Sweeping Victory Is Achieved By The British Nationalist Gov't. Yesterday

Steady Progress In Unemployment Projects Reported

Local Workmen Busily Employed On Park Breastwork And Bridge Approach.

Work is steadily progressing on the unemployment projects at Victoria Park and the Hillsborough Bridge. The necessary sand has arrived and the City intended yesterday to have started their asphalt plant to lay the black base on Lower Grafton and a surface on the concrete on the block of Richmond between Pownal and West streets. Although the asphalt work was held up by the continuous rain, the reconstruction of the breastwork at Victoria Park went forward.

There are forty men working on this project, with the prospect of ten more being taken on. About sixty yards of breastwork have been completed. It is a sturdy looking job, the heavy timbers forming an unbroken, slightly slanting wall, supported by cross timbers along which are bolted lengthy longitudinal logs, the whole being filled in with clay up to the top of the breastwork.

Care is being taken not to lay too much of the old breastwork open at one time as the tides are very high at the present time and there is always the danger of sudden storm.

Queried as to whether a wooden breastwork would be cheaper than the cement breastwork built a few years ago, the City Surveyor said that it would not be, but that the cement breastwork had not stood up well, while the wooden construction will last for forty years.

Work on the Government part of the Hillsborough approaches is also progressing favourably. Concrete has been laid about half way down the right side of the Charlottetown side of the approach, the city mixer being used for the purpose. The rest of this side is prepared for the concrete, while the road from the railway crossing to the Green bridge, where the City work stops, has been surveyed and laid off.

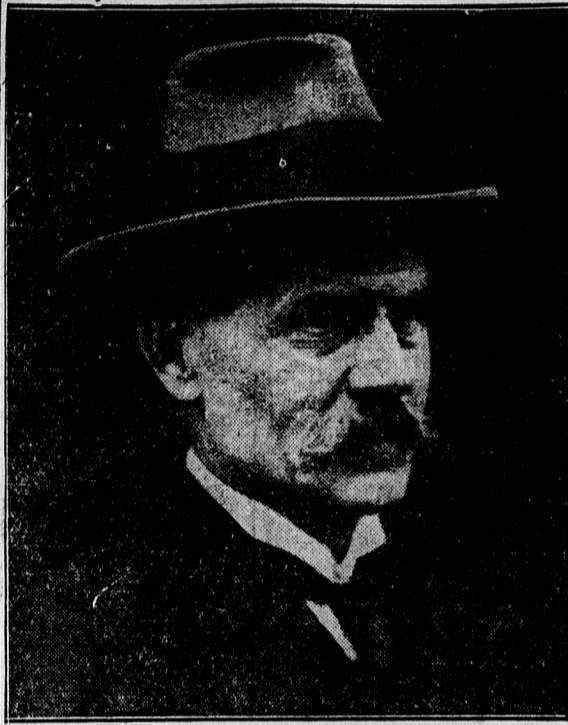

EVERY MEMBER OF CABINET RETURNED

Except Premier MacDonald, Who Will Know His Fate Today—Result In Seaham Not Known Early This Morning.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Every member of the National Cabinet except Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald himself has been re-elected to the House of Commons by a decisive majority; and Prime Minister MacDonald will know his fate tomorrow. The result in Seaham where Mr. MacDonald seeks re-election against Conservative and Communist opponents will not be known until about 3 p.m. tomorrow.

Of the 10 members of the National Cabinet, Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader and Lord President of the Council, had already been elected without opposition on nomination day. Lord Reading, Liberal, Foreign Secretary, and Lord Sankey the Labor Lord Chancellor are in the House of Lords. Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, Labor Chancellor of the Exchequer, did not seek re-election.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald.

Highlights Of The British Elections

(By Canadian Press Cable)
(Over Guardian Leased Wire)

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 27.—As Lancashire goes, so goes the country has been a political axiom for many years. The first Lancashire riding to report, Ashton-Under-Lyne, returned Col. J. Broadbent, Conservative. In a four-cornered contest, he secured 15,652 votes against 11,074 for J. W. Gordon, Labor; 2,698 for J. T. Middleton, Lloyd George Liberal and 424 for Charles Hobhouse, running as a member of Sir Oswald Mosley's new party.

Another branch of the MacDonald ministry, the National Liberals, gained the Yorkshire riding of Barnsley. R. J. Soper defeated the sitting Laborite, K. Potts by 21,202 to 20,622. In the 1929 election, Potts had a majority of 9,338.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Oct. 27.—There was great to do at Strabane, in County Tyrone, when 30 nuns marched from their convent to mark their ballots in the British general election today. It was the first time Irish nuns had voted. Major H. A. Proctor, new Conservative candidate in the English borough of Accrington, was elected by a majority of 12,622, over the former Labor member T. Snowden, a cousin of Rt. Hon. Arthur Snowden, retiring National-Labor chancellor of the Exchequer.

The vote today was: Major Proctor, 30,799; T. Snowden, 18,177. Miss Ellen C. Wilkinson, one of the best known women in the Labor movement, who represented the east Middlesbrough division in the last House of Commons, was defeated today.

The first Laborite to be returned was R. C. Charles Wallhead, who defeated Sellick Davies, a member of Sir Oswald Mosley's new party in the Welsh riding of Merthyr.

In the first 18 returns received, only one Opposition member has

Says France Left With Free Hand

London Daily Charges Editorially, That Hoover-Laval Conversations In Washington Have Increased The Task Facing British Gov't.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—(A.P.)—The Evening Star said editorially today that the Hoover-Laval conversations in Washington have increased the task facing the British Government. "The Government we are electing today is faced with tremendous problems," the newspaper said. "At the last moment a huge addition has been thrown upon its work—by the defection of President Hoover."

meeting with the French Premier, which might have set the world moving towards international common sense, seems to have made an arrangement about money and to have left France with a free hand to work her will in Europe. "That means a bigger job for Mr. Ramsay MacDonald and the men returned to power with him. It is the kind of work in which Mr. MacDonald will shine and in which he has done so well before."

Coalition Party Assured Of A Substantial Majority In The British Parliament

British Electors "Stand True" To Country's Interests By Indorsing Plea For Stable Government And Intra-Empire Trade Based On Tariff Preferences—Labor Leader And Colleagues Suffer Crushing Defeat.

(By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer)
(Canadian Press Cable Matter)
(OVER THE GUARDIAN LEASED WIRE)

LONDON, Oct. 28.—With at least eight ministers of the old Labor Government gone down to defeat, with the Labor Party's losses mounting to the hundred mark, the first night of the general election battle was a walkover for the National Government forces—dominantly the Conservatives.

As the returns from those seats which reported during the night ran on to their close the Labor leaders could find not a single ray of light in the general gloom. The defeat of their leader, Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, stood at the head of a long, evergrowing list of Labor losses. Worst of all from the Labor standpoint was the fact that the night's returns came from the big boroughs and the industrial north and midlands. The most optimistic Labor supporter could not hope for any Labor swing when the bulk of returns came pouring in from the country seats tomorrow.

HUGE MAJORITY

At four o'clock this morning the National Government had a majority of 238 seats. This was in line with the most sanguine of Nationalist expectations. At that hour National gains already amounted to 82 seats, and the Labor losses were in proportion.

LATEST STANDING

At 4 a. m. today the Canadian Press reported election of 288 members out of 615. The Government total was 262 and Opposition total 24, with two Independents.

The standing was as follows: Conservatives, 222; National-Labor, 4; National Liberal, 36; Labor Party, 23; Lloyd George Liberal, 1; Independents, 2.

GAINS AND LOSSES

With the election of 288 members out of 615, the summary of gains and losses in the general election was as follows:

- Conservative gains, 101;
- National Labor gains, 4;
- National Liberal gains, 13;
- Liberal losses, 2;
- Labor party losses, 111;
- Independent gains, 2;
- Independent losses, 7.

ANOTHER SEA TRAGEDY

(Canadian Press)

SYDNEY, N. S., Oct. 27.—The wreckage of a large motor-craft has been washed up off Port Morien, twenty miles east of Sydney, according to word received today by Vincent Mullins, local agent of the Marine Department. The name board had been broken off, leaving only the letters "RCE" by which it is hoped to check up any missing craft of its description.

Deck timbers included in the wreckage were about ten by twelve inches in size, indicating a craft of substantial tonnage. Thick planking was copper fastened and numerous brass fittings indicated the craft might originally have been a yacht.

COMMISSION TO SIT HERE ON NOV. 4TH

Board of Trade Members Will Submit Material Re Chignecto Canal Proposal.

Word has been received that the Chignecto Canal Commission now expect to reach Charlottetown on Saturday next and will be prepared to take evidence on the canal proposal on Monday, Nov. 2nd, instead of Nov. 4th, as previously announced.

Facts in connection with the potato and fisheries industries will be submitted to the Commission by members of a committee of the Board of Trade.

FIRE BUG IS AWARDED A LIFE SENTENCE

Revengeful Indian Given Just Deserts for Dastradly Crime of Last February.

(Canadian Press)
WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 27.—Penitentiary for life was the stern sentence passed on George Paynter, 20-year-old Indian, who pleaded guilty in police court today to setting fire in February, 1930, to the Cross Lake Convent and causing deaths of 13 children and a nun.

Revenge Was Motive

Revenge was his motive for setting fire to the convent, Paynter told the court. He had been punished for infraction of the convent rules while a pupil there, he said, and made two unsuccessful attempts to burn the building before he succeeded. Twelve little girl inmates and one boy were trapped in the blazing school and burned to death as well as a teacher.

NEWS TICKERS INSTALLED IN PALACE

King George Keenly Interested In British Elections.

(Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The King, sitting in the library of Buckingham Palace close to a room where news tickers had been installed, waited this evening as keenly as any other Briton for the results of the general election.

Outside, one of London's yellow fogs whirled through the streets, but it did not discourage the voters. The fog covered even some of the outlying territory, but at Seaham Harbor, in Durham where Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald is seeking re-election against William Coxon, regular Labor candidate and George Lumley, Communist, the sun shone all day long.

The count there will not be completed until tomorrow afternoon, but the results were expected tonight in 221 of the 615 seats in the House of Commons. Tomorrow night 321 results should be available and the scattered few remaining should be known by Thursday.

LOST HIS SEAT

(Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Great Britain's only prohibitionist member of Parliament, Edwin Scrymgeour, lost his seat today.

He and his Labor colleague, M. Marcus, in Dundee, Scotland, were turned down by their constituencies in the general election, their seats going to Miss Florence Horsburgh, Conservative, and to the Liberal candidate.

Scrymgeour ran ahead of all other candidates in Dundee in the last election.
