Held Out Long As He Could

Halifax Man was Planning to Quit Work When He Began Taking Tanlac. Is O. K. Now.

"I had held out as long as I could and was planning to quit work altogether at the time I got hold of Tanlac but now I am feeling fine and call myself a well man once more," said Edward Rent, of Sackville, Nova Scotia, a few days ago.

"I had been troubled day in and day out for nearly four years with an awful case of chronic indigestion. My appetite was practically gone and many a time I went all day long without eating scarcely a bite. I had intense pains in the pit of my stomach that nearly doubled me up and at times was so nauseated that I could not keep down the little I had eaten. Dizzy spells often came on me and sometimes I had terrible headaches that nearly set me wild. My back hurt awfully and lots of nights I lay awake hour after hour waiting for morning to come. Then when I did get up I could hardly muster enough strength to get out of bed. All day long I didn't seem to have any strength or energy left and felt ready to give up just any time. But I know what it means to enjoy good health now, for Tanlac has put me back in fine shape and I can't tell there was ever anything the matter with me. My appetite is ravenous and no matter what I eat I can digest it as good as I could before I ever had stomach trouble. Those headaches and dizzy spells are gone and my back never bothers me at all. I sleep like a log and feel fit to tackle any kind of work. I am more than satisfied with Tanlac and don't mind telling any man that I consider it a medicine that can't be equalled."

Tanlac is sold in Charlottetown by Reddin Bros., in Montague by H. J. Mabon, J. P. White, Murray River, H. M. Chisholm, North Tryon, R. H. Cameron & Co., Crapaud and H. P. Coohon, Murray Harbor.

Mary Ambitious (Her Story)

MARY IS DISCOURAGED

A few weeks' work as clerk in a small store was enough to convince me that there was no attractive future for me there. Too much hard work and too little pay was the condition that finally made me leave the position, with no definite plans for the future.

A friend suggested that I prepare for some definite office position by taking a commercial course and I was quick to take this tip because I knew the advice was good. I decided to become a stenographer.

Business Men Know

Men who are successful in business can give excellent advice to young people and they are often willing to help in this way if the advice is asked.

They will tell you that a commercial course, qualifying for some particular line of work, is the surest way to insure a good salaried position.

Call or write for information about the various courses open for you. Your inquiry will receive prompt attention, with sincere desire to help you.

Mary is ready to take an important step.
