OMISSION RE "DEACON DUBBS"—The report of the ritual "Deacon Dubbs", staged by local talent at Kensington on Mar. 17th, the names of Mrs. Leo Hughes (Trixie Coleman), and T. N. Donahoe (Major Moses McNutt), were inadvertently omitted. Mrs. Hughes played the role of the prankish niece of the "Deacon" to perfection—her practical jokes furnished the large audience with great amusement. Mr. T. N. Donahoe, the "Deacon" of Kensington thespians, upon whom always devolves the manifold duties of "property man," acquitted himself in his usual nonchalant manner.

Ladies Bowling At The L. O. C.

Table with 3 columns: Name, Score 1, Score 2. Includes Bobs Walsh, Florence Hogan, Blanche Conway, Audrey Birch, Charlotte Creighan.

Table with 3 columns: Name, Score 1, Score 2. Includes Helen Flynn, Kitty Coyle, Winnie Gaudet, Helen Kerwin.

Helen Walsh rolled highest for the Shamrocks 128, and Helen Kerwin rolled highest for Stars, 160.

The Stars broke the Jinx last night. They're away now!

Hard luck, Shamrocks—But Charlotte was among the spectators for most of the first game—6 o'clock sharp—Charlotte!

Florrie was advertising colors last night, not for the Shamrocks, tho, as yellow and blue were much in evidence.

Blanche seems to find the lights too strong—must be that extra power is put on the night she plays—looks as she might be in heavy at the light plants.

Nell's high score sure helped the Stars. A few less wasted in the gutter would work wonders.

Charlotte combines bowling and callisthenics in the game!

(Capt.) Helen worked hard for the Stars—her high scores are coming out of cold storage—Keep it up!

Hated is the vice of narrow souls; they feel it (with all their littleness) and so make it the pretext of base tyrannies.

Audrey scored high for the first game. It was then she noticed the marker—too bad! Another gone wrong!

No chance of taking Winnie for one of the Shamrocks last night!

It's all in the position, Bobs!

Kit was easy on the pin boys last night—after Monday night she knows it's no cinch down there in the pits!

There will be a fine collection for Easter, girls—eggs are still much in evidence!

NERVE WAS BROKEN WHEN TINY MOUSE RAN ACROSS FLOOR

NEW YORK, March 26.—A despatch to the Evening World from Denver, Colo., says that Doris McDonald's nerve broke when a tiny mouse scampered across the floor in Denver's detective bureau, and 15 minutes later she had made a confession of her part in the murder of Adelard Boucher, Montreal taximan.

The World despatch says: This was disclosed today by Bert Clark, detective sergeant who obtained Mrs. McDonald's confession. "Did you kill Bouchard?" Clark had demanded, and Mrs. McDonald had shaken her head.

"Were you present at the shooting?" "No," her words were firm. A mouse darted under her feet and disappeared under a desk. The girl paled.

"Oh, I'm deathly afraid of mice," she cried hysterically.

"Fifteen minutes later she told me the entire story," said Sergeant Clark today.
