No Cheap China For Some Time Yet

OTTAWA, Jan. 5 — (CP) —The 25-cent cup and saucer and the 25 or 29-cent chinaware plate may not be back on retailers' shelves for quite a long time, H. H. Foreman, Prices Board administrator of fabricated metals and sundry items, said today in an interview.

"The cheaper china," he explained "used to come from Germany, Czechoslovakia and Japan, and, of course, it's all off the market and will continue to be for some time. "Canadian domestic production never took care of more than about 15 per cent of the demand, and much of it in the last two years has been going into war orders."

Higher-grade English chinaware such as Spode and Crown Derby have remained at the 1941 price level, he said, and while sometimes scarce, seems to be coming on the market now in greater quantities.

He added that improved shipping space in 1945 will probably make for a greater amount of low-priced English chinaware coming to Canada.

CONFEDERATION LIFE

GREATLY REDUCED PRICES on lines of coats, dresses, skirts and hats. Kennedy's Ladies' Wear. 1-6-31.

QUEEN'S CANADIAN FUND — The Royal Trust Co. acknowledge with thanks the following sums:—16th Bridge Club per Mrs. Charles Bears, Charlottetown, $12.60. Borden W.I., per Mrs. R. M. Toombs, $5.00.

USED CAR SALES — By March 31, 1945, every used car dealer in Canada, who wants to continue doing business, must secure a permit from the Motor Vehicles Administrator, E. R. Birchard, on a form provided by the Prices Board. Permits will not be granted to a dealer who has no facilities for repairing or reconditioning motor vehicles.

HAPPIEST CONGRATULATIONS —A most enjoyable function was held at the home of Mrs. A. R. Wise Friday afternoon when she entertained in honor of her mother Mrs. Isaac Saunders, who had reached her 90th birthday. Beautiful flowers—roses, snapdragon and carnations lent a festive air to the room which was pleasantly crowded all afternoon. Friends and relatives called to congratulate the guest of honor. Mrs. R. E. Mutch, Euston Street presided over the tea tables and was graciously assisted by Mrs. Laura Burton, Mrs. Lee Saunders and Mrs. William Donpierre.

KINDLY ISLANDERS — An editorial writer in Providence, R.I., has the following recollection of a visit to Prince Edward Island, that will be appreciated by those who belong to the Garden of the Gulf: There was the time, for instance, on Prince Edward Island when I was hurrying late one summer afternoon to catch the last ferry for the mainland. Lingering a bit too long in Charlottetown and then inadvertently taking the longer route to the ferry port, I was just beginning to pick up extra speed after passing through a village when suddenly a rear tire blew. Sensing my predicament and the need for haste—it was Saturday afternoon and another ferry boat would not leave the Island until Monday—a heavy truck approaching from the opposite direction quickly ground to a stop. Down from the cab came the driver and his assistant and, uninvited, took complete charge of the tire changing. Despite my earnest insistence, they refused to take the money I proffered." — Eastern Chronicle.

MISS HEPBURN TOPS PREVIOUS SUCCESSES IN NEW M-G-M- HIT

A new and even greater Katharine Hepburn in a demanding role which reveals all her superb dramatic ability has come to the Prince Edward Theatre in a movie which takes its place with the all-time great Hollywood productions, "Dragon Seed."

This is the filmization of the Pearl Buck novel — by the same studio that filmed the same author's "The Good Earth." "Dragon Seed" is even greater: a powerful story of China and the valiant Chinese people in their glorious struggle against the Japanese militarist machine, bare-handed fighters for freedom whose place in history is almost unsurpassed.

But "Dragon Seed" is magnificent movie entertainment above all. It has, in addition to Miss Hepburn, such outstanding performers as Walter Huston, Aline MacMahon, Akim Tamiroff, Turhan Bey and Hurd Hatfield, among many others. The picture is filmed on epic proportions, a truly great achievement among motion pictures.

Many months in the making, "Dragon Seed" has been masterfully directed by Jack Conway and Harold S. Bucquet and produced with rare taste and dignity by Pandro S. Berman.

The entire cast is excellent: you have never seen Miss Hepburn turn in a better, more moving performance or Huston do a more realistic portrayal than he does as Ling Tan, head of the Ling family. You'll greet Turhan Bey as Lao Er husband of Jade (Miss Hepburn). And you'll hate Tamiroff as the Chinese Quisling who would betray his own people. You will, indeed, find yourself running out of laudatory adjectives for everyone connected with the filming of "Dragon Seed."

Opportunities For Canadian Writers

OTTAWA, Jan. 5 — (CP) — Never has the motion picture industry offered Canadian writers the opportunities which now exist for themes dealing with the Dominion provided they have "box office appeal", John Grierson, Commissioner of the National Film Board, said in an interview today.

Mr. Grierson, back from a fortnight's visit to Hollywood, said Canada has assumed a new stature in the eyes of Americans, and for this four factors are responsible.

These are the Dominion's widely-publicized and acclaimed war effort; an accumulation of the Canadian colony in Los Angeles and an increase in its representation in the producing, directional, writing and acting branches of Hollywood's film industry; a realization by American producers of the importance of the Canadian market and "extraordinary good-will" which has been manifested toward Canada.

Mr. Grierson said Canada now is one of the largest producers of film "shorts" nationally and internationally. In the past she has depended upon the initiative of London and Hollywood so far as "feature" films are concerned.

Hollywood has been interested in themes dealing with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Pictures concerned with the R. C. A. F. and the Royal Canadian Navy —"Captains Of The Clouds" and "Corvette K-225"—already have been produced.

Because of the similar tastes of the two countries, Canada is regarded as the "safest" market for American films. "Hollywood is conscious of the new manner of trading," said Mr. Grierson. "You have not only got to go into a country but you must be a good citizen of it as well."

British Press Calls Truce In Word War

LONDON, Jan. 5 — (CP) —The British press appeared ready today to call at least a temporary truce in the week-long trans-Atlantic word duel and leave it up to a "Big Three" parley to iron out any differences between the two Allies.

The tenor was set by the Daily Mail, which asserted that the exchanges had reached a dangerous pitch that "gets us nowhere," and urged that any danger of a rift among the Allies "can be eliminated by an early meeting of the Big Three to hammer out points at issue."

The newspaper said it was time to call a halt to editorial recriminations in the two countries, as they "satisfy no one except Goebbels."

The Economist, whose self-described "plain talk" editorial a week ago touched off a verbal barrage on both sides of the Atlantic, contended in today's issue that most American comments on the article "unfortunately misconstrued its purpose."

"Nevertheless, it is all to the good that the British case is being heard, even if heat is engendered ...most of the American comments ...have missed its real point, which was to enquire to what extent British policy required to be adjusted in the light of evident trends of American policy."

The Economist took occasion, too, to deny that Brendan Bracken, British Minister of Information, who formerly was a member of its board of directors, had any connection now with the publication's editorial policy. Mr. Bracken, it said, retired as a director three years ago before entering the Government.

Evidence that Germany was avidly watching the word duel came in a dispatch from the Berlin newspaper Svenska Dagbladet, in which a German Foreign Office spokesman was quoted as saying that "we are on the lookout for signs of new developments."

"We must not exaggerate, however," the Wilhelmstrasse spokesman was quoted as adding. "We know the Anglo-American alliance is cemented by a common hatred of Germany, and this is strong enough to reconcile differences of opinion."

Canadian Army Presents Plaque To English Borough

By FRANK LOWE

LONDON, Jan. 5 — (CP Cable) —Lt.-Gen. P. J. Montague, chief of staff at Canadian Military Headquarters in London, today presented to historic Holborn Borough, on behalf of the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps and the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers, a Canadian flag and plaque.

The presentation was made to commemorate "the admiration of the Canadian Army for the courage and constancy of the citizens of Holborn and the gratitude of Canadian Military Headquarters for the the unfailing kindness and hospitality of the Borough."

This ceremony marked 30 months of close connection between the Canadian Army and the Borough in which the RCOC and RCEME Headquarters are located.

Mayor Wilfrid Earl Mullen received the flag and plaque and the ceremony was attended by the Canadian High Commissioner, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, and Capt. F. L. Houghton of Royal Canadian Navy Headquarters.

In front of the bomb-scarred City Hall, soldiers formed a hollow square in the centre of which stood Lieut. E. A. Williams of Dartmouth, N.S., holding the flag, backed by Staff Sgt. W. Lawes of Hamilton, Ont., Sgt. H. S. Howe of Montreal, and Sgt. H. M. Brown of Quebec City. Gen. Montague took the flag from Lieut. Williams and presented it to the Mayor, who was attired in the scarlet robes and gold chain of his office.

THE KIRK PULPIT

Preaching yesterday morning in The Kirk on the text, Philippians 4:6-7, the minister, the Rev. T. H. Bussell Somers, said: Now observe how S. Paul proceeds. "So shall God's peace keep guard over heart and mind." What a lovely phrase it is—God's peace! It means the very peace that dwells in the heart of God Himself. Nothing less than that is the promise. It shall "stand as sentry" to your soul. It will guard the entrance to your heart. It will hold the fort against every threatening intruder.

If you accept that picture, then inner peace is a very different thing from what many people imagine. It does not mean escaping the battle, or having a comfortable time of it. It does not mean that the Christian, any more than any one else, is promised exemption from the troubles and difficulties and disappointments of life. It does not mean that. But it does mean this far more glorious thing that when troubles come, as come they will, the central citadel which is the soul shall stand inviolate for God Himself will garrison it, and God's peace shall keep the door.

Express Company Chairman Passes

TORONTO, Jan. 5 — (CP) — Walter Scott Stout, chairman of the Canadian Pacific Express Company, died today at his home, aged 87. His death broke the last surviving link with the founders of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Dean of expressmen on the continent and one of the leading originators of the present day fast express service, Mr. Stout began his career in 1875 as an office boy with the United States Express Company in Havana, Ill.

Quebec City Police Out Of Armed Forces

QUEBEC, Jan. 5 — (CP) —Police Chief Jean Jules Gagnon today said that all Quebec City constables once in the armed forces now were back on the police force.

Commenting on the reported manpower shortage in the Montreal police, Chief Gagnon added that men on his force, if callable for military duties, were deferred as "they are vitally needed to maintain order here."

Police Director Fernand Dufresne said there were only one constable available per 50,000 residents in Montreal. He asked that all former Montreal constables be released from the armed forces, but he said he received "little encouragement" from Federal authorities.

LONDON — (CP) — Home Secretary Herbert Morrison said Britain will have to recruit and train something like 15,000 policemen after Germany is defeated
