on Canada's war effort, with special emphasis on the far-sighted program for the training of pilots in Empire defense. The speeches have been enthusiastically received by all groups who have heard them.

Organized as a non-profit organization, early in the war, for the purpose of co-ordinating and stimulating the work of existing Canadian organizations in the United States, the Maple Leaf Fund is the only Canadian relief organization registered with the United States State Department (Acceptance No. 303) and legally permitted to solicit funds in the United States. It is prevented by statute from engaging in propaganda or sending money or munitions to any belligerent government or its agents, but it may solicit and collect funds for direct war relief. Administered by Canadian and British committees who are closely touch with the refugee problem, whether in the United States or wherever men fight for freedom, the Fund asks only one question: "Where is the greatest need?"

List of Officers

Many of New England's prominent Canadian-Americans have actively contributed their time and counsel to the Fund as may be seen by the list of officers:

Chairman: N. Grant Mackinnon.
Secretary: J. Ernest Kerr.
Treasurer: George H. Montgomery.

Executive Secretary: Therese L. Blesse (Mrs. William Blesse).

Contributions to the Fund have already totalled over three-quarters of a million dollars, and efficient purchasing plus ingenuity on the part of the Fund's friends mean tons of clothes, loads of food, and barrels of cod-liver oil for the Empire's strugglers. Inexpensively illustrated by the use of a quantity of pocket-books in the making of leather coats, and the converting of felt used in the manufacture of paper boxes into serviceable blankets (for only one dollar apiece).

Other prominent Canadian-Americans are serving on the Steering and Executive Committees whose memberships are as follows:

Steering Committee:

Prof. Roy Davis, Dr. A. J. A. Campbell, Hedley V. Howlett, Dr. H. Edward McLean, James A. Howlett, Capt. Roy Edwards, Thomas J. Barry, Daniel H. Rose.

Executive Committee:

Col. P. A. Guthrie, Dr. D. J. MacGillivray, Allan J. Wilson, John Chaisson, Rev. D. LeRoy Ferguson, Walter P. Archibald, Sen. John D. Mackay, Mrs. N. Grant Mackinnon, George Chamberlaine, Romeo David, Mrs. Hedley V. Howlett, A. J. Campbell, Dr. Robert H. Morris, Medley T. Holdsworth.

The interest and support of Massachusetts officials and public men in the Fund may be seen from a recent action of Police Commissioner Timilty of Boston; Commissioners Timilty has authorized police stations throughout the city of Boston to accept contributions of clothing for the Fund. Furthermore, the Fund boasts an Advisory Committee as follows: Maurice J. Tobin, Mayor of Boston, the Hon. Charles H. Cox, Daniel I. Marsh, Pres. of Boston University, the Hon. Gaspar G. Bacon and Mr. William Emerson.

At an early date, the Fund Headquarters, now in the Hotel Statler, Boston, will be permanently located on Bromfield Street in Boston.
