CHRISTMAS BELLS.

I hear the Bells on Christmas Day
Their old familiar carols play,
And wild and sweet
The words repeat
Of peace on earth, good will to men!

And thought how, as the day had come
The bellies of all Christendom
Had rolled along
The unbroken song
Of peace on earth, good will to men.

Till ringing, singing on its way,
The world revolved from night to day,
A voice, a chime,
A chant sublime,
Of peace on earth, good will to men!

But in despair I bowed my head—
"There is no place on earth," I said;
"For hate is strong,
And mocks the song
Of peace on earth, good will to men."
Then pealed the bells more loud and deep:
"God is not dead, nor doth he sleep!
The wrong shall fall,
The right prevail
With peace on earth, good will to men."
—Henry W. Longfellow.

"GENE" BROWN'S BOSTON NEWS

aiting for another sensation in connection with the famous murder trial. Since the Jury said "Not Guilty" Hattie had been wined and dined in the most lavish manner by Melvin Johnson, her counsel. The Johnsons live at Riverbank Court on the Charles River, one of the most fashionable apartment houses in Back Bay. It was in this beautiful place that Hattie made her debut into society with Mrs. Johnson as chaperon. Many of Boston's 400 mingled in the company of the little West Arichat girl. It must have seemed to her more like a fairy tale, after the style of Cinderella. Hattie was given many valuable presents accompanied by quite a sum of money. She left Monday for her home in Cape Breton.

While I was hurrying down School street yesterday noon I bumped in to Arthur Carver, of the law firm of Carver and Carver. Both members of the firm come from Pownal and both sons of Richard Carver of the same place. They are getting their share of the Boston legal business and are doing very well.

Everyone remembers "Spit" Clark of Art Redding's Drug Store fame, he is located in Lynn. He has learned to be a very fine mechanic in the art of tool-making. I met him on Tremont Street one day about a month ago hurrying to the dentist's to have a molar extracted. Outside of a swelled jaw he was looking very well.

Now that Boston has been heralded from Coast to coast, as being the cleanest city in the United States through the enforcement of the local city ordinance concerning expectorating, being illegal. Police Commissioner Stephen O'Mera has again jumped into the limelight. Here is the law in brief, "Anyone caught sitting on the sidewalk, no matter who, is subject to a fine of five dollars, or thirty days in jail, or both." Mr. O'Mera has many plain-clothes-men patrolling the congested parts of the city looking for offenders, and many are arrested in the course of a day's work. I thereby warn my P. E. people, especially the male portion, if by chance they intend visiting this immaculate town, to be careful where they expectorate, because if they are caught in the act it will cost them "five," besides putting them in a very embarrassing position, as they would need a cash bail of twenty-five dollars to keep them out of jail till the next morning. Of course I don't mean that anyone from P. E. I. would be short financially. (Perish the thought), but you never can tell, for no matter how dark or how stormy the night may be, you can always break a pane of glass with a hammer.

I forgot in my warning notes to say that our ever alert police commissioner, Stephen O'Mera once served time at St. Dunstan's College at Charlottetown many years ago.

Home Washing Means Many Colds

Most women suffering from colds in winter lay the cause directly to washing—the steaming heat of clothes and boiling water and frigid cold of the outside air renders the system open to pulmonary afflictions—the sudden change in temperature is almost torture to delicate people. Try our work for this winter, let us show you how really economical it is to have The Star's experts on your work. We'll call for and deliver parcels, do the work right and promptly, and only charge moderate prices. Phone 151.
