What is believed to be the most elaborate expensive cup in Prince Edward Island is on exhibition in A. J. Matheson's drug store, O'Leary. It is mounted on a black ebony base, stands 25 inches high and has a circumference at the largest point of 38 inches. It is elegant in design, massive, substantial yet beautiful in appearance. This cup bears the following inscription: "Presented to the Bras Harbour Motor Boat Club by Mrs. Blanchard Atkinson, won by Gus Herlihy, July 1st 1910." This contest is open to all owners of motor fishing boats extending along the coast from Campbellton to Bras. It is held by the winner for one year but any person winning it three years in succession becomes the permanent owner. This year was the first in which it was in competition and Gus Herlihy was the fortunate winner. This costly gift is donated by Mrs. Atkinson who was formerly a Miss Milligan of Bras. Although she now lives in affluence in the United States she delights in spending the summer fanned by the refreshing breezes of the Bras. Her kindness and generosity are greatly appreciated not only by the hardy fishermen alone but by the general public in all that section. It is a fitting example to many other sons and daughters of our province who claim to have acquired great wealth in other lands.
