MAYFIELD NEWS—Potato-digging operations are about completed in Mayfield; and the yield, though perhaps not as great as that of some previous years—is beyond the most sanguine expectations, considering the unfavorable summer and the bug-pest. The schools have reopened after a number of holidays, with a good attendance despite the prevailing whooping cough epidemic. Word has been received by friends of Mrs. C. G. Houston, reporting her safe arrival in New Bedford, Mass., she was accompanied by her son Wilbert and her mother, Mrs. B. Stevenson formerly of New Glasgow, P. E. I. Mrs. Houston who has resided in Mayfield for a number of years will be greatly missed in the social life of the community, where she was ever ready to assist with her musical talent and otherwise, in every effort of advancement. On an evening previous to her marriage Miss Annie Laura Toombs (now Mrs. Alfred Moore) was waited upon by many of her friends, at the home of Mrs. Charles Wyand and tendered a lavish miscellaneous shower. The beautiful house was most prettily decorated with Rowan-berries, autumn leaves, and asters. The Bonnie-Wee-Brid-to be thanked the donors for their generous gifts and kind wishes, so well expressed in original verse—were it not for such occasions, we might never suspect how great is the number of "birds and bardesses" with whom we mingle.

FAREWELL GATHERING

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mrs. T. A. Keenan, Murray River, on Monday, Oct. 22nd, when the members of the Presbyterian Church choir together with a goodly number of friends met to bid farewell to Mr. Neal C. Macdonald, prior to his departure for Toronto, Ont., where he intends to reside in future. During the evening a number of enjoyable games were indulged in, and the following programme was rendered: Duet, Mr. Sterling Giddings and Mrs. Norman Macdonald, Violin selections, Mrs. Pamelle McLeure, Solo, Mr. Sterling Giddings, Trio by McDonald Bros and S. Giddings, Viola selections by Russel Bowles, with organ accompaniment, Solo and chorus, Mr. Norman Macdonald and ensemble, Solo, Mr. N. C. Macdonald. Mr. Macdonald was then presented with a handsome fountain pen and Eversharp pencil, by Mrs. Keenan on behalf of the choir, the address being read by Miss Margaret MacLeod. Mr. Macdonald responded fittingly in a few well chosen remarks.

Refreshments were then served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. F. D. Brehaut, Mrs. B. A. Reynolds and Mrs. Freeman Reynolds, while Mrs. Ken Macdonald and Mrs. D. McCannell poured tea.

After singing, "For he's a jolly Good Fellow" and "Auld Lang Syne" the party came to a close everybody voting it a jolly good time.

Following is the address, To Mr. Neal C. Macdonald.

On this the eve of your departure from Murray River, we have met together to spend this social evening with you. We wish to thank you for the valuable services you have rendered the choir since you have come amongst us. We assure you that you will be missed, and that you will be followed with the best wishes of all.

We now wish to present to you this small token in appreciation of your services.

Signed on behalf of the Murray River Choir and others,
E. S. GIDDINGS

NEW SOUTH WALES ERECTS GIN TO PROMOTE COTTON INDUSTRY

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Oct. 25.—New South Wales, which shares with Queensland the honor of pioneering the cotton industry in Australia, now has its own gin, erected at Newcastle under the supervision of the British-Australian Cotton association. The premier and a large parliamentary party with other prominent figures were present at the opening.

The cotton industry in New South Wales is new, but it shows promise of a good future. Last year, sufficient seed was supplied to plant more than 7,500 acres. The demand for seed has been widespread and it is estimated that from 20,000 to 30,000 acres will be planted in this state. The cotton acreage in Queensland is considerably larger.

When one turns over in bed, it is time to turn out.—Wellington.
