Irish Moss Prospects

Of the 1,000,000 pounds of Irish moss produced in Canada in 1943, two-thirds was from Prince Edward Island shores. It is not surprising, therefore, that the future of this new industry is a matter of great interest and concern to many people in this Province.

Notes By The Way

The hardest thing in the world to see clearly is the other man's point of view. - W. Somerset Maugham
Higher degrees that every business man in Canada should possess are: a good understanding of the law, a good understanding of the English language, and a good understanding of the Canadian Constitution.

Public Forum

The National Anthem

It is regrettable that there still seems to be a tendency to substitute "O Canada" for "God Save The King" as Canada's National Anthem, or at least to establish "O Canada" as an optional one.
The Maple Leaf Forever "A Song of Canada" by Mrs. Owen Chandler is the "O Canada" and others are inspiring and useful patriotic songs.

Some British Wartime Medical Discoveries

Research began in 1928 when Professor Alexander Fleming of St. Mary's Hospital in London, at one of his experiments in research on bacteria, was investigating the growth of staphylococci—the source of many pus-forming infections.

THOUSANDS CHEER

New South Wales school children are to have lessons in civics and citizenship. The Minister of Education announced that he would allow the teaching of civics in schools to be undertaken by executive authority.

EDITORIAL NOTES

A few months' more of unrelenting Canadian and see the consequences.
There are still two more Federal Liberal governments in the making.

On Celebrating Victory

What a splendid opportunity that this year should be the year of our triumph over the forces of evil.
The triumph of our arms is a triumph of our civilization.

Erasing The Gap

As international relations in the preparation of peace begin to take concrete shape, it is not surprising that the nations will have to face the problem of the economic gap.
