COURT ALLOWS SECRET OF AGES TO BE KEPT

LONDON, May 31 — (CP) — A British court has upheld woman's treasured privilege of refusing to tell her age, and three defiant Scottish sisters getting on in years have come out richer by £300 ($1,350) a year.

They are the Misses Petrie, Helen and Alise Divorty of the little highland village of Ballinluig in Perthshire, Scotland.

Asked how old they were by the executors of the estate of a married sister who died at the age of 86, the three put down Petri's age as 49, Helen's as 59 and Alise's as 44. Counsel was a bit doubtful, but the sisters, when pressed for revised figures, countered by refusing the £300 annuity bequeathed to them.

Now Sir Raymond Evershed of the High Court has ruled that the Misses Divorty can keep the annuity—and their secret too.

HONEY—Honey prices for 1945 will remain substantially the same as they were last year, it has been announced by the Prices Board. In the Maritimes, for instance, the farmer's ceiling price to the consumers who supply their own containers of 10 pounds or less, is set at 18 cents per pound for No. 1 white honey and 16½ cents per pound for other grades. To encourage a greater volume of deliveries through regular wholesale channels, producer prices to wholesalers are set five percent below prices to retailers. This compares with a discount of 1½ cents per pound on sales to wholesalers in the 1944 order, but the maximum wholesale mark-ups are reduced by the same amount so that prices to retailers and consumers are unchanged.

Gasoline Hours Up to Municipalities

(By The Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, June 1—Provincial or municipal authorities can establish whatever hours they wish for sale of gasoline and lubricating oil when restrictions are lifted today, a spokesman for the Munitions Department said yesterday.

The restrictions on the hours of sale and days were introduced because of the supply situation, he said. Things now were improved and it was thought advisable to lift the restrictions and thus eliminate any further interference.

Honey Prices To Remain Unchanged

OTTAWA, May 31 — (CP) — Except for minor adjustment designed to improve distribution across Canada, honey prices will remain substantially unchanged from last year, the Prices Board announced tonight.

To encourage a greater volume of deliveries through regular wholesale channels, producer prices to wholesalers are set five per cent below prices to retailers. This compared with a discount of 1 1-2 cents per pound on sales to wholesalers in 1944.

Maximum wholesale mark-ups are reduced by the same amount so that prices to retailers and to consumers are unchanged, the Board said.

In zone 1, which includes the prairie provinces, Ontario and southwestern Quebec, the farmer's ceiling price to consumers who supply their own containers of 10 pounds or less is set at 17 cents a pound for No. 1 white honey and 16 1-2 cents for other grades.

Maximum price ceilings also have been set on sales made direct from producer to consumer where the producer supplies the container.

Help the Young People To Health - Happiness

What a common sight to see a young person whose bloodless face and feeble frame are evidences of poor circulation and weakness where bounding health and rosy cheeks should reign.

Young people in such a condition are generally of an anaemic nature and require a preparation containing iron to improve the blood content.

Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills meet this requirement, as they contain three concentrated forms of iron of an easily assimilated nature together with other valuable ingredients indicated for building up the system and helping to improve the blood content.

Price 50c a box, 65 pills, at all drug counters.

Far East Force Commander Was Sales Manager

By ROSS MUNRO

LONDON, May 31—(CP Cable)—Appointment of Maj.-Gen. B.M. Hoffmeister, 36, of Vancouver, to command the Canadian Far East Force underlines the strides the reserve army has made in the Canadian Army during this war.

A sales manager for a lumber firm before the war, Gen. Hoffmeister was a reserve officer and his appointment to the No. 1 Canadian field command now that the European war is over is a tribute generally to Canada's wartime-only soldiers.

The army in Holland and Germany practically took it for granted that a permanent force general would get the command but during the last week rumors circulated that Gen. Hoffmeister was being considered.

More Battle Experience

Unquestionably he has more battle experience than any other reserve army general and only Lt.-Gen. G. G. Simonds, commander of the 2nd Canadian Corps, and Maj.-Gen. Chris Vokes, commander of the 4th Division, among the permanent force can match this experience.

He knows infantry and armored tactics inside out and is a strong supporter of co-ordinated attacks by infantry and tanks. In the Far East campaign he will have infantry and tanks under his command.

Gen. Hoffmeister fought his first battles in Sicily in 1943 as commanding officer of the Seaforth Highlanders of Canada, a Vancouver unit, in the great 2nd Infantry Brigade of the 1st Division.

At Leonforte, Agira and down the Simeto Valley to Aderno the Seaforths had several prolonged, bitter battles. Gen. Hoffmeister proved during those early actions he knew how to handle infantry.

In the last Canadian attack of the Sicilian campaign, down the Simeto Valley, Gen. Hoffmeister used the whole regiment of Three Rivers tanks with his infantry. He rode into battle with the Three Rivers commander and directed the battle over the tank wireless. In the noon-day heat infantry and tanks poured down the broad valley and broke through German defence positions.

Praised By Monty

It was what the army calls a "set piece" battle and Field Marshal (then Gen.) Montgomery, commander of the British 8th Army, and Gen. Simonds stood on a hilltop on the flank to watch it. Later Montgomery complimented Gen. Hoffmeister highly and told him it was carried out as if it had been done on a sand table at the staff college.

He led the Seaforths into Italy and during the push through the southern part of the country he was made a brigadier commanding the 2nd Infantry Brigade.

In January, 1944, Gen. Hoffmeister was given command of the 5th Armored Division, recently arrived in Italy, and he led it through the long haul to northern Italy and the Po Valley, through one rugged fight after another. His reputation as a fighting commander grew steadily.

Without fanfare or dramatics, the skill of this solid soldier became known throughout the 5th and 8th Armies. A D.S.O. from the Sicily campaign and two bars to it from the battles in Italy attest to his personal courage.

Canadian Nurses Flock To Paris

By MARGARET ECKER

PARIS, May 31—(CP)—Canadian nurses in khaki who during the last 11 months have been through as grim and exciting experiences on the Western Front as any women undergo, are just attractive girls on a holiday when they hit Paris.

Now that their big war job is almost finished, hundreds of them are coming here on leave. Like any other Canadian girl, these young women who have worn battledress and lived in tents most of the time since D-day want to go shopping and sightseeing, attend fashion shows and have their hair done by world-famous hairdressers.

Lieut. Mollie Spohn of Regina and Lieut. Claire Perhick of Orillia, Ont., and Toronto are good examples. Such girls are mobbed everywhere. They are attractive and unaffected, and when they enter a Canadian officers' club every man wants to talk to them.

Mollie and Claire put themselves in the hands of the Canadian leave organization and they were whisked on a tour of all the sights of Paris. They took pictures of Louis XVI's palace and wandered through the gardens where Marie Antoinette once walked.

They went to a Maggy Rouff fashion show, and dreamed of the civilian clothes they will have back in Canada. They bought crazy Parisian hats and had their hair done by Antoine.

They went to the opera and Bal Taborin, the famous Montmartre night club. They sat in the officers' club and chatted with men like Capt. Vaughan Stewart of Riviere du Loup, Que.

Claire and Mollie have been nursing sisters at No. 8 Canadian General Hospital for more than 3 1-2 years, and are going home when their leave ends.

One of the thrills of their Paris trip was seeing the Sorbonne University. "Most exciting of all," said Mollie, "was seeing the amphitheatre where Mme. Curie received her honorary degree."

The girls said they came to love the Dutch for their cheerfulness and fortitude. Their hearts broke when they saw half-starved Canadian soldiers come back from prisoner-of-war camps in Germany. But they crossed the Rhine and saw bombed German towns.

"After the wounded Canadians we had been caring for, it gave us great pleasure to see smashed German cities," said Mollie. "I hate destruction—but after seeing the way Canadians were treated by the Germans, I enjoyed it.

"I wanted to cut the rations of the German wounded in our hospital in half. We were treating them too well."

BIRT AND BURKE WEDDING

The marriage of Thelma Jane Birt, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel D. Birt of Pisquid West, to Alvin William Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Burke, Bay Fortune, took place Monday, April 30th at St. John's United Church Manse, Mount Stewart. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. T. Mercer.

The bride wore an afternoon dress of biege crepe with embroidered front and three-quarter length sleeves, with corresponding accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. Her coat was moss green boucle crepe with silver fox cape. She was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Alma Burke, who wore mauve crepe with corresponding accessories and a corsage of roses. The best man was Mr. James McCannell of Lorne Valley.

Following the ceremony a delicious supper was served to upwards of sixty guests at the home of the bride's parents. The table was centered with a bouquet of snapdragons while the beautifully decorated bride and groom's cakes stood at either end. The gifts were many and chaste, including silver, linen and cheques.

* * *

On Friday evening, April 27th, a shower was tendered the bride-to-be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew MacKinnon, by the members of the Pisquid West Women's Institute of which Thelma was a member. The room was tastefully decorated for the occasion and Miss Phyllis MacDonald and Master Gordon Birt carried in the baskets laden with gifts, which were opened by Mrs. Clarence Coffin and arranged by Mrs. Fred L. Jay. Mrs. James Hughes read the accompanying verses. Thelma thanked her friends for the many gifts and best wishes.

After bouncing the bride, all joined in singing "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow". The remainder of the evening was spent with music and dancing, into the small wee hours of the morning when all departed wishing the bride-to-be much happiness in her future

A Challenge to the Women of Canada!

THE magnitude and value of the contribution to our war effort by the women of Canada cannot be overestimated. In the armed forces; in the war plants; in the war charities and canteens; in a multitude of volunteer groups, particularly in aiding price control and ration programs—individually and collectively—the women of Canada have proven a giant bulwark of strength that the dictators never counted upon. To these wonderful women goes the heartfelt thanks of a grateful nation.

Now comes a New CHALLENGE!

The women of Canada will probably wield the balance of power in the coming election. Their votes will probably decide whether or not Canada is to experiment with "State Socialism." Hence, it is tremendously important that they fully appreciate just what is proposed under the C.C.F. Socialist program.

While the C.C.F. promises of a "better distribution of wealth" and a "higher standard of living" are very appealing, it is important that women examine carefully the plan under which this is to be brought about.

Under Socialism, the C.C.F. politicians would decide what was to be manufactured; who was to make it; and how much could be made. From pills to petticoats, from jam to jewellery, the Government would control everything. In case you think that this would not really happen, read the following from a recent letter on the subject of luxuries, written by Henry Gibson, one of the C.C.F. pioneers:

"To the Editor of the Star: I am an original member of the C.C.F. and took part in the discussions from which the Regina Manifesto emerged and I can say with the full authority of this experience that when we come to power we are going to have a lot to say about luxuries. We are going to put a stop to the production of ill goods and services that are not good for the community."

Well, ladies how do you like that? And remember that Mr. Gibson is not fooling! He'll probably be one of our bosses if the C.C.F. win power. That the Socialists underestimate the intelligence of the women of Canada when they attempt to fool them with tricky promises is shown by letters we are receiving. Here is an extract from a letter from Mrs. W. G. Robart of Halifax:

"I purchased your book and read it from cover to cover. I found it to be just what I was looking for — enlightenment on the C.C.F. policy. I bought several more books and distributed them to my friends. It is the first time we learned what is really behind the C.C.F. movement, and I only hope thousands more will read it."

Here is another stirring letter from a woman in Sarnia who owns a small store, but who is not fooled by C.C.F. assurances that the "little fellow" has nothing to fear from Socialism:

"I have a strong conviction that the C.C.F. is a menace. They have a good front, with some good, well-meaning people. But when they get in power the wolves who have been parading in sheep's clothing will show themselves and we will have something on our hands to get rid of. These are my convictions and I would like to do something about it, but I am tied down with my little store. Then, too, I have always been backward, and I'm afraid people would say I'm just an ignoramus who doesn't know what she's talking about. If the C.C.F. get in power, I wonder what freedom they will allow us. Am I right, or do you think I sound like an ignoramus too?"

No, Mrs. Storekeeper, you sound very sensible, and we only hope that all of the women voters in Canada, who love their liberty, their freedom and their individuality, appreciate the very real danger that confronts them under C.C.F. State Socialism. Every women should post herself on this subject without delay. Our little book "Social Suicide" tells the story of State Socialism in simple language. To encourage women to read this booklet we are conducting a Quiz Contest—with $5,000.00 in Cash prizes. There are 235 prizes—from $1,000.00 to $5.00. Simply send your name and address to Public Informational Association, Box 178, Toronto, and we'll send you the booklet, with details of the $5,000.00 contest.

AND REMEMBER

A vote for any C.C.F. candidate is a vote for State Socialism, and State Socialism means Dictatorship. So, unless you want the politicians to take over complete control of your life, be sure to get out and vote on election day. Urge all your friends to vote against the C.C.F. candidate—no matter who he is—because he is positively committed to State Socialism.
