ISLANDER WINS FIRST PRIZE. The appended clipping refers to Bill Lawson formerly of Alberton and Kensington, whose wife was the former Jean Millman of Kensington. Clipping from "The Sun" of Toronto: "Mr. W. T. Lawson, of the egg grading station on Albert Street, has just been awarded a prize for Ontario for his egg which he displayed at the Ottawa Winter Fair. He was judged on one case of Grade A large, and one case of Grade A medium. Ribbons and a cash award were the prizes received. Mr. Lawson commented that the honor was well earned, and embraced the producers in this district as well as himself, and that the praise must also go to them for supplying such high grade eggs. K"

LUMBER OPERATOR. Mr. George Webster of Kensington, who on Monday morning with portable saw mill and crew to begin operations on a logging concession on the Souris Line Road. Mr. Webster has been engaged in similar operations for several winters with tolerable success. He had the misfortune to lose part of his V track in transit to Souris, but hopes it will be found. Such operations are not common in this Province, but lumber is scarce and costly and the enterprise and initiative of Mr. Webster deserves commendation. The forestry experts estimated some years ago that there was fifty million feet of timber still extant in the Province; to the ordinary citizen the estimate will be mildly surprising, but experts are best qualified to judge. The venture brings to mind the mythical exploits of the fabulist "Pete Bunyan" and his colossal Blue Ox, with a spread of horns of 164 feet; who "logged off" the whole of North Dakota in one winter. K

30TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY AT KENSINGTON. Mr. and Mrs. Oleville Clark of Kensington enjoyed a pleasant surprise on Friday night, Nov. 19, when a large number of their friends, after a surreptitious plan to surprise them, crowded in to felicitate with them on the thirtieth anniversary of their marriage. The large and commodious house was filled with guests. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were utterly surprised but their reaction was quick and wholehearted. They were instantly the gracious host and hostess. After some time passed in pleasant conversation and auction, Mrs. Clark explained the intention of the assembly and called upon Alford Cotton to read an address, which expressed the feelings of all in nicely written and well read sentences. A purse was also presented by Mr. Fred Parker. Mr. and Mrs. Clark called in the most felicitous and intimate terms. All joined in singing "For They are Jolly Good Fellows." In spontaneity and sweet accord. A near ambrosial lunch was served by the ladies, after which dancing took place. Music was furnished by Freddie Klueber (violin) with Mrs. Allan Murphy, Mrs. Joseph Sheen as accompanists. A great number of old favorite songs were sung during the evening. Mrs. George Dunning, Granville and Mrs. Fred Parker accompanied on the piano. The happy couple were also the recipients of a beautiful pressure cooker, given by their sons and daughters. K

Port Hill W. I. Celebrates Its 25th Anniversary

On November 8th members and former members together with their husbands and friends met in King George Hall to celebrate the Semi Jubilee of their Institute. The hall was artistically decorated with par blue and white streamers. At the back of the platform a white pennant with the words in blue "25th Anniversary" was placed, while immediately beneath hung a blue plaque with "Port Hill W. I." in white block letters. In relief, the work of the younger members, and giving a very effective background to the beautifully appointed table with its vases of sweet-peas and candles in twin crystal candlesticks. Dainty place cards completed the appointments. On the table the piece de resistance was aniced birthday cake prettily decorated and bearing 25 candles, made by Mrs. Ernest Birch, the candles being lit by Miss Eleanor Birch. Before the company (over 90 in number) sat down to a most delicious and tempting repast, the Rev. L. A. Dignan said Grace. Ice cream was served as a special course. After supper a short programme was carried out. Mrs. Walter Newcombe, the president, who made an efficient and excellent chairwoman, a few gracious and well chosen words welcomed the guests, after which Mrs. Wm. Maynard read the names of those members who had passed on, the company observing one minute's silence in their honour. "Rhyming Jingles" brought an original touch, each member having expressed in rhyme some characteristics of a sister member creating much fun and amusement. Hilarious laughter was added by jokes told by certain members. Mrs. Graydon Grigg and Roy Strongman favoured with musical selections which were greatly enjoyed.

Miss Anna Veale gave a summary of the work and activities of the Institute over the 25 years' period, expressing the happy privilege of having present with them three of the original members. Mrs. Ernest Birch, Mrs. Russell Birch and Mrs. Henry Yeo. To Mrs. Ernest Birch and Mrs. Henry Yeo, along with Mrs. Angus McLennan, who became a member in December 1923, the unique distinction of an unbroken membership during the 25 years, and she extended heartiest congratulations to them. She emphasized the great benefits derived through the years by the school which they had made, and touched on their accomplishments during the 25 years and to the fact of one having joined the colours. The finances reached the total of $2,400, having been realized through plays, card parties, dances and other means while upwards of $2,000 had been expended. Time forbade her going into detail but they had every reason to feel proud of their record and achievements.

Wellington

On Monday, November 15th, Mr. and Mrs. Emille J. Arsenault celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. In the morning Mr. and Mrs. Arsenault and their children attended Mass. Then a dinner was served at their home to which their parish priest was present. Their children read them an address and presented them with a studio couch. They also received other gifts including a crucifix from Rev. Leonard McDonald. In the evening a large crowd gathered at their home to wish them many more years of happy wedded life. Mr. E. F. Gaudet on behalf of the citizens of Wellington read them an address and Mr. W. H. Barlow presented them with a chest of silver to which both Mr. and Mrs. Arsenault thanked the people for their kindness. Then all proceeded to the community hall where a lunch was served to all. The rest of the evening was spent in singing and dancing. The following addresses were read: Dear Parents:—We are gathered around you tonight to celebrate with you the golden anniversary of your happy wedding day. With you we rejoice that you have lived for many years and with you we thank the many blessings of the past fifty years. As the golden threads of memory unwind, your thoughts must turn back to days when you and peace under the parental roof. Many a time we must have carried you anxiety and trouble for waywardness of youth often treads dangerous paths, but mother and dad always understood. Now we want to tell you how deeply grateful we are that fill our hearts on this happy occasion. May you be spared to us for many years to come and may your children be your crown of joy both here and hereafter.

South Shore Musical Festival

The South Shore Musical Festival, sponsored by a large number of Women's Institutes in Prince County, P.E.I. was held in Summerside High School Auditorium Saturday, November 6. It was a decided success although the first of its kind on the Island. Great interest was taken by the people of the different sections concerned and the auditorium was crowded afternoon and evening. The program consisted of piano selections, solo and group singing and elocution. Special mention might be made of Class 9, the Girls' and Boy's solo, "The Wasted Crust." The eight competitors in this entry showed definite talent in singing and acting, talent which indicates great possibilities for their future in solo or choral work in church and community. Through the program, as might be expected, there were many imperfections and points to be criticized. Mrs. Nilas of Albany gave the decision of awards for elocution. The role of adjudicator for the musical numbers was most capably performed by Professor Musford of Charlottetown. His criticism was keen and given with clarity and charm so that not only the competitors loving memories. I wish now on behalf of your many friends of Wellington community to extend again our heartfelt congratulations to you our honored host and hostess and to beg you to accept in remembrance of the occasion the accompanying token of our love and esteem. May you have many returns of the day and may God whom you have loved and served faithfully grant your rewards here below and give you a foretaste of heavenly joys. On behalf of the Citizens of Wellington.
