IN MEMORIAM

LULU JEAN MONTGOMERY

A wave of genuine sympathy and sorrow passed over the whole community when it became known that in the early hours of Sunday morning, July 11th the gentle spirit of little Lulu Jean Montgomery, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Heath Montgomery of Park Corner had taken its flight to the regions of the Great Beyond following an operation for appendicitis in the Prince County hospital. Lulu Jean was an exceptionally bright and lovable child and although but one year and ten months old she displayed evidences of intelligence that would do justice to a child of more mature years. It is hard to associate death with one so young—the light and joy of the home, but in God's great plan there are no mistakes. He has seen fit to call the loved one He had entrusted to their care. Suffer little children and forbid them not to come unto me for of such is the kingdom of Heaven.

The funeral which was a large one was held on Monday 12th, the service being conducted by Rev. J. C. Harrison of New London, who spoke words of comfort to the sorrowing relatives and friends. "The hymns sung were "God Sees the Little Sparrows Fall," "Jesus Loves Me" and Softly and Tenderly. Mr. George Bowness of Summerside sang with feeling "Over The River". The pall bearers were four neighbor boys— James Campbell, Chester McKay, Harold Bernard and Geo. Howatt.

The remains were conveyed to the Geddie Memorial Cemetery in the beautiful Motor Hearse of Mr. P. L. Bowness of Summerside and tenderly laid to rest in the bosom of mother earth to await the resurrection morn. The sincere sympathy of a wide circle of relatives and friends go out to the bereaved parents in their deep sorrow.

Born on earth to blossom in Heaven
Beckoning hands of a little one, see!
Baby voice calling O loved ones for thee;
Rosy cheek'd darling the light of the home,
Taken so early ,is beckoning "come."

MRS ISAAC ESSERY.

As Tennyson said at the death of his poet friend Hallam:

"I some times feel it half a sin to put in words the grief I feel, for the words like nature half reveal and half conceal the soul within."

So we repeat as we reflect on the death of the late Mary Jane Essery widow of the Late Isaac Essery of Union Road, which took place in Brookline, Mass., July the 3rd.

The deceased left this Province six years ago and resided part of each year with a son in Montreal, and the remainder of the year with her daughter in Brookline, but failing health made it advisable for her to live permanently in Boston, and in November of last year she returned to the latter place where her friends hoped she might regain her health, but she gradually grew weaker until the end came when she peacefully fell asleep in Jesus.

The late Mrs. Essery was a lifelong member of the Methodist Church, a lady of sterling character and high Christian principle, and her passing to the Great Beyond will be a distinct loss to her many friends in her native Province as well as in Brookline and Montreal, where her delightful personality won for her a host of friends who will ever cherish her memory. Her quiet submission to her affliction so impressed her friends that one who visited her a few days before her death said it was a benediction to be in her presence.

The remains, accompanied by her son, Albert G. Essery of Montreal and her daughter Louise of Brookline, were brought to Charlottetown for burial, The Funeral service was held at the home of her brother, Mr. Isaac Holman, 149 Euston St., City, and was conducted by the Rev. W. M. Ryan of Trinity United Church, assisted by the Rev. F. W. Littlejohns of Pownal, who had been a former pastor of the deceased, and who paid a fitting tribute to her life of sacrifice and devotion to her family by saying that he only wished all mothers could be like her.

Professor Fletcher, Organist of Trinity United Church, presided at the piano, and the old familiar hymns of "Jesus Lover of My Soul", "Rock of Ages" and "Abide With Me' were most touchingly rendered.

The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful from her many friends in both Boston and Charlottetown, and included a wreath from the Women's Missionary Society of Union Road, of which the deceased was a life member.

The Pallbearers were Messrs. George Abbott, Jonothan West, R. E. Mutch, Wm. Teen, B. C. Hardy, and C. B Chappelle, and interment was made in people's Cemetery, where the remains were placed beside those of her husband and son who predeceased her twelve and six years ago respectively.

Besides one daughter, Louise of Boston, and three sons, William of Calgary, Albert G. of Montreal, and Frederick of New York, and two grandchildren, the following sisters and brothers, Mrs. E. H. Peardon, Regina, Saskatchewan, Mrs. Everett O. Fisk, Broofiline, Mass., Charlotte T. and Sara C. Holman, Missionaries of Agra, India, Mr. John Holman of Strasbourg, and Mr. Isaac Holman of Charlottetown, P. E. I., are left to mourn.

Altho we, her mourners, sadly lament her death, we can truthfully say, "'Tis better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all", for we realize that "To live in hearts we leave behind, is not to die."

MRS. MARGARET McLAINE.

The death of Mrs. McLaine, of Bay View House, St. Peter's, will be heard with deep regret by a large circle of friends on the Island and throughout the Maritime Provinces. Her health had been failing for some time and for the last few weeks it was evident that the end was approaching, and on Saturday evening the 17th inst, she peacefully passed away. A lady of attractive personality, and winsome nature, she endeared herself to her acquaintances, who mourn the loss of a true friend. She sympathized with every good cause, and was ready to give a helping hand in everything of need. In the United Church and Missionary Society, of which she was a valuable member, she will be greatly missed, and in the community, where she was esteemed for her amiable qualities, she will be mourned by many friends—Catholics and Protestants alike. She is survived by one son, Roy, of the Bay View House, and three sisters—two in the West and Mrs. (Rev.) J. M. McLeod, St. Peter's, and five brothers. Her husband and two daughters predeceased her some years ago.

The funeral was under the direction of two funeral directors, Messrs. A. J. McLeod, Stanley Bridge, and D. L. McKinnon, Montague. Mr. McKinnon's outfit was greatly admired. The United Church at St. Peter's, where the service was conducted by the Rev. J. M. McLeod was filled with sympathetic friends, who came to pay their tribute of respect to one who was greatly beloved.

The closing hymn sung by the choir, was specially appropriate, and impressively rendered: "Sleep on Beloved, Sleep and Take the Rest . . . only Goodnight, Beloved, not Farewell." The remains were laid to rest in Midgell cemtery covered with flowers given by sympathetic friends, who knew she was a "lover of flowers" and of good things.

MALPEQUE

The following is a clipping from a Winnipeg ppaer which gives an account of an unusually pretty marriage ceremony, and is of special interest to many throughout this province, and especially in Malpeque, as the grandparents of the beautiful young bride, namely Rev. James and Mrs. Sinclair, were natives of this place, and the groom's father, the late Dr. Anderson Rogers, is well remembered in the Presbyterian church of the Maritime Provinces. A host of relatives and friends will join in felicitations and will follow the young couple in their work in Yarmouth, N.S.—

"An event of great interest to many Winnipeggers took place Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in Westminster Church, when Margaret Vance, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sinclair, Oxford St., became the bride of Rev. Gerald Fleming Rogers, B.A., assistant minister of Westminster church, and son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Anderson Rogers, of New Glasgow, N.S. Rev. H. J. Keith and Rev. David Fleming officiated.

"The church was effectively decorated with palms and ferns combined with standard baskets, of white peonies. Mr. Harold Sadler presided at the organ, and as the bridal procession moved slowly down the aisle the wedding hymn, "O, Perfect Love," was sung by Miss Phyllis McPherson. First came the ushers, the Messrs. Archie Sinclair, Jack Ilsey, Robert Conkin and Frank McDonald, followed by the flower-girl, little Miss Anna Ruth Finlayson, next the bridesmaid, Miss Maye Sinclair, and lastly, with her father, who gave her in marriage, the radiant bride, wearing a long-sleeved gown of white georgette, the low waistline finished with flowers of white taffeta, the skirt showing a scalloped hemline. She wore an embroidered tulle veil, arranged in coronet style, caught to the hair at the sides and back with clusters of orange blossom, and carried a cascade bouquet of orchids, valley lilies and sunburst roses. The bridesmaid wore a French model gown of shrimp georgette embroidered with irridescent beads, a shrimp-colored picture hat of silk mohair and georgette, and carried an arm bouquet of Pernet roses. The petite flower-girl wore a blue silk net frock studded with pink roses and forget-me-nots, and carried a basket of sweet peas and marguerites. Mr. John Macauley attended as broomsman. During the signing of the register Miss McPherson sang 'Calm as the Night.'

"After the ceremony an informal reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, the spacious rooms being decorated with palms and ferns and summer bloom. Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair, with Rev. David Fleming and Mrs. Fleming, received with the bride and bridegroom. The bride's table, centred with the wedding cake, was adorned with vases of ophella roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

"Later Rev. and Mrs. Rogers left for the Pacific coast, and upon their return will reside in Winnipeg until September, when they will take up their residence in Yarmouth, N.S.

"The bride travelled in a smart travelling costume consisting of a platinum grey flat crepe dress, embroidered in silver, and cape coat of matching shade, with moleskin collar, with which she wore a small blue Napoleon-shaped silk hat.

"Mrs. Sinclair, mother of the bride, wore a French model gown of rust georgette and lace, with hat of matching tones, and with a corsage of ophelia roses.

"Miss Alice Sinclair was gowned in sea-green printed georgette, and beige hat.

"Miss Kathleen Sinclair wore a frock of buttercup taffeta trimmed with forget-me-not, and a white poke bonnet.
