Dress up Your Circular Letters—

You would not think of sending a shabbily dressed, dirty-faced boy to your valued customers to act as your dignified representative.

It is even more unbusinesslike to address an ordinary printed circular letter bearing a message to your customers, because it is a reflection on their better judgment.

Every letter you send out should be either typewritten or printed by the Multigraph Process, (and you can't tell one from the other.)

A letter produced by the Multigraph Printing Service is identical to typewriting in every respect. It is printed from moveable type, printed through a ribbon making the appearance and effect of the finished product absolute.

There is nothing more effective than a direct personal letter to your customers. This letter can be produced the Multigraph Way at a very nominal cost. You can have it printed in most any size or color.

Let us tell you more about it.

DESPATCH says that the Kaiser has the shivers, Shake, old boy.

THE OCEAN nowadays seems to be a body of water entirely surrounded by trouble.

THE FOOLS are not all dead says some one. That's as true as you live, dear friend.

ONE of the things a man can't understand is why his enemies have so many friends.

ONE practical way to observe Lent is to sprinkle ashes on the slippery pavement.

IN soft weather in Charlottetown the wealthiest as well as the poorest citizens have to put their rubbers in "soak."

ON the ocean the swell makes people sick and some of the swells encountered on land have a similar effect.

THE EVER-READY (Boston Transcript.)

The pacifists seem to be the only people in the country who are in a state of preparedness.

THE FIRM NAME (Toledo Blade.)

This from a Michigan paper goes to prove that commercialism too often protrudes itself into the sacred scenes of life. "The bride walked down the aisle to the strains of Mendel & Son's wedding march."

JUSTICE ON THE HALF SHELL.

Winnipeg man who confessed to theft of $15,000 the other day was given a suspended sentence. In the same city a poor man who stole three sacks of flour from a freight car when his family was hungry got five years in the penitentiary. It's a funny old world.

EXPLAINED

"Listen to this, Matilda," said Mr. Snooks, as he unfolded his scientific paper. "This article states that in some of the old Roman prisons that have been unearthed they found the petrified remains of the prisoners." "Gracious, James!" explained Mrs. Snooks, with a smile, "them's what they call hardened criminals, I expect."

THE LAST STRAW.

No longer people romp and run! No more they warble jealous tunes. In life there's very little fun. Since up has gone the price of prunes. —Youngtown Telegram.

No longer do the funny guys have stogie jokes within their reach. For two-fers now are small in size. And raised in price to five cents each. —Peoria Journal.

The meat is boosted to the skies. That we once found in Irish stew. But we don't care so daddling much. Since onions have been boosted, too. —Houston Post.

Men used to make their wills and lay them down in peace to die. But dying's not what once it was. Grave-digging now has gone so high. —Memphis Commercial Appeal.

AN AGED COUPLE

Stevensville, Ohio.—"My husband is 79 years old and I am 78 years of age and we owe our good health to Vinol, the greatest strength creator and medicine there is. When either one of us get into a weakened, run-down condition, Vinol has never failed to build us up and restore strength. We have often said we would not be living now were it not for Vinol." —MARY A. LEE.

The reason Vinol is so efficient in building up strength for weakened, feeble old people is because it is contains beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese-peptones and glyco-phosphates, the most successful tonics known.

We wish every person in Charlottetown who is suffering from a weaker, run-down, debilitated condition would try Vinol for our guarantee to return their money if it fails to be of benefit.

E. A. Foster Druggist, Charlottetown also at the best Druggist in all Prince Edward Island towns. Vinol is sold in Montague by H. J. Mabon.

of cremation is always carried out beside a sacred river. Netley has no river, sacred or otherwise—and therefore one had to be made.

Water by the score of gallons was carted out from Southampton; a shallow trench was dug, and when the ceremony was about to commence the water was allowed to flow down in a continuous stream.

The body of Jemadar Harak Bahadur Thapa was bathed, anointed and clothed in new garments, and borne on a stretcher to the place of cremation which the Hindus had prepared.

The ceremony was carried out by Indian volunteer students, all of high caste, all in England to do their share in bearing the heavy burden of Empire.

The funeral pyre was prepared and the body was placed upon it. Prayers were read, and then in the dead silence which followed, one of the Hindu with a lighted torch walked slowly and the pyre. Seven times this was repeated before the pyre was lighted.

In India those who participate in these ceremonies bathe in the river immediately. As bathing was not possible on this occasion, they clapped their hands in the now dying stream and sprinkled the water over themselves.

To cut themselves off finally from the soul of the departed each of the men then sipped water in which gold had been washed.

The ashes of Jemadar Harak Bahadur Thapa are not to rest in Britain. They will be taken away to his native India and scattered on the sacred waters of the Ganges.
