WHAT FLOWERS ARE FOR.

Ever been sick? Ever been sick away from home? Ever been sick in a hospital—lonely, in pain, with a queer heartache in addition to the hurt in your flesh?

Then do you know how the breath of a rose, stealing up to your face, or the scent of lilacs, or syringas, or lilies of the valley, or carnations, or a big, hearty peony, has seemed suddenly to make the pain a little easier, and to ease a little the tightness around your heart?

You are well now, but thousands of other folks are ill. Think of the long rows of hospital cots where girls and boys, women and men are lying in pain, and away from friends and home. Or some who are ill at home have no real comfort, no one who can or will manage to find flowers for the old vase or the broken cup on the mantel.

There is no service more simple, more sweet, more practical than this service of sending flowers to the poor, the sick, the lonely, the sad. Many of you will find, by sending for information to the nearest big city, that arrangements have already been made for receiving and distributing the flowers you send. Express Companies will carry flowers free. There is nothing to do but pick and pack them.

But be sure to send them fresh. Wilted flowers are worse than none at all. Flowers left over from church or home decorations are of little or no value. Fresh from garden or field to the cool box, packed in wet newspapers and sent immediately by express—that is the only way.

The earlier flowers are gone by this time, some of the most fragrant, like lilacs and syringas. But daisies and buttercups are crowding the fields, and roses keep coming along all summer. While most wild flowers are not so fragrant as those from the garden, they bring a breath of the fields and woods which may cheer more than the rarer blossoms.

Maybe some one on the next street, in your village, is lonely this afternoon, or sick, or sad, and would like a cluster of the roses out there in your side yard.

SOME FACTS.

In 1891 The Morning Daily Guardian was established, and is still issued each morning with the latest local and foreign news, including the Canadian Press and a special telegraphic service.

In 1887 The Weekly Guardian was established, but its issue proved too infrequent for readers as the Province advanced, and from time to time was changed, first to a Semi-Weekly, then to a Tri-Weekly, and later to a Rural Daily, so that for years The Guardian has issued two dailies, as at present—one in the morning as a Morning Daily, and the other in the afternoon as a Rural Daily. As the name of the latter was never sufficiently clear as to what it implied and always required much explanation, it was in May last changed to Evening Daily, and continued as an afternoon paper.

For some time past the management has felt that Prince Edward Island is justly entitled to a twenty-four hour telegraphic news service, as enjoyed by the other Provinces of Canada, rather than the night wire service only, as up to June 30th last supplied by The Morning Guardian and afterwards printed in The Evening Guardian. Accordingly a representative visited St. John and arranged for a Canadian Press day service, which is appreciated by the general public.

It is thus to The Guardian that the people of Prince Edward Island are indebted, first for a night Canadian Press service and now for the day Canadian Press and Special Telegraphic news published since July first and thus enjoyed by its readers.

The friends of both The Morning Guardian and The Evening Guardian are quite expressive of their appreciation that their favorite paper contains the latest day and night, as well as night and day Canadian Press and Special Telegraphic and local news, and thus a complete twenty-four hour service. Advertisers are also more than pleased with the rapid increase of fully two thousand readers already in The Evening Guardian's circulation, as well as several hundred for The Morning Daily.

The Guardian ever realizes its obligation to furnish its readers with the latest and best news service obtainable, and to give to its advertisers the largest and most valuable circulation possible.

The Guardian is now but issuing two dailies, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon, as it has been doing for years, but since July first its afternoon paper contains its own day's news in addition to that of The Morning Guardian, or, in other words, the news of the twenty-four hours immediately before it goes to press. The Morning Guardian occupies a similar position.

ADVERTISERS.

During the hot weather the Evening Guardian is printed each Monday at one p. m., instead of at four, to enable the printers to enjoy a holiday.

CRUELTY TO LOBSTERS STARTS STRANGE CASE

(Canadian Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug 2—John Harcussau, the chef in well known local cafe, was up before the police magistrate today charged with cruelty to a lobster, but the Philadelphia lawyers could not decide whether a lobster can be cruelly treated.

The judge held the charges over until Aug. 8th, when experts will be called to enlighten the magistrate on that point.

The charge was made by the Agent of the Women's Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, because the chef placed a wooden peg or spike in the first joint back of a lobster on exhibition in the window of the cafe. According to the lawyer engaged by the chef to defend him, "Spiking," of lobsters is a common practice to keep them from snapping.

When the case was called today the magistrate at first decided that the lobster was not an animal and there was no law against cruelty to lobsters.

There was warm argument and the result was that the magistrate will ask experts to help him when case is again taken up.

POLITICAL ADVISER IS APPOINTED.

(Canadian Press.)

PEKIN, Aug. 2—George Ernest Morrison, has been appointed the Political adviser of President of Chinese Republic for five years. Dr. Morrison is the correspondent in Peking of the London Times.

TO ROYALLY CELEBRATE THE TREATY OF GHENT.

(Canadian Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—Senator Burton's Bill for the appointment of seven members to consider plans for the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the treaty with Great Britain made at Ghent in 1814 was favorably reported on to the Senate today by Senator Root from Committee on Foreign Relations.

Accompanying it was a minority report presented by Senator Hitchcock on behalf of himself.

Senators Bacon and Shivley, declared that it is of no more importance to have an official or congregational celebration of one hundred years of peace with Great Britain than it is to celebrate a hundred years of Peace with Germany, Russia or France.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rmbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free

CUT THIS OUT AND PASTE IT UP

It is surprising the large number of people in Charlottetown who, when want to inquire about their Morning Daily Guardian or subscription, ask Central for the News phone No. 133, or for the Advertising Phone No. 132.3, instead of 142; or when they want to inquire about advertising ask Central for the Subscription Phone No 132-2, or for the News Phone No. 133, instead of 132-3; or when they want the News or Editorial department ask Central for the Subscription Phone No. 132-2, or the Advertising Phone No. 132-3, instead of 133, although all those departments and their respective phone numbers are plainly given in the telephone book. Some people, instead of looking at the book, even phone one of the above departments to find out what number to ask for to get another department. All this is a great waste of time on the part of the person phoning, the operator at the Central, and the clerk in the department wrongly phoned. The news staff, on an upper floor, cannot give the necessary information about either advertising or subscriptions, nor the advertising staff about subscriptions or news, nor the subscription staff about advertising or news. In other words the clerks know and can do but their own work in their own departments, and if it were otherwise they would be continually running from one department to another, up stairs and down, mixing work, wearing themselves out and causing the greatest possible confusion. On and after 7 p.m. daily it is useless to ask for any phone number except 133. Patrons who consult their phone books for the numbers they really want will greatly lessen the work of the patient Central telephone and Guardian clerks and thus help make their lives much brighter and happier. 3-16dtf.
