Former Yank Hurler To Be Reclassified

(By The Associated Press)

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 3 — The Bloomfield (N.J.) draft board of Henry (Hank) Borowy, baseball pitching star traded to Chicago Cubs by New York Yankees last week for a reported $100,000 in cash and players, was directed today by State Selective Service headquarters to reclassify the slim righthander.

Col. Edgar N. Bloomer, New Jersey Selective Service director, in making known the directive, said an investigation had disclosed that the 29-year-old Borowy was not entitled to the deferred classification he holds. The 2-B classification is given to essential war workers, Col. Bloomer added.

Col. Bloomer, who said it was expected the Bloomfield board would act on Hank's case next Monday, declined to say what draft group he thought Borowy belonged in.

"Borowy is not entitled to a 2-B classification," he said. "It will be up to the local board to decide whether he should be shifted into 1-A or 2-A."

The placing of the mound star, who is married and has one child, in 1-A would make him subject to immediate induction into the armed forces. The 2-A classification, a deferred grouping, is given to essential men in civilian industries or professions considered necessary to the war effort by the local boards.

Borowy was placed in 2-B by his draft board last winter while he was employed at the Eastern Tool and Manufacturing Company of Bloomfield.

He quit the Bloomfield concern in March to enter spring training with the Yankees at Atlantic City and has been playing baseball since.

VISITED PARENTS — Mr. and Mrs. Jim Currie of Charlottetown, P.E.I., spent the week-end visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Currie, Chisholm Street, and at Mrs Currie's former home in Stellarton.—New Glasgow News.

RECEIVES DISCHARGE — Eugene Haynes, who recently received his discharge from the Army, returned to Amherst last week, where he plans to remain for some time. He was accompanied by George MacCallum of P E. Island, who also got his discharge. — Amherest News.

ISLAND GUESTS — Mr. and Mrs Everett Moynagh and their daughter, Miss Mary Moynagh of Charlottetown, P.E.I., who had been visiting relatives in Trenton recently, were guests an evening last week of Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. McQuin, Helene St. From here they went to Quebec City to visit their daughter, Sister Ste. Hilary of Notre Dame Convent of that city. Their son Warrant Officer Hilary Moynagh, RCAF, who had come home on thirty days leave and was reporting again to Halifax, was with them here. He too enjoyed a visit at the McQuin home. — New Glasgow News.

RECEPTION — On Tuesday evening, July 24 the spacious and lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. James G. MacLean, South West Lot 16, was the scene of a very pleasant social gathering. It was the occasion of a reception to do honor to their son Mr. Arnold Clark and his bride the former Miss Areta Caroline Gardiner of Chelton whose marriage took place the previous Saturday at Chelton. About fifty friends assembled to offer their good wishes and later in the evening a body of serenaders came to pay their respects. The tables, prettily decorated with bridal wreath, sweet peas and roses and glowing with soft candle light, were presided over by Mrs. James Clark and Mrs Preston Bowness, aunts of the groom while those assisting in serving were the Misses Mildred MacLean and Patricia Clark and Hazel Wright. After supper several piano selections and a hearty sing-song was much enjoyed. At midnight all departed wishing the newly married couple many years of happiness.

Reopening Services At New Dominion

Sunday July 22, 1945 proved an ideal day for the reopening service of New Dominion United Church and very large crowds were in attendance. The morning service was held jointly with the congregation and choirs of Long Creek Baptist Church, in which church the New Dominion congregation has been worshipping during the time their own was closed for repair. Rev. A. E. Todd was the speaker and delivered a very earnest and helpful address. A solo, "Bless This House", most appropiate for the occasion was splendidly rendered by Mr. W. R. Shaw, while the Cornwall trio, Messrs MacMillan, Millar and Boyle contributed two pleasing selections.

At 3 p.m. the special speaker was Rev. I. Judson Levy of the Baptist church, Charlottetown, who by his inspiring and thoughtful message, and arresting personality, made a deep impression on all who were privileged to hear him.

The Bonshaw choir had charge of the music at their service, and under the capable direction of Mr. Peter MacDonald, organist, gave splendid interpretation to the various sacred selections which included as special numbers a solo, "Sun of My Soul" by Stephen MacLeod, and a male quartette, "Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken," by Messrs MacLeod, Carson, MacNevin and Boyce.

The evening service was conducted by the minister, Rev. J. R. Skinner, who delivered a very eloquent address and also expressed thanks to all those who had assisted in any way during the services of the day. Two beautifully rendered solos by Mr. Roy Smallman of Charlottetown were heard with much enjoyment and appreciation. The Cornwal l trio very kindly contributed a very acceptable selection, while a solo and chorus, "My Saviour's Love" by Mr. W. R. Shaw with the New Dominion choir assisting was also rendered with good effect. Miss Eileen Shaw acted as organist, with Mrs. Gordon MacMillan assisting.

An interesting feature was the presentation of a new pulpit Bible to the church, the generous gift of Mrs. D.N. Taylor, Mrs. Wm Taylor and Mrs A. K MacPhee. The offerings for the day amounted to nearly $150.00, the largest amount $60.00 being contributed at the afternoon service. The many generous donations from persons outside the community as well as from those intimately connected with the church are much appreciated by those in charge.

Very favorable comments were heard on the improved appearance of the interior of the church, which has been newly painted in more harmonious and attractive shades, a cause for gratification to those on whom fell the responsibility for making final decisions in these important matters.

The carpenter work, painting, etc. was done by Messrs, Lowther and Wilson who spared no pains in their efforts to give satisfaction and who deserve great commendation for their careful attentions to every detail of the work.

Background Of Ottawa Conference

BY FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Aug. 3 — (CP) — Some of the problems down for discussion at the Dominion-Provincial conference next week have been recurring subjects at these occasional meetings ever since confederation. Others are new and some of the old problems have assumed new aspects under the impact of modern conditions.

The chief recurring problem is money, how to get it and what is to be done with it. The Dominion and the Provincial governments get their money by taxes and they have to tax the same people.

The conference opening next week will be the 15th since Confederation though not all have taken the same form. Some were merely conferences of Provincial governments in which the Dominion took a part but out of them grew the practice of getting all governments together to talk over mutual problems.

Previous Conferences

Conferences dealing with Dominion-Provincial relations primarily have been held in 1887, 1902, 1906, 1913, 1918, 1927, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, 1941.

The conference in 1902 dealt mainly with financial questions and advocated an upward revision of subsidies. The 1906 conference took up where it left off and was again largely on financial questions.

The 1913 conference was called jointly by the premiers of Ontario and Quebec Sir James Whitney and Sir Lomar Gouin and dealt with representation of the provinces in the House of Commons. The Maritime Provinces were gaining in population more slowly than the others and losing members. Eventually the British North America Act was amended to put a floor under provincial representation in the House of Commons.

In 1918 Sir Robert Borden, Dominion Prime Minister, called a conference which resembles the present one in its objects. It was for the purpose of discussing post-war plans.

Marking Time

A wide range of questions were considered at the 1927 Conference which turned heavily towards legal and constitutional problems. Issues raised and discussed then, which still remain about where they were are Senate Reform and procedure for amendment to the British North America Act.

In 1931 there was another constitutionally minded conference which was called on to consider the implications for the provinces of the earlier Imperial Conference which defined the new status of the Dominions in the British Commonwealth and out of which came the Statute of Westminster.

The series of conferences which followed in 1932, 1933 and 1934, dealt mainly with the urgent problems of unemployment and relief which plagued all governments during the depression period. The Dominion government had started paying part of the cost of relief and relief works carried on by the provinces.

The 1935 Conference was a more ambitious one which, however, did not lead to many concrete results.

The creation of the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial relations (the Rowell-Sirois Commission) came soon after and its extensive researches led to a report which will figure largely in the present conference.

The Commission's recommendations for exclusive Dominion taxation in certain fields, compensating grants to the Provinces to enable them to finance their services and reallocation of responsibility for some social and other legislation, were to have been the subjects of discussion at the 1941 conference which broke up when three provinces refused to accept them as a basis of discussion.

Approval Placed On Conference

LONDON, Aug. 3 — (Reuters)— General approval of the Big Three Potsdam pattern for peace was voiced throughout Europe today following the announcement of plans for a stripped-down Germany and for dealing with other problems.

The foreign affairs commission on the French consultative assembly passed a resolution asking the government to break off diplomatic relations with Gen. Franco's Spanish government, which the Big Three banned from the united nations, and asked that the Big Three be approached with a view to supporting a Spanish Republican government now being formed outside Spain.

The independent Paris newspaper, Combat, declared that if principles become realities Germany will become an essentially agricultural state.

Franc Tireur headlined the conference "from Munich to Potsdam or from Lebensraum back to earth."

In Moscow, the Communist newspaper Pravda thought the conference testifies to the further strengthening of co-operation between the Big Three.

The Spanish radio network broadcast a full summary of the Big Three communique, but left out all reference to the banning of General Francisco Franco's regime from membership of the United Nations organization.

Portuguese newspapers omitted all reference to Spain.

A Swedish foreign office spokesman tonight said he could not comment on the communique, but pointed to the statement issued by the chancellery office of the cabinet on July 1st, which said that Sweden would join any new security organization that was not the tool of any particular grouping of great powers.

Czechoslovak radio reaction was: "The three statesmen's verdict about the transfer of the Germans from Czechoslovakia constitutes a resounding victory for Czechoslovak policy."

Prime Minister Parri of Italy said his first impression of the declaration as far as Italy was concerned "could not but be a sense of happiness," according to Rome radio.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. BRUCE DAWSON

There passed peacefully away at Tryon on Sunday July 1st, Mrs. Bruce Dawson in her eighty-second year.

Born on the "Creek" farm, Tryon, Feb. 14, 1864, Mrs. Dawson, who was Maria Jane, the third daughter of the late Charles Morley and Millicent Howatt Leard, spent her last years which were ones of illness cheerfully borne in her childhood home tenderly cared for by her sister Millicent.

Her years of health and strength were generously given as loving wife and mother presiding over her home in Tryon, and later Uigg.

A devoted member of the Baptist Church, Mrs. Dawson lived always in the spirit of the Master. Just to be in her company was to know the fellowship of a rare sweet soul, and to live in the circle of her love and friendship was a blessing many counted as one of the rich experiences of life.

In addition to her husbnad, she has left to mourn three sons, William Bowley Dawson of Star City, Sask; Dr. Alden B. Dawson of Belmont, Mass. and Warren Dawson of Uigg, P.E.I.; also nine grandchildren and five great grandchildren. One son, Fenton predeceased her. The surviving borther and sisters are Lydia, Mrs. J.B. McDonald Boulter of Cloverdale, B.C.; William Bowley Leard of Tryon and Millicent H. Leard of Tryon.

The funeral services on Tuesday, July 3rd were conducted by her pastor, Rev. C.A. Hicks of Tryon Baptist Church assisted by Rev. J.A. Jardine. Mrs. Wallie Jenkins of Bedeque sang very feelingly the solo "The City Four Square". Other hymns sung were "Jesus Thou Joy of Loving Hearts" "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee" and "There is a Land of Pure Delight".

Interment was in the Peoples' Cemetery, Tryon with the following pallbearers: Charles Jones, Harold Howatt, Brent Wood, Walter Wood, Ashur Howatt and Everett Howatt.
