NOVA SCOTIA THIRD IN MINERAL WEALTH

OTTAWA, Sept. 19.—A census bulletin, showing the mineral production in Canada for the year 1910, has been issued. As compared with the mineral output of the Dominion in 1900 an increase in the ten years is shown of $49 in the number of mines or works, of $65,734,248 in the value of buildings, and plant, of $1,442 in the number of persons employed, of $24,597,877 in the earnings of salaries and wages, and of $74,048,070 in the value of production.

The total value of the mineral production of 1910 was $122,004,932. Coal occupies the first place with $32,580,841; silver in ore and in combination the second with $18,899,240; gold the third with $10,302,972; clay products the fourth with $9,562,302; nickel the fifth with $8,276,313; copper the sixth with $7,571,552; stones the seventh with $6,372,474, and cement the eighth with $5,351,066.

By provinces the production was as follows: Alberta.....$10,515,074 British Columbia.....24,581,338 Manitoba.....2,928,816 New Brunswick.....1,087,113 Nova Scotia.....17,059,122 Ontario.....49,727,400 P. E. I.....12,320 Quebec.....11,002,232 Saskatchewan.....541,671 Yukon.....4,550,346

It will thus be seen that Ontario takes the lead, British Columbia being second and Nova Scotia, third. The growth of Ontario's value of production is mainly accounted for by the opening of the Cobalt silver camp in 1904, which is the cause of a large increase in the total output for Canada of $18,899,240.

The increase in the number of salaried employees in the decade was 1,387, and in the cost of salaries $1,804,209 and for employees on wages is $22,793,668. The average of salaries being $991 in 1900 and $1,150 in 1910, and of wages $441, in 1900 and $583 in 1910.

The largest individual prize winner is Mr. R. A. Snowball, of Chatham, who carried off about $300 on his exhibits of horses, cattle and other live stock. Messrs. McIntyre Bros., of Sussex, will probably be the second largest winners, with about $200 to their credit, with Messrs. Lea and Clark of Victoria, P. E. I., and Mr. H. W. Corey of Chegoggin, N. Yesterday's official attendance figures were 4,127, a total of upwards of 16,000 for two days. Up to noon today the turnstiles registered a larger attendance than for the same time yesterday. There is every reason to expect an attendance of fully 7,000. Tomorrow will be children's day and with the management giving positive assurance that the show will remain complete until the band plays God Save the King at 10 o'clock tomorrow night, there is every reason to expect another big crowd for the closing.
