FOUND GUILTY OF ASSAULT

The case of The King versus John McKenna and Hugh McKenna which had occupied the attention of the Supreme Court at Summerside the whole of Wednesday and Thursday, was resumed yesterday morning when, all the evidence being in, counsel addressed the jury in some length.

Both prisoners had been indicted for an assault, occasioning actual bodily harm, upon Mr. William D. Clark, prohibition officer at Borden on October 15th last. In his summing up His Lordship, Chief Justice Mathieson, laid stress upon the serious nature of the charge and impartially reviewed the evidence.

The jury then retired and, after being out for two hours, returned early in the afternoon with a verdict of guilty against John McKenna, coupled with a strong recommendation to mercy. The former did not agree in the case of Hugh McKenna. They were then discharged from duty and the court adjourned until Monday at 11 a. m.

MONTHLY MEETING

Continued from page 9 The Battle of Passchendaele Mr. President and Comrades when commanded, I use the word command, as nothing short of such an order, would have brought me here to speak on so varied and extensive a subject as "The Great World War" however after much thought I finally decided to speak briefly on the Battle of Passchendaele Ridge. Previous to this battle the Canadian Corps had established a tradition, I recall the train for a particular battle which greatly puzzled us at the time, for man were the conjectures as to the particular front. It may be somewhat of a surprise to many to know that this battle of Passchendaele was fought over and over again behind the lines—this particular section being laid out in white tape, many indications of the unbreakable mud. After much preparation the Canadians started on their march North, to relieve the splendid soldiers of Australia.

By October the 20th, the 3rd and 4th Divisions were in the line, the 3rd under Major General Lipsett and its headquarters along the Ypres Canal and the 4th under Major General Watson in the famous ramparts. It was only a short time afterwards that the 1st and 2nd Divisions joined their brother and sister units. Previous to taking over this sector the Australians had made an attack on October 12th and to give some idea of conditions as they existed, I quote from Sir Philip Gibbs, "The war were stuck in swamps at March Bottom and in the bogs below Crest Farm then plunged into these bogs feelingly cursing them, struggling to get through them to the enemy, but as this is impossible this evening, I express the wish that at some future date, someone more capable than I will give this matter their own correspondence wrote, and consideration. You who know our island roads at their worst, you can perhaps imagine the difficulty of transporting a vehicle over a bog, they knew too, that only success efforts could win success in the ordeal which lay ahead. Passchendaele was dirty ground, dirtier than the mud of the Somme. The preparations went forward and every detail had been carefully attended to.—Ammunition dumps at Vimy at what the Canadians marvelled were surpassed and many were Fritz's attempts to bomb these and flights of 15 to 16 machines would fly low in broad daylight, I recall an occasional trip back to ear headquarters near Valenciennes where one of the largest ammunition dumps was located and here one night, the Germans were bombing this dump, so we decided to find a substitute, and their help of one of these petty organs, tried to drown the attention of the whole of Wednesday and Thursday, was resumed yesterday morning when, all the evidence being in, counsel addressed the jury in some length.

Spirit of West Features Film

"Kit Carson" Starring Fred Thomson, Big Hit! Has Notable Cast

Magnificent scenic backgrounds, spectacular dashes of Indian heroes, a swiftly moving story in which the spirit of the west of ninety years ago has been caught, are the outstanding features of Fred Thomson's Paramount special "Kit Carson," which opened at the Prince Edward theatre yesterday.

In the broad sweep of the narrative has been woven the threads of two love stories which figured in the life of the famous trapper and scout—that of an Indian girl for Kit Carson, played by the western star, and that of Kit Carson for a beautiful Spanish girl. It has its lighter moments too, with a series of old time trappers at play. Silver King, Mr. Thomson's famous white horse, contributes his share both to the drama and the laughter.

The cast is exceptionally strong. Raoul Paoli, as the French-Canadian trapper and rival of Kit, gives a most distinguished performance. Nora Lane, who registered so heavily in other Thomson productions, adds to her laurels also in the picture. Dorothy Janis, a newcomer, gives promise. William Courtwright, gives his customary lovable characterization.

The film was taken in its entirety on the Navajo Indian reservation in Arizona and a great deal of research work was undergone by Mr. Thomson in giving the picture an authentic touch. Few pictures can compare with this production for sheer pictorial beauty.

No Substitute

A Sunday Morning Suggestion The need for church attendance never was greater than now. Your personal welfare and the interest of the church require it. No organization can survive the persistent non-attendance of its members. The prosperity of the church is in exact ratio to the faithful attendance of those who have pledged themselves to its support. It is not, therefore, a trifling matter to attend but an important contribution to a great cause. You may also have learned by experience that it is easier to attend church regularly than to occasionally. Regular attendance is too often a task. Your time and personal influence are vital and important to the church, as shown by the fact that so many other influences are bidding for your attention—autos, Sunday papers, movies, magazines, the radio, sports and other pleasures. These may be all right in their place and at the proper time, but they will not agree that if all Christian people should adopt any of these, or even Bible-reading itself, as a substitute for church-going it would mean, in the end, a great personal loss to you and your children and a calamity to the community with far-reaching effects. There is no substitute for church attendance.—Frank A. Morgan.

Monthly Meeting of the I. O. D. E.

The regular monthly meeting of the Royal Edward Chapter I. O. D. E. was held in the rooms of the chapter in the Navy League Building on Monday, Nov. 26th the Regent, Mrs. J. E. B. MacCreedy, presiding and 26 members present. Correspondence included a notice re the National Council's nomination fee, and a pleasant letter from Mr. Crockett of Holman's Ltd., acknowledging vote of thanks and assuring chapter of willingness to help at any time. The treasurer reported a substantial balance with bills amounting to $30.60 outstanding. These were dealt with, and the following amounts voted: $5.00 towards expense of broadcasting the Ames' lecture, $3.00 to Flower and Card Commission for postage, $10.00 to the Canadian Legion, $100.00 towards the Banquet project, this latter in addition to the $100.00 bond already set aside by this chapter for that purpose. The meeting voted a sum of money to be used to help needy British settlers who are in straitened circumstances because of the prevailing low prices of farm products, lack of employment in rural districts, etc. Instruction was also given treasurer to meet expense connected with the new picture of the King for the Legislative Building.

Mr. J. C. Hyndman was present by request and explained the need of provincial supervision or control of appeal where the affairs of Soldier Settler families could receive intelligent and sympathetic attention. Under the present system the families brought out by the Dominion Soldiers Civil Re-establishment Board are under the St. John Divisional office. The meeting passed a resolution to be forwarded to Ottawa protesting against the placing of British settlers on work on farms and suggesting that steps be taken to form a immigration bureau in our own Province. Regular savings are to begin after the holidays on Monday, Jan. 7th and all members urged to attend as these meetings are instructive as well as profitable.

Four new members were received. Mrs. R. H. Jenkins, Mrs. Samuel Kennedy, Mrs. Chester MacLure, Mrs. Hooper Horné. In closing the Regent asked members to stand in silent prayer for the recovery of His Majesty, after which meeting closed in regular way.

HAPPY WITH BLACKS

(By British United Press) SYDNEY, New South Wales, Nov. 30.—Left in the world without father or mother, a 16 years old lad in destitute circumstances and unable to obtain work joined nomadic blacks in the far north of Australia and became very happy. The police discovered him, however, and he was committed to an institution where he broke down and wept bitterly. The blacks, he said, had been very kind to him. He had lived on snakes and catfish.

REORGANIZING NAVY LEAGUE

Captain G. F. Morris, senior chaplain and Dominion field secretary of the Navy League of Canada, is interested in securing new members for the League and in reorganizing the executive committee. He reports that in every other Province the League is operating more actively today than at any time since its organization in 1917. In this Province, it is hoped, there will be a revival of interest. It would be a matter of great regret if the splendid work already accomplished here should cease through lack of support, and it is believed by Captain Morris that there is no reason for any such pessimistic outlook. He is remaining in the city for several days, and is desirous of getting in touch with everyone interested in the Navy League and in the patriotic work which the League is carrying on throughout the Dominion.
