

A FAMILY REMEDY.

Pe-ru-na in Use in Thousands of Homes.

Congressman H. Henry Powers, of Vermont, writes from Morrisville, Vt.:

HON. H. H. POWERS.

"Peruna I have used in my family with success. I can recommend it as an excellent family remedy and very good for coughs, colds and catarrhal affections."—H. Henry Powers.

John L. Burnett, Member of Congress, Seventh Alabama District, writes: "I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of your Peruna. At the solicitation of a friend my wife used it, and it improved her condition generally. It is a remarkable remedy. I can cheerfully recommend Peruna as a good, substantial tonic, and a very good catarrh remedy."

Peruna Cures Catarrh. Half the ills of life are due to catarrh and catarrhal derangements. Peruna is the only internal, systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna is not a guess nor an experiment—it is an absolute, scientific certainty. Peruna has no substitutes—no rivals. Insist upon having Peruna. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address: Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

An Egyptian Story.

Here is a strange story from Egypt: Taha Ali and Ahmed Hamad carried on the business of butchers in partnership. Taha Ali informed Ahmed Hamad that a sum of money belonging to the partnership which had been left with him had been stolen. Ahmed Hamad did not believe the story and accused Taha Ali of theft. They decided to refer the matter to a fakir who had settled in the neighborhood, to be tried by a system of ordeal. The two men accordingly went to the fakir. He copied some passages from certain religious books in his possession upon a native writing board with European copying ink, washed off the writing with water into a bowl, dipped some bread and water into the water and divided the bread and water between the two disputants, telling them that the one who was in the wrong would become very ill. After eating the bread and drinking the water the two disputants went away. Taha Ali was shortly afterward seized with violent pains and, returning to the fakir, confessed that he had stolen the money. His condition became rapidly worse, and he died a few hours later. The medical examination disclosed no sign of poisoning.

Proving a Statement.

A certain minister, who is an emphatic preacher, is at times at a loss to give his utterances proper weight. For instance, he'll say: "This statement is as true as the night which will follow day," or "as true as that the trees will bud in spring." Sometimes it happens that the doctor has more statements than he has illustrations to give them weight. On one such occasion he remarked, "This is as true as the"—Here the doctor halted. He paused a few moments, and then his face illumined. "As true as is the statement that some member is yet on his or her way to church." A few moments later a lady entered the edifice and swept grandly up the aisle. The doctor's face assumed an "I told you so" appearance. The congregation began to smile, then to laugh. Sympathy for the embarrassed lady, however, soon subdued the apparently uncontrollable mirth.

How Tennyson Decided a Matter. Here is Tennyson's own account to Mr. James Knowles, editor of the Nineteenth Century, of how he was offered and accepted the laureateship: "The night before I was asked to take the laureateship, which was offered to me through Prince Albert's liking for my 'In Memoriam,' I dreamed he came to me and kissed me on the cheek. I said in my dream, 'Very kind, but very German.' In the morning the letter about the laureateship was brought to me and laid upon my bed. I thought about it through the day, but could not make up my mind whether to take it or refuse it, and at the last I wrote two letters, one accepting and one declining, and threw them on the table and settled to decide which I would send after my dinner and bottle of port."

Mouth Filling Microscopy. "Microscopist" is usually pronounced mi-cro-sco-pist, is a horror of articulation, besides concealing the plain meaning and derivation of the word. But if we first say "micro" and then "scopist," taking care to place the stress on the first syllable, we get easiness, pleasantness and common sense. There are hosts of others, but none quite so terrible as "microscopist" as it is commonly pronounced or tried to be pronounced, for it reigns in a sort of pinched, rheumatic, splendid isolation, "high on a throne of royal state, by merit raised to that bad eminence."—Verax in London News.

CLOTHING DEPARTMENT

and some competitors feel so sore over it that they try to create the impression that they only have the cash wherewith to buy. OTHERS want to gobble up every "Brand" on the Globe, so they can sell to no one else.

The number of "Brands" that you handle tra-la, Have nothing to do with the case, 'Tis in the elegant finish, the style and the worth, That "Perfection" comes into the race.

WE DON'T HAVE TO get our Coats from one concern, our Pants from another, our Boy's Suits from another and so on. Instead we have secured the services of One Big First-Class Manufacturer, H. Kellart & Sons, Montreal, who make the famous "PERFECTION BRAND" Suits and Overcoats for Men, Youths, and Boys. They sell only to us. Buying so largely from one firm is a decided advantage, as we can purchase at the very lowest possible prices, and consequently can sell at the lowest.

WE HAVE ON HAND and have also ordered for our Spring trade the finest lot of READY-MADE CLOTHING ever brought to this City. They are "PERFECTION BRAND"

WE HAVE THE CASH and if we didn't our credit is good. WE HAVE THE GOODS and we CAN and we WILL sell them if good honest material at lowest prices counts for anything.

Of course its hardly necessary to tell you that if you're dissatisfied with your purchase, you can have your money back cheerfully. WE KNOW you'll be so completely satisfied that you'll be sending all your uncles and cousins to
