HORNSBY HAILED GREATEST HITTER OF MODERN TIMES FIVE-YEAR AVERAGE IS .402

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Rogers Hornsby, hard-hitting manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, has removed any doubt of his place among the greatest batsmen of modern times. When "Rajah" led the National League for the sixth straight time this season he also compiled the astonishing five-year batting average of .402, a mark which eclipses by two points the best five straight years Ty Cobb ever had...

NEW YORKERS WINNERS, 2-1

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—New York administered Pittsburgh's first defeat in the National Hockey League here tonight by a close margin of 2-1, an extra period being required to decide the game. Langlois scored the winning goal after three minutes of extra session had elapsed. The game was fast and furious throughout, numerous penalties being inflicted on both sides. Strong defense methods were employed by both sides. Seemingly scores were pushed to the boards time and again by Worters and Forbes. Burch performed nobly for the New Yorkers, while Conacher and Drury thrilled the crowd with the mad dashes down the ice.

McNamara-Georgetti Team Leading In Six Day Bike Race. NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—McNamara and Georgetti led the field by one lap this morning at the end of the 59th hour in the six day bicycle race in the new Madison Square Garden. They stubbornly maintained their lead despite fast sprints of the other 14 teams in efforts to gain laps.

Unusual Offer. NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Lucien Vinez, of France, lightweight champion of Europe, is willing to fight for nothing if he can win a title. His extraordinary proposition was accepted yesterday by promoters of the Christmas Fund bouts December 23, and he will meet Jimmy Goodrich, of Buffalo, recognized as world's champion, in a 15-round engagement. Vinez will take only a crown back to Europe if he wins and if he loses his reward will be a mere one thousand dollars for training expenses. Goodrich will receive about ten thousand dollars if he wins and slightly more if he loses, under the agreement.

Condition Of Kipling Unchanged. LONDON, Dec. 3.—Rudyard Kipling passed a fairly good night. This morning it was said his condition was unchanged. Wheat—Dec., 178; May, 171 1/2; July, 150 1/2. BLAZED TRAILS

While a good race horse is apt to come from any family those who purchased racing material in the rough must if they expect to make a profit confine their selections to the strains which produce a volume of speed. A glance over the list of great race horses which have from year to year carried almost everything before them in the leading circuits shows that many of the best were the sole representatives of their sire. All of the other foals were either failures as race horses or only made a fair showing in moderate company. The sires of such horses as Rarus, Walter E. Ryland T. Anderson's Nightingale, Sonoma Girl, Hisabadi, E. T. C. Johnson, Prince Albert and The Eel would have been forgotten if it had not been for their showing on the turf. What was true in their day is true now and always will be. Nature has many secrets when it comes to producing race horses. All that a buyer can take for a guide is what is on record and what the horse under consideration can show. No one can purchase all of the promising colts by a stallion in the hope of getting a star over if it should prove a champion. There must be a number that can pay their way or the name is not worth the candle. Back in the eighties the management of the Jewett Farm near East Aurora, N. Y. decided to keep all of the foals by Jerome Eddy and develop them. A number of tempting offers for what looked like racing material were turned down when the trade day came. The bulk of the farm products were shy of speed while Jerome Eddy's best performer was bred by a manufacturer in Connecticut. At the same time a neighbor C. J. Hamlin at the Village Farm developed and raced his products and sold his colts whenever he could find a buyer. The Hamlin place was a success and the Jewett system a failure. Those who are now looking for racing material follow in the wake of the race winning families and especially those which have been getting the money in the futurities. The blazed trails are marked by the winners of races. It shows where the threads of gold are in each family. As it fades another is taken up. What is considered the golden cross in one decade is discarded in the next. When Hambletonian was in the ascendant in Orange County any of his sons out of well bred mares were considered fashionable. At one time Administrator was given the right of way because his dam was by Mambrino Chief. Later on when the grain and chaff were separated it was found that Catchly and McMahon were his only performers worth favorable comment. Finally all of the sons of Hambletonian fell by the wayside except George Wilkes, Electioneer and Happy Medium. The trails of these horses are blazed with winners. At the start there were many forks in the road but as the years rolled by only four remained. Two run to George Wilkes, one through Axworthy and Axtell to William L. and the other through Belwin, San Francisco, Zombro and McKinley to Alysone. The one to Electioneer runs through Etawah, Al Stanley, Todd and Bingan to May King, and the one to Happy Medium through Axworthy, Peter Volo and Peter the Great. Peter, Medulla and the records which were made at each remove in these lines also showed that they contained champions and race winners of merit. Those who are familiar with the William L. line will recall Axtell, Hambrino Belle, Lee Axworthy and Lee Worthly, while the Alysone branch contributed Martha Wilkes, Sweet Marie, San Francisco, Lu Princeton and Sumatra. The Electioneer line presents the names of Palo Alto, Bingan, Uhlan, Etawah and Margaret Druhen. Happy Medium follows with Nancy Frank, Peter the Great, Mabel Frank, Peter Manning and Peter Malby. From fifty to seventy-five years are required to build the material line of a great race horse. The known strains in the dam of Peter the Great date from the war between the states. While it was in progress a trooper in a Louisiana regiment was heavily wounded in a battle with the Confederates in a shop on one of the roads leading out of Clarksville, Tenn. This mare's foal proved to be a colt which was named Creole. He got Dixie, the dam of Shadow, a mare which carried the cover of Grand Senitel, produced Santos, the dam of Peter the Great. That splendid race horse Favonian is another fine example of pedigree building. He was foaled at Memphis, Tennessee and was trained to relate the first known crosses in his pedigree came from the same state. In 1852 a Mrs. Rains who lived near Nashville owned a mare by Freeman's Tobe out of a daughter of imported Leviathan. She bred her to Fanning's Canada Chief and got a black filly which was subsequently sold to John Kirkman of Nashville. He named the filly Kitty Kirkman and disposed of her to D. Swight who had stock farm near Spring Station, Ky. Later on Swight sold Kitty Kirkman to Morgan Vance. In 1866 he bred her to Edwin Forrest, one of the stallions then in service. At R. A. Alexander's Woodburn Farm, from this mating Vance got a chestnut named Jessie. He sold her to D. Swight and in 1870 she passed from him to F. M. Wetherbee, Alstead, New Hampshire. Nothing more was heard of Jessie until 1885 when she produced a chestnut filly by Dixie, a son of Pilot Jr. which was bred at Woodburn Farm. Bayard has a record of 2:31 1/2 and was considered a very fair stock horse in his day. In due time Jessie B. became the property of James F. Scott, Donnell, Ky. In 1897 he booked her second round for a court of nine, to Ashland Wilkes. While she was carrying this foal Jessie B. was consigned to a Lexington sale. She was purchased for $15 by J. F. Barber, who at that time resided at Millersburg, Ky. So far none of the mares in Favonian's pedigree showed that they had racing speed and were in all probability never trained. In 1902 when Allerton was standing in Kentucky, Ruby Ashland was mated with him and produced a chestnut filly that was named Allie Allerton. She showed a disposition to pace and was worked a mile in 2:14 1/4 at that gait. Allie Allerton was retired to the brood mare ranks. She was booked in 1911 to General Watts, a futurity winner. She produced successful trotters in her day. Allie Watts was retired with a four year old record of 2:07 1/4. In 1917 she was bred to J. Malcolm Forbes, a half brother to Peter the Great, and in 1918 produced the brown colt Favonian. He started racing in 1920 as a two year old and has been kept on the move to date. He now carries a record of 2:01 1/4. Almost a century elapsed between the birth of imported Leviathan, the sire of the Grandam of Kitty Kirkman, and Favonian, the former was foaled in 1823 and imported to Alabama in 1830. The trail is a long one but the result was worth effort and the money spent in building the pedigree of Allie Watts.

No Senior Hockey Body In Manitoba

WINNIPEG, Dec. 3.—Manitoba will not have a senior amateur hockey league this winter, as a result of the decision of the executive of the Manitoba Hockey Association. The executive decided that owing to lack of material and heavy travelling expenses that it would not be feasible to operate. It has previously been decided to form a senior association including Port William, Port Arthur, Brandon and two Winnipeg teams. As a result of today's decision, Brandon is expected to seek affiliation with the Saskatchewan league, while Port William and Port Arthur will, it is expected, form a league to include Kenora. Winnipeg will have only one senior aggregation in action this winter, the Maroons of the Central Association, International league. Gradual migration of hockey stars from this city to Eastern Canada, to Western Canada professional hockey and to the ranks of teams in the United States is blamed for the dearth of senior material in the province.

Paolino Won

BERLIN, Dec. 3.—Paolino, Spanish heavyweight boxer, who recently announced plans for an invasion of the United States in the hope of meeting Jack Dempsey, last night knocked out the German heavyweight Hans Breutenstraeter, in the ninth round. Other of the more important Senate committees which will have new chairmen are those on Post offices and on Pensions, with Senator Moses of New Hampshire, replacing former Senator Steiwer of South Dakota, on the former, and Senator Norbeck of South Dakota, succeeding former Senator Bursum of New Mexico, on the latter. House committees which are to have new chairmen include those on Flood Control, Indian Affairs, Insular Affairs, Merchant Marine and Fisheries, and Military Affairs. These chairmen are yet to be selected, but in the order named they would be in the order named. Thomas F. Curry, California; Royal C. Johnson, South Dakota; Charles E. Fuller, Illinois; Frank D. Scott, Michigan, and John M. Morin, Pennsylvania. Changes in the personnel of virtually all of the standing committees of both houses are made necessary by the decision of the two houses to treat incumbent chairmen and to assign them extra places at the foot of committees without party designation.
