SUMMERSIDE CHARLOTTETOWN

LETTER OF SYMPATHY
To Mrs. Brown and Daughter, Mrs. Seaman.
Dear Friends:—The hearts of your sister-members of Hunter River United W. M. S. go out in loving sympathy to you, Mrs. Brown, as you are called upon to mourn the loss of a dearly-loved daughter to you, Mrs. Seaman, who, by her passing, is left only the hallowed memories of a loved and loving sister.
But you mourn not as those without hope, knowing so well, through many years of association with each of you, your supreme faith in, and loyalty to, your Master, our prayer is that you may still be sustained and scathed by that unfaltering trust.
Each sorrow has its purpose. By the sorrowing of unguessed But as sure as the sun brings morning, Whatever is—is best.
May the memories of a Christian life, devoted to family and friends be a great consolation to each of you in your hours of loneliness and grief.
Signed on behalf of the members of the W. M. S. of Hunter River.

General Assembly Of The Presbyterian Church In Canada

(By Rev. W. Bruce Muir)

The Disruption of the church took place in 1925, it was freely said "That among the clergy who remained there was scarcely a man of average ability left." It was said "That those who remained looked upon the empty space as if they had been looking into an empty grave." Those who did remain were treated with a bitterness almost inconceivable. There was a widespread impression that the Presbyterian Church would never recover from the shock. How false these statements have proved is manifested by the splendid turnout of commissioners now assembled in Regina, the capital of Saskatchewan where the church was thought to be shot to pieces. That city has taken the commissioners into its open arms and, even the papers which were strongly in favour of union are now compelled to recognize that the Presbyterian Church still remains a vital force in the religious life of this great Dominion, which it has served with a distinction and success for over half a century. To scan the men who are present during these strenuous days is a pleasant task. Dr. A. J. MacGillivray of Guelph, the past moderator opened the assembly with a sermon replete with sound doctrine, and held the attention of all with sound wisdom and godly learning.

Beside the Moderator sat Dr. Wardlaw Taylor and Dr. MacNamara. Two men who are to the manner born, and who guide the court in its business relationships in a manner which gains the admiration of all. Then there is Dr. A. L. Grant, Secretary of the Board of Missions, the hero in many a fight, and one who cannot be excelled in his power of extracting the sinews of war out of the wealthier members of the church. What a power he wields, assisted by his young Lieutenant, Rev. A. W. Cannon, whom Dr. Grant is carefully training to take up the burden of the fight when the veteran himself lays it down. Then our eyes fall on Dr. D. R. Drummond, restored again to health and using his vigorous intellect for the work so dear to his heart; the work of breaking new ground and stepping forward with undaunted heart. Last year as recorded he visited the mission fields in the far East—Newfoundland, and Prince Edward Island. After the Assembly he will go to the Yukon. Next comes along Dr. Kannawin, Secretary of Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies. A saner leader of young people is not to be found, and he seems very happy to be in the great Province of Saskatchewan, which is essentially a Young People's Province and these are told by Dr. Kannawin, are flocking back to fight under "The Blue Banner." Near beside him sits Dr. Barr of Brantford, young and vigorous himself and rapidly becoming a Young People's leader. Other splendid men deeply interested in the laying of sure foundations in the youthful mind may be seen close at hand, ready to take their part in the discussion of young people's problems, such as Dr. Johnston of Ottawa, Mulligan of Sydney, and MacKay of Waterton. These are the men who are ploughing and sowing because they believe that the reach of the Kirk is just as wide as its girth. Here we must not forget the two great college professors who are among the commissioners, Principal Eakin of Knox College, Toronto and Principal Fraser of Montreal. The former, the very heart and soul of the grand old college of Knox storing his student's minds with that sound doctrine which will make them true defenders of the faith in the days that are to be, the latter a man of wonderful personality, a native of Prince Edward Island and that explains a lot, burning with affection for his old college on the slopes of Mount Mont-real, and ever loving the gates of Zion more than the dwellings of Jacob.

The first man perhaps who would attract a stranger upon entering the Assembly would be Dr. Banks Nelson. He always ploughs his own furrow, but gets to the end thereof by keen rapier strokes backed up by strong argument. Few men in the Assembly occupy a prouder position. He fought the Senate of Canada; he fought the Legislature of Ontario, and still lives to tell of victories won, and of many others still to be won. We must not forget Dr. R. G. MacBeth of Vancouver, strong and solid as a rock, but with the emotion of the Gael which makes him a persona grata with everybody. Space does not permit me to say much more, but among the leaders we recognize the men of the Maritime Provinces. Behold the MacGregors, the MacCulloughs, the Stewarts and the Frasers with Finlay Macintosh leading on the Scottish hosts to victory. These are the men with Scotch blood in their veins who can still sing: "Scots wha' hae" without fear or favour. None of these men have lost the old magic touch of glamour which still makes them masters of Assemblies. The great rank and file fall in behind them not however without that free discussion which is still the birthright of every genuine commissioner to a General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in any clime or in any climate. And so the Assembly of 1928 will move on and continue the great work committed to its charge from Sydney to Vancouver. (Communicated)
