MR. D. K. DOBIE, Foreman of THE GUARDIAN'S Mechanical Department, crosses by the S S Northumberland today on his way to Buffalo N Y where he will attend the B Y P U convention. While absent he will visit Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto and Niagara Falls.

THE GUARDIAN is pleased to learn that Mr Henry Rackham of this city, who received a severe fall on Saturday last, while working at Mr John Rackham's new house, Wheatly River, is improving and now considered past danger. Dr Douglass of Hunter River was called, and in a short time relieved the patient, setting the fractured bones. Dr Warburton of this city arrived a few hours later. Under the best of medical skill and attendance it is expected Mr Rackham will be able to be brought to his home in about two weeks.

On June 28th Rev Mr Layton organized a normal training class at Stanhope with a membership of eight. On July 3rd Rev Mr Opie was present at the Sunday School quarterly service, the meeting taking the place of the regular preaching service. According to the Secretary's report the average attendance was over 80 per cent for the past quarter and 75 per cent for the year. The school met every Sunday but four, these being stormy. During the pastor's absence the ladies of the church lined the pews and the church is now one of the coziest in this part of the country. All available space was filled in Cove Head church last Sabbath when Rev Mr Layton dispensed the Lord's Supper.—Both teachers are engaged for another year, thus testifying of their ability.—Cove Head choir is talking of changing leaders for the summer.

TAKE a day off Wednesday, 13th. You need it. Train leaves for Baptist picnic at Suffolk at 9.45 a. m. local.

AN old fashioned Methodist Camp Meeting will be open at Berwick, N. S. on August 5th, and will continue for a week. The camp grounds afford forest shade, excellent water, and are within five minutes walk of the railway station. Dr Louis Albert Banks, an evangelist from Cleveland, Ohio, will preach at least once each day. Any further information desired can be obtained by writing to Rev J. M. Fisher Secretary, Hantsport, N. S.

THE body of Lachier, the fisherman who was drowned off Cape Traverse, two months ago, drifted into Leard's Cove, Tryon, on Friday morning. Mr Calvin Howatt drove up and notified Dr Dougherty who is coroner. An inquest was held and the remains interred in the Methodist cemetery, Cape Traverse. It is thought the recent heavy thunder storm was the means of raising the body from the bottom of the sea.

Annual sale of women's skirts now on. We believe in the old saying—the best way to keep good deeds in mind is to refresh them with others. So instead of talking for pages, as we might do on the values of yesterday and the immense buying, which but proves that they were great values, we will simply bring forward another string of bargain gems for your inspection. Prices! P. Goodstein N. Y. Cheap Store.

By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that the business so successfully conducted by Messrs Beer Bros has changed hands and that good energetic, reliable business men will continue it at the old stand. Mr Sentner has been for years in the employ as chief clerk. Mr McLeod, too, is an old employee, with much experience in the dry goods business both as a salesman and buyer, having been to Europe on several occasions to purchase goods for Beer Bros. And it is unnecessary to add that the name of R. C. McLeod is a tower of strength to any business with which his name is associated, a shrewd, clever upright business man, who has become rich while yet young. As a business man he has few equals in the province. THE GUARDIAN congratulates these gentlemen on the purchase of what must prove a rich enterprise.

THE New Brunswick Magazine, volume 1, number 1 has reached this office and presents a highly creditable appearance. It contains an introduction by the editor, Mr W. K. Reynolds, a well-known and capable journalist, with articles on various historical topics local to the province from the pens of Rev W. O. Raymond, M. A., Prof W. F. Ganong, James Hanay, Montague Chamberlain, Jonas How and W. K. Reynolds. The Editor's Chair, Talks about Contributors, Writers and Workers, Provincial Bibliography and Notes and Queries are appended. The whole making 64 magazine pages of a highly interesting character for all who are inclined to historical reading. The field of the Magazine is announced to be the history, natural history, material resources, topography, genealogy, bibliography, &c. of New Brunswick and the other maritime provinces. Future numbers will contain articles from a number of the most eminent Canadian writers. THE GUARDIAN extends best wishes for the success of the New Brunswick Magazine. Published monthly by W. K. Reynolds, St John, at $1.50 per annum.
