Wheat Nations To Meet

Delegates of Four Major Wheat Countries Meet in London Today

(By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, June 15—Delegates of the four major wheat exporting countries of the world will meet here tomorrow in an attempt to reconcile their views of what should be done to raise prices. Previous discussions here and in Geneva revealed the United States favors limiting production, and today's speech before the World Economic Conference by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett led observers to believe Canada would line up behind the United States viewpoint. Final attitudes of Australia and Argentina remained uncertain. Officially the Australian delegation is expected to restrict, but it was reported in unusually well-informed circles to have cabled Canberra for further instructions, Argentina, whose Senate last night passed a resolution opposing crop curtailment, was believed on the brink of a swing to the Canadian and American view. Plans Made To Develop "Airmindedness" in the Province—Past Work Reviewed.

The first general meeting of the P. E. I. Aero Club was held last evening in the City Board Room. Mr. W. S. Grant, President, at the opening of the meeting, outlined the preliminary steps of organization, and dealt with some of the early trials of the club. Many meetings of the club had been held, and a constitution and by-laws had been drawn up. Partly through efforts of the Flying Club, there had been put into operation in the Province a flying service and a flying school. An advancement had been made during the last year, but the fact remained that there was still not sufficient interest in flying in this Province, and there remained much work to do. Due to the efforts of Dr. Jenkins the Province possessed an airport, had an air service, and the Club had been organized. The Canadian Airways had made their base for the route at the Upton Airport, and flying instruction was being given. Mr. Ivan Reddin, Secretary Treasurer, presented the financial statement which showed a balance of cash on hand. Dr. J. S. Jenkins wished that some expense borne by him in organization work be considered as a gift to the Club. Mr. Grant stated what was most necessary to the Flying Club was an active membership. The fee had been placed at a minimum of one dollar. The Club now had sufficient funds to affiliate with the Associated Flying Clubs of Canada. Dr. Jenkins explained that the
