Rules Will Be Strictly Enforced Says President

C.A.H.A. Issues Final Warning Regarding Migration Of Hockeyists From Branch To Branch.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

AMHERST, N. S., May 25.—Rules of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association in respect to registration and transfers will henceforth be strictly enforced, declared President Gilroy in a communication received by James Wry, President of the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association here today.

The National President threatens a "general cleanup" and takes a firm stand against wholesale alterations in line-ups and transfers on a big scale from one district to another. He stated that he was not in favor of certain clubs being permitted to pack their teams with imported players.

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association would put its foot down on wholesale transfers, the President intimated.

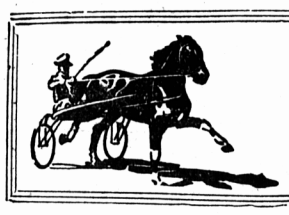
The warning was issued right now, he said, so that players would not be misled by promises made by officers of teams interested, and to permit time for any who had already migrated to return home.

The statement reads:

"Branch to branch transfers will not be granted to a player unless such player changes his residence prior to Jan. 1, 1934, thereby complying with the rule, or is legitimately attending a university or school as under the student rule, or had been moved by his employer with whom he has been continuously employed for a period of at least six months. There will be no deviation from these rules in this warning even if both branches in transfers are agreeable to the changes. Transfers within a branch will be handled by the branch but in no case will the C. A. H. A. sanction the action of a branch that permits wholesale migration within the branch or the picking of teams."

CUB PRACTICE TONIGHT

Bert Cooper calls for a baseball practice at the Abegweit Grounds at 6 p. m. sharp. The following players are asked to attend: L. Simpson, J. MacLean, G. Ayers, N. Price, H. Gaudet, J. Stanley, E. Rice, J. Saunders, P. McQuaid, M. Diamond, V. Larter, E. Stentiford. Others wishing to make the team be on hand for a try-out.



DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

The wealthiest young man in the world will take his principal recreation this summer driving horses on the Grand Circuit. Richard (Dick) Reynolds, recent heir to $25,000,000 will campaign the only pacer to enter the two minute list last season, Dick Reynolds 1.59 1-2, and the two trotters which he recent purchased from Henry Oliver, Pittsburg, Pa., The Lad (3) 2.04 3-4 and Poplar Hill (3) 2.06 1-2. Both are sons of the noted Rose Scott 1.59 3-4.

John L. Dodge, the most successful private breeder of trotters and pacers in the United States, was a druggist by profession. He made a hit with a patent medicine and as a result can indulge his fancy for race horses very considerably. However, we believe it has been a paying proposition with Mr. Dodge as he invariably produces season after season champions or near champions. His latest important announcement is that he will not race any more two-year-olds.

Dodge believes in breaking, then training the youngsters for a few months and about June 1st turning them out for the balance of the season, taking them up again in the late fall preparatory to their three-year-old conditioning.

There is no question that intensive training and racing of two-year-olds or even three-year-olds takes a toll on their vitality and limits their usefulness as aged racing propositions. One of the greatest trainers of athletes in the United States has come out flat-footedly against active competitions for young athletes under eighteen years of age claiming that great many of the school boy winners have failed to make good as mature athletes due to being burnt out in their teen years.

The above criticism would not apply to the training of two-year-olds or three-year-olds on Prince Edward Island, because conditions here are so very different to those prevailing in the United States where trainers must get their young charges ready for big purse futurities. Even now we pick up a horse paper and find two-year-olds going faster than aged horses, 2.14 1-2 recently in Florida and 2.13 1-2 in Kentucky. These youthful prodigies will probably make a great showing this year and perhaps next as three-year-olds, although the percentage of two-year-olds with fast records that make good as three-year-olds is not great but as aged performers we would not care to invest.

The news that Toll Gate 2.00 3-4 will arrive in the Maritimes and be a factor in free-for-all racing has created quite a furore in free-for-all circles. Probably the first big battle of the giants will be at Charlottetown on Thursday, August 23rd, when we look forward to seeing Toll Gate 2.00 3-4, Calumet Brownie 2.01 3-4, Darkey Grattan 2.02 1-2, Hunter Hedgewood 2.02 1-2, Volo Rico 2.04, Neil Frisco 2.03 and others take part.

Mrs. Charles Valentine, Columbus, Ohio, is walking on air and has a feeling akin to that experienced by a person who is holding a ticket on the favorite or near favorite in the Derby. Last fall Charlie, who was the idol of the turf years ago when he drove hoppled pacers on the Grand, visited the Indianapolis sale and purchased for $45.00 a yearling named Senator Horne and gave him to his wife.

This lad, as we told you last week trotted in 2.15 1-2. Since that

Lightweight ChampReady For Battle

(By Edward J. Neill Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, May 25—Barney Ross packed up his things at his Ferndale training camp today and headed for New York to fight Jimmy McLarnin 15 rounds for the welterweight champion in Madison Square Garden's bowl on Long Island Monday night.

The lightweight champion from Chicago wound up his training ordeal as fit as a man can be for a task ring history says can't be done, but 65,000 people are expected to pay some $300,000 for the privilege of seeing him try anyway.

Only once before did a lightweight king ever challenge the ruler of the heavier division and in that match Benny Leonard lost on a foul to Jack Britton. But there was this bit of bolster to Ross' cause as far as that one was concerned—Leonard, the lightweight champion, was far in front and had Britton on the floor when he committed the foul of taking another punch before Jack got up.

James Wallace, Unemployed Scottish Carpenter Qualifies To Meet Lawson Little For British Amateur Golf Title.

(By Gayle Talbot, Associated Press Sports Writer)

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 25—James Wallace, an unemployed Scottish carpenter, today qualified to meet W. Lawson Little, long-hitting Californian, for the British amateur golf championship in a hectic day which saw the elimination of George T. Dunlap Jr., United States amateur titleholder.

Wallace conquered Dunlap 2 and 1 in one of the greatest competitive rounds seen in Scotland. Little defeated Leslie Garnett of Addington one up in an extra-hole match. Wallace and Little meet in the 36-hole championship round tomorrow.

Wallace, who has been promised a steady job if he beats Little for the title, started out in his characteristic slow, methodical way against Dunlap and was one down to the United States champion at the halfway mark. For the rest of the round he hammered down an unbroken series of pars and birdies, finally nailing his frail rival at the 17th, where he banged in a sensational 15-foot putt for a birdie.

Wallace Cheered Mightily

The jobless Scotsman was three under par for the eight holes along the backward route, while Dunlap was even with regulation figures.

The gallery of 10,000, most of them, of course, Scots, respected the competitors with tomb-like silence during the actual moments of play but cheered Wallace wildly after each shot. Dunlap appeared undisturbed by the spectators' emotional outbursts, and were it not for the fact that he was engaged in battle he might have lead the applause for nobody was more impressed by Wallace's victory than he.

Even though he putted better than any time before in this tournament, Dunlap's work around the greens was no match for the Scot's phenomenal performance. He shaved pars int obirdies on the 12th, 14th and 17th greens and putted for them on the other back nine holes.

Dunlap Pays Tribute to Winner

"He's a grand golfer and when a man shoots the kind of golf Wallace did I don't feel disgraced in losing," Dunlap said.

Wallace could not afford to pay his caddy, but the bonny lad who has toted the carpenter's bag over the highlands and lowlands since the tournament started without compensation, cried for sheer joy when his man won.

Before he came to grips with Dunlap, Wallace defeated Francis Francis, Sunningdale millionaire, 3 and 2, in the quarter-finals, and Dunlap scored a 3 to 1 victory over Alex Walker, scion of the famous whiskey family, in the same round.

The Little-Garnett semi-final was full of dramatics. It afforded the gallery one of the rarest treats in the long-ranged driving from the tees ever seen in these parts. Time and again they banged out tee shots that measured more than 260 yards and at the eighth hole lashed out drives that reached 290 yards.

Little drew down thunderous applause for his mighty belt at the 16th. The hole measures 288 yards from tee to green and the San Francisco slasher's ball sailed all of that, coming down close to the pin.

Their match was a give-and-take affair on the first nine with the exchanges even. It was a case of waiting for the breaks on the back holes. Little took the lead with a birdie four at the 12th but the advantage was shortlived as Garnett won the next hole. The Californian went to the fore again at the 16th with another birdie, fashioned from that sledging drive, and then for the second time in six holes the Londoner drew up even, sinking an 18-foot putt on the 18th green. Little closed out on the first extra hole, holing a three-foot putt while Garnett blunderingly missed a two-footer.

Little won his way to the round before the final with an easy 4 and 2 triumph over T. A. (Dale) Bourne, who was beaten by the Hon. Michael Scott in the 1933 finals. Garnett overcame John Neal of Moor Park, two up, in the morning.

INDEPENDENTS AND HAWKS PLAY DRAW

"Wal" Monteith's double into right field with one out in the last half of the ninth, driving in two runners gave the Hawks an 8-8 draw with the Independents last night in the second game of the Industrial Baseball League. The game was called in the Independents half of the tenth, darkness calling a halt to the bitter struggle the teams had waged from the opening inning.

But while Monteeth emerged as the hero, one of his opponents nearly stole the show from him; Murray Carmichael coming to bat in the tenth with two mates resting on the sacks, smashed out a mighty three base wallop that once again sent his team into the lead, only to have his effort go for naught as Umpire Francis was forced to call the tilt, the score reverting back to the ninth frame.

It was an even battle all through. Both teams counted twice in the first inning but a three run assault in the third gave the Hawks a 5-3 lead after the Independents had scored once in their half of the same frame.

But it was the Independents turn in the next two frames as they batted in five runs for an 8-5 advantage. For the next four frames the eastend team were blanked but again in the eighth they pushed across a run setting the stage for Monteith's dramatic ninth-inning two base blow.

Both teams used two hurlers, Stewart of the Hawks going in for Bolger in the fourth with "Duck" Acorn relieving Bill McNeill for the Independents.

Lineups:—

Hawks—Stewart, Doyle, Donovan, Bolger, Gillis, Lawlor, Michael, Callaghan, Kenslow, Monteith.

Independents—Jay, Acorn, Cox, Saunders, Diamond, Dalziel, Lawlor, Bradley, McNeil, Carmichael.

Umpires—At the plate, Geo. Francis; on the bases, Fred McCabe.

Score by Innings:—

Independents 2 0 1 3 0 0 0 0 0 8 10

Great Entry List In Offing For Kelly-McInnis Race

Kelly and McInnis, whose haberdashery on Great George Street is on the shopping list of many city and rural residents, have their plans well in hand to make their annual ten mile road race one of the memorable sport events of the season.

They announced some time ago that the familiar Highfield-and-return jaunt would be held on June 21st instead of in September as has been usual. It was found from experience that the autumn weather was too fickle to gamble with and that the runners preferred to train in the spring.

The entry list will be a starry one with the best Island and Maritime distance men and possibly one Upper Canadian fighting for the worth-while prizes.

Roy Oliver of New Glasgow, Maritime champion and a recognized Olympic prospect, who has won the event two years in a row, will be back once more, and with him Bernie Rogers his young running mate who finished third last year. These two Nova Scotians have reputations which entitle them to respect in any company in Canada. It is likely too that Noel Paul, fleet Indian from Springhill, will leave the mark with the pack, and one or two others from across the straits are in prospect.

Upper Canada has a half dozen athletes, any one of whom would be welcome entrants because of the strong opposition they would present to the speedy Oliver, Rodd, Rogers and the rest. Every effort is being made to have one of the Ontario cracks brought to the province. Komonen, winner of the Boston Marathon, has been extended an invitation and also the noted ten miler, Rankin of Preston, Ontario. It may be said that none of these boys above mentioned are throwing a scare into Wallie Rodd, the Island's best bet. For the first time since Wally made a hobby of running he is training under a man who knows his business—Bill Massey. Bill has changed Wally's style entirely, and the Highfield boy is minutes faster than he was.

Kelly and McInnis wish it to be known that the prize-list is most attractive. First man across the finish line has his choice of the best suit in their store, the second man the equivalent of $15.00 in merchandise, third, wearing apparel to the value of $10.00, fourth $8.00 worth of goods, and for every man who finishes, something which will send him home satisfied that he was treated right.

Entries can be sent to Kelly and McInnis, Great George Street, Charlottetown. Send them in early boys.

Eliminated From Tourney

(C. P. Cable By Guardian's Special Wire)

KINGSTON, St. Vincent, May 25—Granda's fine cricket team eliminated St. Vincent from the Cork Cup tournament by two runs and three wickets today, concluding the three-day match which began Wednesday. The St. Lucia eleven, holders of the cup, sailed from Castries today for St. Vincent to meet Granada in the final starting Monday.

The Edmonton Grads, women's basketball champions of Canada and holders of the Underwood International Trophy, won their match with the Spencer Coles of Chicago last Saturday night by a score of 100 to 39. Also their second game from the same team on Monday night, thus retaining the trophy.

Gene Venzke, Pennsylvania's great miler, broke the world's record for three-quarters of a mile in a special race at Franklin Field, Pennsylvania, last Saturday. Venzke covered the distance in 3 minutes 2.3 secs, lowering the record of 3 minutes 2.8 secs. made by Tommy Coneff at Traverse Island, New York, 39 years ago.

Tommy Coneff was an Irish boy who won quite a number of races in Ireland and then came to New York, joined the New York Athletic Club and raced under its colors. In addition to the three-quarter mile world's record he was also the holder of the world's amateur mile record, 4.15 3-4, for many years. It is now 4.07 6-10 and credited to Jack Lovelock.

The 440 yard dash was won by Ivan Fuqua, Indianapolis University in 47.8 seconds. He also won the 220 in 21.7 seconds. Charles C. Baz O'Meara writing of Jimmy Slattery once one of the greatest figures in light heavyweight boxing, says, "Burnt out at thirty, Jimmy Slattery, once the pride of Buffalo, a cleancut figure with a darting left hand, the deftness of a Corbett and the high voltage shock in his flailing fists, returned to the ring as a preliminary boy—to victory.

"There was a time some years ago when Slattery seemed destined to become one of the greatest of the fistic world, easy money, fauning friends, the tap dance of doom on night club floors softened him up and finally he lost his title. With his title went fair weather friends, then he dropped out of sight until last night."

Now that Tommy Gorman has signed as Manager of the Montreal Forum, there is talk of Lionel Conacher coming back to his former team, the Montreal Maroons. Said Conacher, "I thought I had rendered good service to the Maroons but the deal showed that I am among those who make monumental blunders. However, the Hawks won the Stanley Cup despite the fact that I was one of the defencemen."

Tommy Gorman believes that Conacher is the greatest defenseman of the game and will make
