Reach Terms For Strike Settlement

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 27—Negotiating committees representing striking wholesale truck drivers and their employers tonight agreed on new terms for settling Buffalo's week-old food strike and prepared to submit them for ratification.

American Federation of Union leaders representing the 1,000 truckers called an immediate mass meeting for a rank and file vote and at the same time tightened their strangle hold on Buffalo's food supply.

The employers—44 big wholesale food merchants shut down since last Wednesday—also took the new truce proposals under consideration.

Life Insuurance On The Upgrade

TORONTO, July 27—Canadian life insurance companies wrote more business in June than in any other month in the last five years, with the total passing the figures for June last year by 20 per cent.

Improvement has not been confined to the production end of the business. Fewer policies are being allowed to lapse. Policy loans are substantially below a year ago.

Based on returns to the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau, June sales totalled $37,700,000, an increase of $5,500,000 over the previous month and of $6,400,000 over the same month a year ago. Similarly, the experience of the first half of this year has been the best since 1932. The cumulative sales total for the first six months amounts to $192,700,000 as against $181,300,000 in 1936.

In comparison with the previous month, June business was materially better in all provinces. Ontario and Quebec, which between them write the bulk of the business transacted in the Dominion, each registered gains of more than $2,000,000. In actual volume, gains in other provinces were smaller, but the proportionate advance was even greater. As against 1936 figures, Prince Edward Island was the only province to report a lower total and the reduction there was very small. A slight reduction was also shown by Newfoundland.

Sunglos Win Second Section Of Town League Defeating Pioneers In Crucial Tilt 6-2

Making five hits good for six runs and playing practically errorless ball in the field, the Sunglos turned in a sparkling performance last night to defeat the Pioneers 6-2 thereby winning the second section and right to meet the latter in the playoffs. Last night's victory eliminated the Soviets from further competition in the exhibition town league, as only sectional winners are entitled to a playoff berth.

Pony Daly, on the mound for the winners, allowed 10 hits but kept them well scattered and was able to bear down with men on the bases. The big hurler struck out eleven and did not issue a single base on balls. Dodds, for the Pioneers allowed only five hits but tended to be wild with bases occupied allowing two walks and hitting 3 batsmen with pitched balls.

Morrison of the Pioneers copped batting honors for the night hitting three for four. Jelly and LeBlanc were the sparkplugs of the winners' infield the latter ending the game with a spectacular double killing in the ninth unassisted. The playoffs begin on Friday evening while this evening the Soviets, Summerside junior entry play hosts to the Canadiens of Charlottetown.

Action Follows

named number of Japanese planes set out at dawn for North China points, presumably to take action if Chinese troops failed to evacuate Peiping.

It was feared here this may lead to conflict of serious proportions. But foreign observers held neither country really wants war, if a "face saving formula" acceptable to both sides is devisable.

Domei, the Japanese News Agency, said under Nanking date that:

Generalissimi Chiang Kai-Shek, premier and commander of the Army, had ordered General Sung Cheh-Yuan to resist Japan with all his force. Gen. Sung is chairman of the Hopeh-Chahar Provincial Government and Commander of the 29th Chinese Army in the Peiping area.

Representatives of the Nanking Government and the National Chinese Military Council were reported to have decided to mobilize the entire nation against Japan, abandoning hope of courting peace to avoid war.

The Chinese Government regards Japanese aerial bombardment of Chinese troops at Langfang as the final stage of a critical situation. The Government assured North China authorities that the Nanking regime is ready to settle any measures beyond the power of local officials.

Nanking dispatches to Asahi, Tokyo newspaper, asserted that China had decided on a long time resistance against Japan along the entire North China front.

The Tientsin announcement was regarded by some here to be almost a virtual declaration of war against China.

For Safe Flight Over High Peaks

LONDON, July 27—(CP)—British aviation experts hail the achievement of Flight-Lieut. M. J. Adam of the Royal Air Force in a new world airplane height of 16,440 metres—approximately 54,000 feet or more than 10 miles in the air—as important progress in Britain's systematic study of stratosphere flying.

The Empire's interest in this stratosphere flying is commercial and military. Above 25,000 to 30,000 feet clouds are rarely encountered, and visibility is always perfect, allowing opportunity for the full exploitation of astronomical aids to navigation. Further, for many years to come the higher operational speeds will be achieved well above the earth.

"Given secure pressure cabins," says the technical publication of the British Aircraft Constructions, "even passengers may be safely transported at heights above the highest mountain peaks. In war, the successful stratosphere bomber would mean radical changes in aerial strategy and tactics. Defensive problems would become vastly more puzzling if ground observation posts and patrolling fighters were asked to follow the progress of raiders flying six or seven miles high."

In 1934 the Air Ministry placed an order for construction of an airplane suitable for flights at levels of 50,000 feet and over. It was to be used as a high-flying laboratory, to gain experience in operation of aircraft and the working of engines, equipment and instruments in the tenuous atmosphere and the severe cold of the great heights.

This craft, a low-wing monoplane called the Bristol 138, has twice set a new world height record. Last September, piloted by Squadron Leader F. R. D. Swain, it climbed to 15, 230 metres (about 50,000 feet), breaking the record set only a month previously by a French aviator.

Slight structural alterations since Swain's ascent included the fitting of smaller wheels to diminish weight and head resistance, and removal of the wheel brakes to save weight. Flight-Lieut. Adam's record was preceded by six or seven trial ascents in each of which he climbed to approximately 50,000 feet. That experience proved invaluable on the record flight, made in a gale rising high above the earth to nearly 100 miles an hour and with thick cloud banks hiding landmarks by which he might check his position.

"In the circumstances, the pilot's achievement is outstanding, and deserves to the full the official congratulations on his sustained flying effort," says the aircraft publication.

NAB GIRL HOBO GARBED AS MAN

SASKATOON, July 27—Dorothy Burke, 19, fair and plump, wearing men's overalls and a man's shirt pleaded guilty to vagrancy in police court here. Her request that she ge released so she could take to the open road again was refused while the magistrate ponders what is best for her.

The girl was arrested on a river bank here while cooking meals for male transients. On her last appearance on vagrancy charges in court in Regina she was sentenced to six months in the women's jail in Battleford.

After serving her term money was provided so that she could return to her sister in British Columbia. But Miss Burke was restless and hit the trail back to the prairies.

"You are quite comfortable here," Magistrate J. Brown said when she pleaded for release, "far more so than on the river bank. You are pretty well down and out. I have the responsibility of considering your welfare. I must have time to think it over."

mittee—most of them from among the smaller states—have already communicated their formal acceptance of the British compromise plan, it was reported. The plan was ordered sent to the powers yesterday when Grandi balked Britain's move to send out questionnaires on its principal provisions.

Representatives of the Balkan Entente (Yugoslavia, Rumania, Turkey and Greece) met at the Turkish embassy here to draft the terms of their joint reply accepting the proposals.

Chamberlain and Grandi were closeted together for an hour and a half. While asserting the conversation had been most satisfactory, Italian circles said they could not confirm or deny reports the two had agreed upon a formula capable of solving the impasse.

Usually well-informed British circles asserted, on the other hand, Grandi had requested the appointment merely to take his leave of the British Government head before departing on his summer vacation.

According to this version, Chamberlain and Grandi reviewed the entire diplomatic picture so that the Italian envoy could report the latest British view to Premier Mussolini.

creases and the lobster, mackerel and clam fisheries showing decreases.

Lobsters were fairly plentiful during the last week of June in North Kings and Queens counties but in Prince County the catch was very dispapointing and a great many fishermen in this section landed their traps before the close of the season. The months catch was decreased 406,800 lbs and the landed value decreased $42,665. Extensive preparations were made for cod fishing on that portion of the coast between Cape Wolfe and North Point where the lobster fishing season was changed, but the results were disappointing and the months catch was only 495,400 lbs. greater than that for last June. Herring were reported more plentiful than in last June and a slight increase is noted in the catch of 108,000 lbs. A large portion of the catch was dried for fox food. The mackerel catch was 149,700 lbs greater but these fish were not as plentiful as last June. More hake and cusk were landed, showing an increase in catch of 141,900 lbs. A slight increase of 11,600 lbs is shown in clams.

I regret to have to report that one fishermen lost his life while fishing traps off Seacow Pond.

In the table below is shown the total catch and landed value of all fish taken during the month as well as the catch and landed value of the chief varieties as compared with June 1936.

Elected President Of Barclays Bank

MONTREAL, July 27—(CP)—A. A. Magee of Montreal was elected President of Barclays bank (Canada) at a directors meeting here today in succession to the late Sir Robert Borden.

A statement issued by the bank's secretary after the meeting said "in accepting the presidency Mr. Magee explained that, owing to the fact that his legal practice required his close attention, he would be unable to devote the time and attention to the bank's affairs which would be expected of a President in a permanent way. His acceptance therefore, of the presidency must be considered as a temporary arrangement, pending the appointment of a successor at a later date."

Optimism Is Sweeping Over Newfoundland

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 27 — A feeling of confidence in the future is sweeping Newfoundland, as the long term reconstruction program of the Commission of Government becomes known in greater detail. General opinion from city and outport was that a new era of prosperity was in sight for Brittain's oldest colony.

"Coming as it did on the heels of a budget report showing revenue almost $2,000,000 higher than had been forecast, with the consequent ability to accept a smaller grant-in-aid for the year from the government of Great Britain, announcement of the program under which approximately $8,000,000 will be spent throughout the colony in the next eight or 10 years was received with satisfaction in practically every quarter.

"We have waited three years for such a statement as the Commissioner for Finance gave us in the budget speech," commented the News. "It was for many reasons a message of hope and an inspiration to greater confidence. This speech may well be accepted as a new charter of progress which wipes out past mistakes and restores a full measure of public confidence in the Commission of Government and in the ability to guide us to a new and greater destiny."

The Evening Telegram remarked that "pessimism is of the past, optimism has taken its place. Throughout the speech is struck a note of reliance, not only in the natural resources of the Dominion but in the character and talent of the people to weather this as they have other storms."

Announcement that the British Government would consider the $8,000,000 to be devoted to reconstruction work as a free grant rather than as a loan from the colonial development fund, was received with enthusiasm, as was the statement that a substantial annual contribution to be made to the debt retirement fund would also come as a free grant.

"This is indeed munificient, and should invoke a spontaneous expression of the gratitude of the people of Newfoundland to the government of the United Kingdom," said the News.

"A contribution which is testimony to Britain's generous sentiment toward Newfoundland and an earnest of her intention to restore the Island's prosperity," added the Telegram.

Fishermen May Reap Large Profits In Find

Another report that fishermen of the Maritime Provinces had found a strange substance floating on the water which they thought might be ambergris was current in Miminigash yesterday, and samples of the jelly-like substance have been forwarded to Ottawa for analysis.

Fishermen of North Sydney, N.S. found a mass of floating substance two weeks ago which they believed to be the valuable secretion of the intestines of the sperm whale, but examination by experts at the Nova Scotia capital proved their hopes of a small fortune were unfounded.

Charlie and Tom Costain were overhauling their mackerel trawls at Miminigash over the last weekend when they sighted the large mass of jelly-like substance and hastened to scoop it up with their hands and place it in a basket.

Arthur Bell advised the fishermen they should forward samples of their find to Ottawa for analysis and the verdict of the experts in the federal capital was awaited with interest by residents of Miminigash.

The substance found by the Costains was yellowish in color, and as ambergris was valued at approximately $30 an ounce, the Island fishermen would have run across a small fortune if their find proves to be from a whale.

Rushed To Hospital From Halifax Yacht

(By The Canadian Press)

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., July 27—Gordon Crowell, 23, cook aboard the Halifax yacht Chauve Souris, was rushed to hospital by airplane today when the vessel called at this Cape Cod port to seek medical assistance for the stricken man.

The Chauve Souris, owned by J. H. Winfield, Halifax, and navigated by Commander R. I. Agnew, R.C.N., was on its way to Newport, R.I. with a party to witness the America's Cup races when Crowell became ill.

Winfield communicated with the United States Coast Guard here and a doctor met the ship when she arrived. He ordered Crowell flown to Boston and a Coastguard plane with Lieut. Commander Leamy at the controls made the trip in an hour and 20 minutes.

Crowell was to be operated on tonight at Chelsea Marine Hospital.
