

IMPORTANT READING MATTER SELECTED FROM THIS WEEK'S NEWS FOR THE GUARDIAN'S SATURDAY SUBSCRIBERS

WEDNESDAY

Rev. T. H. Hunt, of King's College, Windsor, who has been spending the Christmas season at his home in St. Eleanor's, came to the city yesterday afternoon and left on the mail special last night on return to the College.

Rev. Geo. Orman was most completely surprised when a young lady member of the congregation placed in his hands an envelope which when opened at his home proved to contain quite a nice sum of money with the best wishes of the church and friends to himself and wife. The gift is acceptable in amount, but the feelings that prompted it are still more valued.

At a meeting of the New Glasgow Dairy Association, held in the hall on Dec. 22nd, the following resolution was unanimously adopted by the full board of directors: Whereas the Almighty in His wisdom has thought fit to call away one of our number in the person of Ephraim Gallant, we, the directors of the New Glasgow Dairying Company here assembled, greatly deplore our loss and we hereby unite to tender to the bereaved family our sincere sympathy. Signed James Arthur, President; Abraham Buote, Secretary.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. H. Welland, 59 South Main St., Ipswich, Mass., on Monday evening, December 26th, when her son, Clyde Leiby, and Miss Edna McPherson, daughter of Neil D. and Mrs. McPherson, 119 E. L. were united in marriage. Rev. F. Ward of the Baptist Church, Holywell, Mass., assisted by Rev. H. B. Smith, Ipswich. The bride looked charming in a princess gown of white with tulle and orange blossoms, and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Mary, while Harvey Mackay acted as best man. A beautiful floral arch occupied one corner of the room under which the young couple heard the words that pronounced them man and wife. After receiving the congratulations of those present a dainty wedding lunch was served to about sixty guests. The numerous gifts displayed in the gift room testified to the popularity of the young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Welland will reside in Ipswich.

Today the Big Poultry Show opens to the public in the hall over Morris & Smith's store on Queen St. Yesterday the hall presented a busy scene as the exhibitors were getting their poultry ready for the judges and taking out cards for their exhibits.

This year the exhibit is as good, if not better than those of former years, this being more particularly true in the high standard of the fowl exhibited. This change has come about mainly through the deep interest in poultry accorded by the P. I. P. A. Association whose existence of the past few years has been a constant reminder to exhibitors by no means counted for naught in the province. There are as many birds on exhibit as last year and in many classes there will be keen competition for the prizes awarded. The cups of course, are the most desired of these and wherever a cup is offered there is to be found plenty to whom it might be awarded.

The hall is attractively decorated and the exhibits are arranged in a convenient manner. Any association which accomplishes as much in its line as the P. I. P. A. is worthy of the encouragement and patronage of all.

Considering the unfavorable weather a very good audience assembled last night in the Kingsparken Hall to hear Mr. Jarvis' address on the poultry show, lecture on poultry-raising. There were not as many present as could be wished for, because the lecture was one of great value to all interested in the important and lucrative business of poultry raising.

His Honor Lieutenant Governor Rogers presided.

MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.

Glanford Station, Ont.—I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years and never found any medicine to compare with it. I had heart and falling of the uterus, and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully until I began taking your medicine. It has also helped other women to whom I have recommended it.—Mrs. HENRY CLARK, Glanford Station, Ontario.

Gardiner, Me.—I was a great sufferer from a female disease. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me in three months.—Mrs. S. A. WILLIAMS, R. F. D. No. 14, Box 30, Gardiner, Maine.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer with the old Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, irregularities, displacements, fibroids, tumors, that bearing down, pelvic, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result is worth millions to many suffering women.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. J. C. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

Aspleto Soap Powder sweetens the home. YOUR GROCER SELLS IT. Mr. Jarvis, on being introduced, first spoke of the selection of stock—and said he had much experience. He began when young, had his ups and downs. He had tried many varieties of fowls. Only from early poultry of whatever breed—had he found it possible to get winter eggs. After they get through laying—they will not have to be watched. Trapping is a good plan—it takes time—but time and attention is required to make it a success and get hens which will give from 150 to 200 eggs. He told of certain signs by which he knows when hens can be hatched. This is a strain which makes money for its owner. He spoke of splendid success he had with incubators many years ago at Baltimore, Ind., but all was nullified by the rape worm which was a fatal disease. On the whole, he said that a proper house was fitted up for setting, better than the way of hatching was as good as artificial in the brooding house, cleanliness should be the rule—coal oil should be used, and the lice exterminated. Coal oil will banish the lice from the nest boxes. The spider lice which infest the houses can be got all success. Coal oil is a cure. Then there is the tick house which infests the little chick a few days after they are hatched. He gave many hints also about artificial hatching. Artificially hatched chicks in winter was a mistake, as the chicks are not in the best of health. Let the fowls, in the day time—give them lots of fresh air, exercise, let them bustle for their food—a little green food, a cabbage hung up. The feeding of artificial heat in the mornings is not proper—they then stand huddled together—doing nothing. Mr. Jarvis gave many details of value to his hearers, and reverted more than once to the importance of selecting a good laying strain, of keeping the hen clean, of guarding against lice and ticks, of giving the plenty of exercise and proper feed, of successful factors in profitable poultry raising.

After his address many questions were asked of him all of which Mr. Jarvis answered fully. Premier Hassard spoke in a most flattering manner of the lecture and moved a vote of thanks. The vote was seconded by John Newson, and supported by A. B. Warburton, M. P., and Theodore Ross.

One of the best shown of the poultry buyers of Prince County is James C. McKendrick, Campbellton, Lot 4. Mr. McKendrick recently purchased $1750 worth of geese in three days and in collecting this quantity of fowls he only covered an area which could be enclosed in a five mile circuit. In this collection there were thirty geese, purchased from Sullivan, Campbellton, which averaged $1.60 in price.

In a letter received a few days ago from Rev. H. Staver, of Cape Wolf, who left about a month ago for Los Angeles, Cal., he tells a rather peculiar incident which turned out luckily for him. He was returning to his boarding house after securing a good position, and while crossing the street an auto passed by and struck an gentleman on the foot. Just as the auto struck him Lidstone caught hold of the man and threw him to one side in time to save his life. The old gentleman, after thanking him for his quick action, took a roll of bills out of his pocket and gave them to Lidstone, who after he got to his boarding house examined them and was surprised to find that the roll contained $398.

On the evening of Thursday, Dec. 22nd, while Rev. H. Staver, of Hallowood was visiting among his people in Coal Branch section of the congregation, he met with a pleasant surprise. A number of the ladies had been at work and had ready for presentation quite a snug purse of money. Although Mr. Staver was taken wholly by surprise, he made a fitting reply, and thanked the kind friends for their thoughtful gift. Ever since Mr. Staver has come to this congregation the various sections have from time to time in some such tangible way shown their appreciation of his worth. Each year the bonds of fellowship between pastor and people have grown stronger and stronger and by the giving of this gift the Coal Branch people have again given splendid expression to the way in which they appreciate Mr. Staver and his labors among them. Other congregations have again and again made tempting proposals, yet because of the many expressions of good will and the progress being made in the work, Mr. Staver has never felt justified in accepting any of them.—Ex.—Rev. Mr. Staver is a native of Wilmet.

Miss Ethel McGregor, city, is at her home in Morell.

Kimble Webster, Bangor, has sold to W. D. Compton his valuable Clydesdale colt, "Buster."

Yesterday the Poultry Show was opened in the hall over Morris & Smith's store.

The attendance throughout the day was slim, the travelling outside the city being in such poor condition that outside visitors were prevented from attending.

The showing of birds is excellent and compares in quality with any of the bigger shows in the other provinces.

Judging was commenced yesterday and some of the prize list will be ready today.

George Murphy, better known as Monkey Murphy, was arrested at the home of his wife, Hills River, about two miles from Alberton, on Tuesday night by Constables W.D. White and Bradford Gough. Several charges are likely to be brought against him, but a criminal charge is alleged to have been made on his first daughter, only thirteen years of age. The prisoner was taken to Summerside yesterday and given a hearing before Stipendiary Wright, who remanded him to jail until Monday next.

The services on Sunday, New Year's Day, at the Vernon River and Cherry Valley Methodist Churches were most inspiring, attendance good and the musical portion of the services very appropriate and well rendered. At the Vernon River church and his wife, Rev. George Orman, were the recipients of a very substantial and acceptable New Year's gift, tendered in the most unobtrusive manner by a young lady on behalf of the congregation and not until his name was mentioned in the hymn book did he know the recipient. The gift was a beautiful envelope placed in his hands. Vernon River Church was most tastefully and appropriately decorated and the evening service was a musical treat. Three anthems by the choir, "Sing O Heavens, Peace on Earth, the Glory to God in the highest," "The Misses Laura and Marguerite Vandierstine rendered a Christmas carol as a duet very sweetly. Miss Marguerite Furness of the Boston Conservatorium in addition to assisting the choir sang a solo with power and expression. The Rev. George Orman, presiding, giving also a recitation and two readings and at the close of service, by request, presented to Miss Marguerite Vandierstine the capable organist, a slight flourish contributed by members of the church and congregation. Miss Laura, her sister, held the position previously. The services rendered by the choir and other workers of the church are largely of the nature of fraternal offerings, but it is rightly felt that some pecuniary recognition of the services of a faithful organist is but their due.

The annual Christmas tree and entertainment at Rosebery has passed into history. Pleasant recollections of every event linger in the memory of every participant of the occasion. The united effort of Miss G. T. Lodge and Sunday School of the community make a combination that is hard to excel in the promotion of social gatherings, yet in the celebration of 1916, they eclipsed their best efforts of past years. The tree, decorated with tinsel and ornaments and laden with delicious refreshments and laden with delightful expressions of good will between friend and friend, very creditably displayed the artistic taste of those in charge. One cannot refrain from especially mentioning the ladies, for their exertions in the preparation of a most festive and enjoyable program, the most that would satisfy the most fastidious epicure. The tables fairly groaned under their weight of good things. When at six p. m., Harry Blake, as chairman, happily announced supper ready—the ladies became busily engaged for the next two hours in satisfying the wants of the dinner man, during which time some fifty people partook of the feast. After a select, appropriate program, interspersed with a few gramophone selections, Santa Claus introduced himself with the song "I'm a jolly, jolly, old boy." Proceeding to denude the heavily laden tree, he lavished his gifts to young and old, bringing no one present. After a liberal distribution of nuts and candy to the children, he made his departure, bidding one and all, "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year." The committee are deeply grateful to the ladies whose untiring efforts made the enjoyable affair such a grand success.—Com.

Mr. J. H. Richards, 1852 Second Ave., East, Vancouver, B.C., writes:—Allow me to write a few lines in praise of your Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Last fall I contracted a heavy cold which left me with a hacking cough, and every time I would get a little more cold this hacking cough would become a lung splitting one. It kept on getting worse and I kept on spending money buying different cough remedies until a friend asked me if I had ever tried Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I thought I was willing to try anything and I bought two bottles. Before half the first one was used my cough began to get much easier, and by the time I had used a bottle and a half my cough was gone. I am keeping the other half bottle in case it should come again but I am quite sure I have a positive cure. Let me recommend Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup to all who suffer from a cough of throat irritation of any kind."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25 cents. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WOULD VERY OFTEN FAINT AWAY.

Doctor Said That Sometime He Would Never Come Out of One.

Many people may be unaware of having anything wrong with their heart till some little excitement, overwork, or excitement in an overheated or overcrowded room, or in a public building makes them feel faint or dizzy.

If you neglect the warning the slight feeling of dizziness gives you, and fail to take treatment, there will be a gradual progression to something more serious. There is no reason you should wait till your case becomes desperate before you avail yourself of a perfect cure by using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mr. P. S. Chute, Wheatley, Ont. writes:—It is with gratitude I tell you of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was very weak and ran down, and had headache, nearly every day and would very often faint away.

"In fact, my doctor said that sometime I would never come out of one of them. After taking three boxes of your pills I am glad to say I am very well and in good number of years since I have had a fainting spell and scarcely have had a headache. Too much cannot be said in praise of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for in me they have effected a perfect cure."

Price, six per box, or 3 for $1.25. At all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

On Monday evening, Dec. 26th, a concert was given in the Hunter River Hall, under the auspices of the Protestant Sunday School. Although the hall was filled to overflowing, the very appreciative audience. Mr. McLeod was appointed chairman and the following lengthy and very well rendered program was carried out: Chorus—the choir, instrumental duet—Misses Mary and Gertrude McGeagan; recitation—Mary Perle; vocal duet—Misses Mary and Gertrude McGeagan; recitation—Margaret Stewart and Alice Douglas; recitation—Howard Bagnall; exercise—four girls; recitation—Geo. Brown; vocal duet—Edna Nicholson and Jamie McEae; recitation—Isa Bagnall; playette—"A changed household"—recitation—Perry McEae; vocal exercise—Margaret Stewart and Alice Douglas; recitation—Uldine Bagnall; solo and chorus—six girls; recitation—Edna Nicholson; solo—Lulu Shillpant; playette—"Bridget's Lullaby"; recitation—Lizzie Whitlock; recitation—Luzie Shillpant; vocal solo—Alice Douglas; recitation—Jamie McEae; solo—Olive Douglas; chorus—the choir. At the close of the concert the bags of contributions were distributed to the children. The Misses Douglas presided and organ very acceptably and a great deal of praise is due. Miss Douglas for her painstaking efforts in preparing the children to take their different parts so well.

On New Year's eve, a large number of the residents of Kingston and vicinity gathered at the spacious home of Daniel T. Fraser to show that they appreciated his efforts in promoting the interests of the public in general, especially in connection with the telephone line recently built.

After about an hour's social chat, Reuben Barrett invited the guests together, stating that they might turn the gathering into a meeting. Bertram Younker moved George Crews, J.P., to the chair. After a few opening remarks by the chairman regarding the nature of the gathering, he called upon Reuben Barrett who read the following address:

Kingston, Dec. 31—16 Dear Sir— At this joyous season of the year, I am undersigned, on behalf of your well-wishers in Kingston, take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation of your untiring efforts in procuring for us the means by which we have conversational communication with the whole Province. The want of such a service has been for several years, and from the time we proposed to build this telephone line, you were foremost in the matter, and during its construction, spent your valuable time and spent no efforts to bring it to completion. We ask you to accept this chair, not for its material value, but for the part in which it is given, and hope you may live long to enjoy it. In presenting to you, this token, we wish you and your family a happy and prosperous New Year. Daniel Howard, Thomas Beer, Bertram Younker, William Green, George Crews, Reuben Barrett.

Benj. Ward and William Green then came forward and, after seating Mr. Fraser in a special rattan rocking chair, proceeded to take off his boots and encase his feet in a beautiful pair of slippers.

Mr. Fraser who was completely taken by surprise, made a fitting reply, thanking his friends, not altogether lightly, but for the spirit in which it was given, showing his heart and his existing between himself and his neighbors. Short addresses were then given by the other gentlemen present, after which the company repaired to the dining-room, where all did justice to the inner man. Music and singing were then indulged in till a late hour. Miss Melissa Barrett presiding at the organ, and after singing "Auld Lang Syne" and wishing all a Happy New Year, the company wended their way homeward.

The annual meeting of the Wood Islands congregation was held on Monday, January 2nd, at eleven o'clock a.m. Rev. D. Mackenzie, the pastor, occupied the chair. The secretary, William M. Crawford, read the minutes of the last annual meeting, which was sustained. Daniel McEae, treasurer, gave in his report, which was in clear, and showed the congregation was in good con-during the past year have been fully met and the congregation begins the new year clear of debt. The Ladies' Aid and Christian Endeavor have done excellent work. Grateful mention was made of the bequest of the late Mrs. McLean, who died during the year. John Benton was appointed care-taker for the ensuing year in place of John Young. The meeting was large and representative, and it was felt by those present that it was one of the best annual meetings ever held in Wood Islands Church.

R. K. Jost of Boston, spent Sunday in the city at the residence of W. B. Knight, on his return from Charlottetown, where he accompanied the remains of his mother, who died at his home in Boston on the 26th inst. Mrs. Jost was the widow of the late Jeremiah Jost, who some years ago was pastor of the Methodist Church here and was a daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Knight and a sister of W. B. Knight of this city and Mrs. W. H. Harrison of Sackville.—Ex.

J. J. Gay & Son, city, have received an order from—Advt. Ingles, St. George's, Bermuda, B. W. I., for five barrels of their famous celery. Mr. Ingles is a constant reader of The Guardian and through the medium of Gay & Son's advertisement has become a customer of that firm. Gay's advertising is always of an attractive kind and they have the goods to stand back of it. The columns of The Guardian as an advertising medium are certainly far reaching, extending even to the tropical climes.

To the Christmas number of The Elymate, a paper for young people, printed in Toronto, two well known ladies of Prince Edward Island are contributors. Marion Wathen supplies the Christmas story, entitled "A Christmas Surprise," and Mrs. M. Irving Macrae, a story about the Hallow's Christmas. Both stories are very prettily told. Miss Wathen has been for some years a frequent contributor to literary publications. Mrs. Macrae has more recently entered the field of literature, and her story gives every promise of future success in that line.

Victor Beaton, East Point, and Mrs. Taylor, of Clinton, (once Miss Claude Smith of Hampton) took their wedding on an opportunity to show them with rich gifts of appreciation. It might have been mentioned also that the groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful Sable and a lovely gold bracelet with locket set with pearls.

The death occurred in this city yesterday morning of Miss Alice Isabel Carter, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carter, at the early age of twenty-two years. Miss Carter had been ill for some time past and during her illness had received every attention with a view to aiding her to recover. She was greatly beloved and her death a serious loss to a loving young woman who ranked in a higher sphere. The sympathy of all will be extended to the grieving parents.

The meeting of the Bible Society, held in St. James' Church last evening, was largely attended. W. S. Louson, president of the Society, presided. Interesting addresses were given by His Honor, Lieutenant Governor and Rev. J. F. Floyd, J. D. Seaman, Secretary, reported, hopefully concerning the work of the year. A. W. Stearns gave a financial statement, which showed that the contributions given by the P. I. P. A. Auxiliary to the Canadian Bible Society was $1025, being the largest made by the Auxiliary in any one year. The attendance at all the meetings during the week of prayer has been very large.

It is with feelings of sorrow but not without hope that The Guardian chronicles the death of Lydia E. Nicholson, which occurred at the home of her uncle Arch. Ferguson, Summerfield, Lot 67, on Dec. 31st, 1916. Deceased was only twenty-one years of age highly esteemed and beloved by all who knew her. By her bright and cheerful disposition she shone for herself many true friends who cherish her memory but mourn her early death. Her whole deportment was exemplary and marked by gentleness and affability. Through all the hours of her illness she was never heard to murmur or complain. She was nursed by loving hands and attended by the best physicians. But all kindness shown and the best medical skill failed to arrest her sickness. But all rejoice to know that she gave evidence of her trust in the merits and spiritual health of the better Physician, who "healed all our diseases" and doeth "all things for our good." Her death is a sad blow to her mother, who three months previous received the sad word that her only son had been killed in a railway wreck, and now that her only daughter had been called away is indeed a severe trial. The funeral, Monday, Jan. 8th, was conducted by her pastor, Rev. John Murray. The pall-bearers were—Robert Howard, Arnold Bouca, Peter Sinclair, John Mackay, John McDonald, and Leonard McDonald.

—The death occurred at the home of her son, Thos. E. Ramsay, Summerside, of Ann Maxwell, widow of the late James Ramsay, North St. Eleanor's. Deceased, who was in her 92nd year, was in comparatively good health up to Saturday last, when she met with a painful accident and gradually grew worse till the end came at five o'clock last evening. She leaves to mourn, two sons, Thos. E., Summerside, and E. M., Fortunes Cove, and four daughters—Mrs. John McMillan, North St. Eleanor's; Miss Shillpant, of Utah; Mrs. Geo. McGowan, St. Eleanor's; and Mrs. Moore, of Amisk, Alta. The funeral takes place tomorrow (Saturday), at 3 p. m., from the residence of Thos. E. Ramsay to Lot 16 Presbyterian cemetery.

The police are still working on the theft from the St. Dunstan's Cathedral on Tuesday night. No later developments are reported. The thieves stole a collection box containing between $10 and $12. The volume stand was also taken but was found outside the church. The box and money are still missing. The Cathedral is usually left open in the day, but shut at night. Entrance was effected by breaking a pane of glass at the north side. Through the opening thus made a hand could be inserted and the window unfastened. The volume stand and box were at the altar rail. The robbers took their departure through one of the front doors which he unbolted from the inside.

BUY AT HOME When You Can Get a Better Article by Doing So. Many people thoughtlessly buy biscuits not manufactured at home when they could get very much better satisfaction if they procured the products from a local concern. As a rule people do not stop to consider the advantage of patronizing a local industry, which is helping to build up these Maritime Provinces. Sometimes it happens that the local manufacturer cannot offer as good an article as the outside concern, but when it comes to manufacturing biscuits you can get perfect satisfaction by using the White Lily Brand, manufactured by J. A. Marve, Limited, of Moncton. Some of their specialties are White Lily Cream Soda, Social Tea, Arrowroot and Graham Waters, etc., sold in air-tight packages. Try some of these lines and see how you like them.
