It is understood the Prime Minister has been given definite assurance that he may safely undertake the journey to London to represent Canada at the King's Silver Jubilee celebrations. SUMMERSIDE TOWN COUNCIL MEETING

Chairman of Finance Committee Gives Comprehensive Review of Finances.

The regular monthly meeting of the Summerside Town Council was held last night with the Mayor presiding over a full council board. U.S. PUBLISHER DIES SUDDENLY

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 8 —Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times whose career started as a "printer's devil" more than half a century ago, died today in the city where he started in the publishing business. He was 77 years old.

Stricken with a cerebral hemmorhage in a downtown restaurant at noon, he died at 4.10 p.m.

Mr. Ochs, one of the directors and charter members of the Associated Press and organizer of the old Southern Associated Press, came here last night for a few days visit with relatives. He had been in ill health for some time. For the last two years a nurse had travelled with him.

The nurse had accompanied him to the restaurant where at luncheon he had joined Colonel Milton B. Ochs, his brother, and former managing editor of the Chattanooga Times, which he owned; his nephew, Adolf Shelby Ochs II, Chattanooga Times general manager; and Harry C. Adler, chairman of the board of the Chattanooga Times and brother-in-law of the aged publisher.

The attack rendered Mr. Ochs unconscious. He was given a hypodermic and immediately taken by ambulance to the nearby Newell Sanitarium where he succumbed.

(C.P. By Guardian's Sperial Wire)

SAINT JOHN, N. B., April 8 — The "Last Post" sounded today for Keith S. Johnston, who enlisted before he was 15, went overseas with the 26th Nova Scotia battalion, was in the trenches on his 16th and 17th birthdays, and died at the age of 34 after a long illness resulting from his war services. He was wounded twice as well as gassed. His wife and two children survive.

12 Vacancies In Senate

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, April 8—Twelve vacancies existing in the Senate comprise three for Nova Scotia; three, New Brunswick; three Quebec; two Ontario and one Manitoba, Sir George Perley, acting Prime Minister, stated in an answer tabled today in the House of Commons in reply to J. F. Pouliot (Lib. Temiscouata).

The longest unfilled vacancy was one for Nova Scotia where a seat became vacant on May 8, 1932, the reply said.

By not filling the vacancies, the reply continued, a savings had been made of "such sums, based on attendance, as would be payable under the provisions of the Senate and House of Commons Act."

Transferable Voting System Favored

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, April 8.—Establishment of the transferable voting system in Alberta and Saskatchewan is proposed in a bill of which notice has been given on the House of Commons order paper by W. A. Beynon (Cons. Moose Jaw). It is understood the move will be accepted by the government and the Dominion's Election Act amended accordingly so far as those two provinces are concerned.

Under the proposed changed system electors would mark their ballots with figures, placing the numtral "one" after the name of their first choice of candidates, nd "two" after the name of the second choice and so on according to the number of candidates.

In counting the ballots if there are more than two candidates and one has not been first choice of a sufficient number of electors to give him a clear majority, the second choices are counted and credited, the candidate receiving the lowest number of first preferences being first eliminated from the contest.

Urges Change In Educational System Of N.B.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

WOODSTOCK, N. B., April 8— The system of education in New Brunswick is obsolete and must be revised within the next few years, W. K. Tibert, Fredericton, director of vocational training, told a local service club today.

A large percentage of the 1,100 men now in provincial relief camps had a good academic education but no prospects, he said. Students were preparing themselves for overcrowded professions instead of other callings. He urged that students be given a better chance to say what they wanted to learn.

AGAINST CANCELLATION OF CONTRACTS

Ontario Associated Boards of Trade and Chamber of Commerce Draw Up Brief.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

TORONTO, April 8—Cancellation of the Quebec power contracts without regard to the courts was not in the best interests of the people of Ontario, the Ontario Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce said today in a brief drawn up for submission to Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn.

The meeting also decided to inform all members of the Association of their decision and if they approved the finding, recommended they take whatever action they deem necessary. The board council contended that the question of whether the contracts should or should not have been made, whether their terms were fair or otherwise and whether or not they were properly validated were maters beside the point when it came to a matter of cancellation.

"The undeniable fact is that the contracts were intended to be binding on all parties concerned and the bonds of the power companies were readily purchased by thousands of people not only in Canada but abroad, in the implicit faith which the purchasers had in the integrity of the people of Ontario as represented by their government," the board held.

REDUCE PEGGED PRICE OF POTATOES

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

MONTREAL, April 8—Wholesale pegged prices of potatoes in Toronto and Montreal today were 10 cents lower than previous levels following a decision of the Eastern Canada Potato Marketing Board, L. F. Burrows, of Ottawa, chairman of the board announced here tonight.

The decision to reduce the pegged prices was reached at a meeting of the board in Ottawa Saturday and went into effect as from April 6, Mr. Burrows stated.

In Toronto, Ontario mountains were pegged at 50 cents, New Brunswick mountains at 57 1-2 cents and Prince Edward Island mountains at 62 1-2 cents, all per 90 pound bag.

In Montreal, the price of Quebec mountains was fixed at 45 cents, New Brunswick mountains at 50 cents and Prince Edward Island mountains at 52 1-2 cents, all per 80 pound bag.

New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island cobblers both in Toronto and Montreal were fixed at 2 1-2 cents less than the prices for mountains, Mr. Burrows said

The chairman of the Potato Marketing Board was in Montreal to confer with Montreal dealers after their conference with officials of the Quebec Department of Agriculture. The dealers discussed the organization of the Quebec section of the marketing board which will operate in Montreal following the decision of Quebec to enter the board.

REFERENDUM ON TITLES IS SUGGESTED

Former Minister of Justice Protests Against Canadians Receiving Royal Recognition.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, April 8.— Hon Ernest Lapointe, former Minister of Justice suggested in the House of Commons today a referendum be taken this summer on the titles question. At the same time he protested against any Canadians receiving titles at the King's Jubilee in May.

Mr. Lapointe said he had heard reports Canadians would receive titles from London in May. "I hope this will not be done. Last year the House divided on the question of restoration of titles. The Liberals were unanimous against it and the Independents as well. Some of the Conservatives voted against the institution of titles in Canada. I claim under the circumstances a title is only a Conservative badge."

Titles, Mr. Lapointe said, were abhorrent to the majority of Canadians. He claimed one Toronto man who was in the last honors' list said he would have preferred a member of the nobility to John Buchan as Canada's next Governor-General. This man, Mr. Lapointe said, evidently had "chaos in his brain."

"We are going to have an election this summer," he continued, "I suggest we take a referendum at that time. It will not cost any money. I suggest we put this question to every Canadian and see what the people think."

Charles R. Gay New President Of N.Y. Exchange

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

NEW YORK, April 8—With the nomination today of Charles R. Gay to succeed Richard Whitney as President of the New York Stock Exchange, that institution cut loose from old moorings and steamed off on its own "new deal."

Inasmuch as nomination in the past has been tantamount to election, it is assumed Gay will take over Whitney's duties May 14, the day after the election, unless friends of Whitney put him up on an opposition ticket. Whitney remained silent. An opposition ticket must be fyled by April 18. Whitney was nominated to a position on the board of governors.

For weeks the membership of the exchange has been split into two warring factions over whether the organization should have a "new front." Those favoring a new deal within the exchange said the organization's public relations had gone steadily from bad to worse. They wanted a completely new front to convince the outsiders the exchange had cast off its "private club" character.

Emigration Discussed In British House

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

LONDON, April 8—(C. P. Cable) —Emigration of Britons to Canada was briefly discussed in the House of Commons today when Malcolm MacDonald, under secretary for Dominions, was asked if the time had not come further to encourage this emigration.

"That is a matter primarily for the Canadian government," the minister said in answer to Brig. General J. J. Nation. "We are prepared to do our part as soon as conditions are favorable."

Brig. General Nation asked how many emigrants from the United Kingdom had entered Canada during the last 10 years. Mr. MacDonald said the answer was 353,855 persons.

The member pointed out that in the same period something like half a million foreigners and probably 200,000 from the United States had entered the Dominion.

Past President's Night At Gyro

Past Presidents' Night was the special feature of the regular weekly meeting of the Charlottetown Gyro Club held last evening at the Canadian National Hotel, with Mr. R. C. Chandler, a past president, in the chair. Other past residents present were Messrs. Frank B. Clark, W. D. Gillis, C. M. Williams, Stewart Jones and Carl R. Tibert.

After the business of the meeting had been disposed of each guest of honour was called upon for a short address. Mr. Clark spoke of the general principle involved in the potato marketing scheme for Eastern Canada. He explained that the marketing plan formulated by the P. E. I. Board was generally accepted, with, however, some changes, for the five Provinces. He asked that the plan be given a fair chance and stated that he believed it would work out satisfactorily for all concerned. Mr. Gillis spoke of the splendid work that is and has been performed by the Club and hoped that it would be continued. Mr. Williams explained the working of the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act and stated that it was a plan, enacted by the Federal Government, whereby a farmer who found himself in financial difficulties could go to the official receiver of the district, state his case, list his liabilities, and present his plan for settlement. A meeting of all the creditors would then be called and a conference held with the farmer. Proper machinery has been set up to meet every angle of discussion that may come up. Mr. Williams stated that the Farm Loan Act is an entirely distinct and separate arrangement from the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act and is not yet in operation in this Province, although it will be shortly. Messrs. Jones and Tibert gave short talks on some features of the Club's activities, and the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

MAP OF DOMINION IS DOTTED WITH STRANGE PLACE-NAMES

The curious names that have been attached to otherwise beautiful English villages are known to most people. Names such as Maggotts End, Egg Jump and Haghaby have received much unwanted publicity.

But England is not alone. Here in Canada there are many odd names to be found on the map.

One of the leaders in Hadashville, man Man with Knockholt, B. C., close behind. Utopia is usually thought of as a paradise, but Utopia, Ontario, while it has many fine features, is no heaven on earth.

Wynot is in Saskatchewan. And why not?

In Rosebeg or Mt. Pleasant we have names which will counteract the bad effects of Stubno or even Zwicky.

A big favorite among "town namers" is to have a digit to lead off with. For instance there is Two Rivers, Two Hills or Two Creeks. From there one can travel to Three Forks, Three Lakes, Four Roads, Five Fingers, Six Nations, Seven Oaks and so on up the list.

Why towns have been given such atrocious names is a mystery to most people Various reasons have been given which point to the name of the first settler or to some characteristic surrounding. But just try and explain this to your friends when you invite them to spend the week-end at Merigomish or Menramcook. It would be far nicer to invite them to Ha Ha Bay or Mt. Joy where they can get a little fun out of life, or live in Sadowa, Ont., is to just ask for trouble. The sinister creeps in when one comes across such names as Spy Hill. But Shoutdale and Inchkeith are not to be laughed it. It must be hard to tell where you live

Ingonish Centre is down in Cape Breton while Strange is in Ontario. We have all heard of Stonehenge, the famous ruins in England but not many know that we have a Stonehenge in Saskatchewan. The shining light of Saskatchewan is Star City. It can't help but be an up and coming centre with a name like that.

Did you know that the temperature drops below zero in Miami? It drops right down to zero mark and often below. We are talking of Miami, Man., of course. There is a little place up in the Yukon which does not live up to its bubbling name. It is Champagne. Several years ago, a dance the Charleston, was all the rage. It has since been proved that the "hop and struggle" did not originate in

Song Of P.E. Island

(According to an evening paper, Prince Edward Island is the only State (sic) where the ban on alcoholic liquors is still in force).

No Irish now or Highland
Invades Prince Edward Island,
No reveller staggers bedward
In the good isle of Prince Edward;
Wherefore no doubt that sea-girt spot
In all its times and seasons
Is Plenty's grove, Contentment's grot,
But would I live there, I would not;
And I will give my reasons.

Not that my thirst's assuaging
Demands strong drink the raging,
Not that I'm off my rocker
On the proverbial mocker.
Not that I crave the wine that is red
In bucketfuls, my brothers,
But a glass at eve and a glass at bed,
I hold (and so my spouse has said),
Improves me. Likewise others.

Great mischiefs and misuses
Spring from the grape its juices,
Malt Liquors with them carry
Old Nicholas and Old Harry.
So it is said; but I seem to find
That everyone, man or woman,
By nature hard or by nature kind,
When ever so slightly alcohol-lined
Is ever so much more human.

And I find as day progresses,
With snags and snubs and stresses
As labour mounts on labour,
Man comes to loathe his neighbor,
And by six in the evening brutes like me
Say and do things we shouldn't
For lack of the spirit of bonhomie—
A thing man cannot achieve on tea
(Or anyway, I couldn't).

No man abhors the bellow
Of his inebriate fellow.
Of those who quaff unduly,
More keenly than yours truly;
But a timely glass is a wonderful thing
So, till it desists from dryness
And the pubs re-operate, I whe sing
Will please be excused from visiting
The isle of His Royal Highness.
