Provincial Rifle Shoot Concludes

The provincial rifle matches ending the ten highest shots in the Ottawa aggregate will constitute a strong team, and from their number there is a good chance of our having a representative for Bixley. The Ladies' Challenge Match in which thirty-six riflemen shoot for thirty-six ladies, the highest scorer being the winner of the trophy for the lady he represents was the concluding match for the program, being fired between 7 and 8 p. m. Great interest was taken in the shoot-off between G. G. McLennan and Percy Hooper representing respectively, Mrs. Erwen Stewart, and Mrs. J. A. Longworth. Both had made possibilities, that is to say, every shot had hit the bull's eye. Five rounds were fired by each, McLennan making every one a bull's eye, his rival dropping one point, Mrs. Stewart who now resides in Edmonton, Alta., will have the custody of the trophy for one year. We are requested by the riflemen to say that they are greatly pleased with the arrangements made by the secretary of the association, Lt.-Col. Leigh, V. D., and by the work of the range officer, Captain Wendal Worth. Thanks are due to the statistical department presided over by Lt. J. C. Moore for prompt information.

show that any Maine potatoes were used here for tablestock in competition with our potatoes. In trying to bolster up an argument that has no foundation you have made a statement to the potato growers that is simply not according to the history of the potato business of the past and that is not in the interest of the potato industry of this Province.

Give us facts, Sir, not theory and they will carry more weight. If you or Mr. Myers are sincere in your statements please tell us how many cars or bushels of potatoes Maine has shipped into Canada during the past nine years. I am conscientious in this and not writing for political purposes as I have no axe to grind and I am open to conviction, if you can show me wherein I am astray or can benefit by high tariff measures as applied to potatoes.

Our natural market for tablestock potatoes is the New England States, and for seed the entire Atlantic Coast to the Gulf of Mexico. I am, Sir, etc., J. P. HOOPER, July 22, 1930.

(Colonel Hooper is in error, we were dealing with the present and future, not the past. The President has power to remove 50 p. c., at a time and can successfully act. In 1928 when Maine had a surplus, Prince Edward Island had a mill greater surplus proportionately.

her potatoes selling at par 14c to 25c per bushel so where was the inducement then for Maine to ship potatoes here, even if the difference of 15 p. c., duty permitted it? What the Colonel and other potato growers have to fear this fall is that before they are ready to ship their potatoes, Maine growers or middlemen will flood St. John and other Canadian ports with duty free potatoes for shipment in competition with our potatoes, in our foreign markets.

In 1928 when the potato shippers of Charlottetown combined to keep up the price of potatoes for Cuba, a foreign dealer appeared on the scene and cabled Cuba offering a shipment at 5c per 100 lbs below the price quoted by Charlottetown shippers and the bottom was again knocked out of the market. What happened in 1928 in Cuba, will happen in all our markets this fall under the Dunning Budget for the free admission of potatoes. —Ed. G.)

AN EXILED ISLANDER'S LONGINGS

Sir,—I feel that "Dear Paddy" (McQuaid) would be the correct salutation, but the fact he was about five years older than I, I fear he's "hobnobbing" now, somewhere with Cronan Doyle, even though he, "Paddy" was not strong for these kinds of spirits.

I hope you will have patience with the writer for a short period, pardoning the temerity for usurping your valuable time and believes you will, after perusing this rambling epistle. I therefore thank you. Sitting here this sultry afternoon Ole Sol, beaming down at the rate of 100 degrees, I am in a rather reminiscent mood, wonder "What is all about anyhow?"—and I yearn to see and read a copy of your paper once more, even though the chances are remote that there's anyone left that I know.

Forty-seven years ago I sailed out of that beautiful harbor on the S. S. Miramichi for Montreal to become a small "cog in the wheel" building the greatest railroad in the world, (C.P.R.) I must confess that after passing Rocky Point and out through the harbor I gazed back at the "Garden Spot" of the St. Lawrence with a suspicion of a "lump in my throat" I could not, somehow swallow.

After eight years with the C.P.R. in various capacities among which were telegrapher, brakeman and conductor, my feet again became "itchy", and back to the States, which I left with my parents in 1870, since returning. After covering all forty-eight States and four in Mexico, I have developed the same foot disease and yearn for the Island, her mackerel, cod and herring out, off the coast of Rustico and the wonderful winter sports especially.

It is not a pity we could not find the "Fountain of Youth" and go back to the old "gang", the Dawson's Davis, Farquharson's, Messervys, Harveys, Weeks, Longworths, then others too numerous to mention? Gee! that good old rink and Galbraith's Band. I feel right now like I'd like to again enter a marathon, or "cut the outside edge" or "grapevine" Oh! Why did I leave there, I wonder? Guess 'cause I was born All Fools' Day, 1866. Why should I write thus, thusly, I don't know, unless if I don't I'll bust!

Now tell me something. Why don't the Islanders advertise? Advertise till it hurts. The Canadian National Railway, get out some wonderful literature, as far north as Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, but not a word about P. E. Island. Have you a Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce? If so, I would suggest you urge them to get busy and write American tourists to come and spend their summer vacations, winter too for that matter. I believe if some of you red blooded hustlers would get busy a wonderful summer resort could be established at Rustico, if, of course there is none there.

I recall quite vividly the Old Ocean House when, as a boy, I visited Hiram Churchill, who owned a fleet of mackerel and cod boats. Then the patrons were Bostonians; today you should have tourists from as far south as the Gulf of Mexico, also from the west, and you know the Americans peculiarity, if he can afford a trip, he spends money like a furloughed sailor, and no questions asked—Why not you good old Islanders get some of their "Kale"?

If I had a coast site up there, or a reasonable lease, I'd work the cottage plan and flood the states with honest, wholesome and truthful advertisements. I'll bet a nickle or a dime, the pounds would eventually flow in. If you Board of Trade have any literature, I'll appreciate it if you will hand them my name that they may mail me some, as I am frequently quizzed about the Island as a vacation resort.

Again apologizing for usurping so much of your time—With best wishes. I am, Sir, etc., A. JED CARVELL 1416 So. 3rd St., Louisville, N.Y. Our correspondent will see from the literature which the Tourist Association sends him that we are not
