Bluenose Will Be Taken To World's Fair

(Canadian Press) LUNenburg, N. S., March 13.—Under the name Lunenburg Exhibitors, a company was formed today to finance Bluenose's first excursion into fresh water. The intention is to take the champion of the fishing fleets up the St. Lawrence and through the Lakes to the World's Fair at Chicago. It is a commercial proposition. After a two year layoff, except for the matter of trimming Gloucester's Gertrude L. Thebaud in 1931, the Bluenose was going fishing again this spring, but the exhibition chance, her owners felt, would assure a more certain dividend for the shareholders.

Bankers Play Three All Draw

Last evening at the Arena, the Nova Scotia and Royal Bankers clashed in the first game of a two game series, goals to count for the Tiber Trophy, symbolic of supremacy in the Bankers League. The game was hard fought with both teams playing wide open hockey. As the final bell rang the teams were deadlocked with a three all score. The first score came from the stick of Stewart, who soloed down left lane to nestle the puck behind Rice in the nets of the Royals.

CHILDREN PLAY WITH DAZZLING GEMS

MINEOLA, N. Y., March 13.—Long Island police had hopes tonight of recovering the $1,000,000 loot of a notorious jewel thief for whom an unending hunt has been conducted for more than five years—and a lot of other people had a similar idea. Four labourers of the Emergency Relief Committee, digging up the roots of a tree near Lake Ronkonkoma on Long Island about 40 miles from New York, came upon a gold mesh handbag. One of them took it home and gave it to his children. Neighbors saw the youngsters playing with rings, pins and chains set with dazzling gems. A Long Island official heard the story and investigated. Today, while State troopers were guarding the area around the spot where the handbag was dug up, it was disclosed the jewelry was part of the loot of Arthur Barry and "Boston Billy" Monahan, who are serving long sentences for their thefts. Some of the pieces were identified as belonging to John Greenleaf, an architect; to Jesse L. Livermore, Wall Street operator, and to Harry Aaronson, a stock broker, all of whom had been victims of the thieves. The contents of the handbag, valued roughly at $40,000, included 250 diamonds, and a number of sapphires, rubies and amethysts. Expressing hope that part or all the missing jewelry taken by the pair in their many robberies of wealthy homes might be recovered in the same area, officials arranged to have a group of unemployed laborers dig up the section.

Random Reflections

TOMMY LEAVES when Conacher wasn't in action. Finnigan is just about the most adequate shadow in hockey. In any event his sturdy rail work turned the "Cantering" Cooks to the "Confused Cooks". Without a Finnigan to fill in again, the Leafs may register many a miscue along that rail. Maroons and Canadiens have hopes of surviving the first playdowns. The trenches they have to take from present indications are manned by Rangers and Bruins. That makes those series a toss up but they have nothing worse than an even chance, which is all any team wants going in, no matter what they may expect when in action.

Former Athlete

News comes of the passing of William Flood former Abegweit athlete. He was a member of the Abegweit football teams of 1896-7-8-9 and played half-back when the Island squad annexed the Maritime title by defeating the Wanderers, Oct. 19, 1899. He moved to Vancouver about thirty years ago where he has since resided and continued his athletic career, winning honors as an all-round performer.

History Of Cornwall-York Point Women's Institute

(By A Charter Member.) Just one score years ago—early in the year of 1913 at a Farmers' Institute supper held in Cornwall Hall, a group of enthusiastic women put their heads together to form a Women's Institute after the manner of those of Ontario. They enlisted the services of the officers of the Farmers' Institute—the secretary of which was delegated to interview the Hon. Murdoch MacKinnon, Minister of Agriculture, concerning the matter. This was accordingly carried out, and consideration on the part of the department promised—a promise that was immediately made good in securing the services of Mrs. Dunbrack, who had been engaged to act as judge of the Domestic Science exhibit at the Seed Fair, of March 11 to 13 of that year. On the day following the close of the Seed Fair, March 14, Mrs. Dunbrack accompanied by Mrs. Theodore Ross, wife of the Secretary of Agriculture, drove across the ice at North River to Cornwall Hall.

BAKERS WIN Ch'ship Goes To Moncton Hawks

STEWARTS BAKERY 6 BURHOES GROCERY 2 At the Arena Rink last night Stewart's defeated Burhoes in a fast and exciting game of hockey. The first period started fast with Stewart's forcing the play, and Burhoes playing a semi-defensive game. About midway through the period Acorn started the scoring on a nice individual play going clean through Burhoes defense and beating Barrett easily, this was the only score and the period ended, Stewart's 1 Burhoes 0.

The second period started with Burhoes forcing the play, and in less than a minute Jim Lawlor beat Murley nicely with a wing shot unassisted. About two minutes later, Whitlock on a wicket drive from the blue line put his team in the lead, play was then more cautious and at the eight minute mark Stewart's again scored, Stewart carrying from his defence passed to Acorn who in turn passed to Whitlock who beat Barrett for their third goal. This finished the scoring for the period ending, Stewart's 3 Burhoes 1.

The third period began with Burhoes again forcing things and after four minutes of play Stewart's again scored on a nice combination play, Currie carrying from his blue line passed to Stewart at Burhoes defense beating Barrett for the fourth time. Two minutes later Acorn scored unassisted going the full length of the ice, and in less than two minutes the same player finished the scoring for his team. Burhoes then forced things, playing five men forward and gave Murley many anxious moments. M. Bevans scored Burhoes second goal at the eighteen minute mark with a fast shot that beat Murley easily. The game ended with Burhoes still forcing the play but unable to score.

Ron Hudson capably handled the whistle and refereed a satisfactory game. By winning this game Stewart's are entitled to meet R. T. Holman Ltd., for the right to hold the Tip-Top Trophy for another year, and the first of the play-off series will likely be played at the Forum on Wednesday night.

Ruth Still A Holdout

(Associated Press) ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 13.—Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, says he will not compromise in the salary dispute with Babe Ruth, his star slugger, and Ruth insists he will not sign for the $50,000 offered by the club owner. This means no progress has been made in settling the amount to be paid the Babe during '33, although he and Colonel Ruppert were cloistered for 10 minutes prior to the Yankees' workout here today.

Nicklin Clan Defeated Wolverines At Moncton Last Night In Final Game, 4-1 To Take "Big Three" Title—Nucker Irvine A Stand-out Against Former Teammates.

(Canadian Press) MONCTON, March 13.—The Moncton Hawks won the championship of the Maritime "Big Three" Hockey League here tonight by defeating the Halifax Wolverines 4 to 1 in the fifth and final game of the series. In the series which has just been concluded the Hawks won three games, tied one and lost one, and now advance to the finals for the Maritime championship, meeting the Saint John Beavers in the first of a two game series here on Wednesday night, with the second game in Saint John Friday night. Total goals in these two games will decide the title, and the right to advance in the Allan Cup play-downs.

Tonight's game although lacking in a display of championship hockey, except only in flashes, found the Hawks in fine fettle. In the first period they crashed through for two goals, the first shortly after the two minute mark, and the other at 6:15. With a two goal lead, they swung back on a strictly defensive game, relieved the pressure of marauding Wolves with long shots down the ice and occasional one-man sorties into enemy territory.

The Wolverines, fighting with their backs to the wall, snarled and snapped at the Hawks. They sent wave after wave of relentless thrusts into Moncton territory and finally, with less than four minutes to go in the second period, with Lavigne in the penalty box for tripping McDonald, Lawlor picked up Graham's perfect pass at the Moncton defense, coasted in and picked his corner. It was the Wolves' only goal.

In the third period they continued their relentless pressure but lacked the power to crash into scoring position. They played four men on the attack and Moncton capitalized two opportunities to race through on Skeet Kuhn and salt the game and the championship safely away.

It was Bill Miller, big blonde and powerful centre ice man, who opened the scoring. He halted a Halifax thrust at his own blue-line two minutes after the opening play and raced straight down middle ice, crashed his way straight through the defense, after slipping the puck between them, was spun around by the defenseman, and Nucker Irvine, who came streaking in from left wing, shoved the rubber back to him as Skeet Kuhn left his net to block the shot, and Miller deftly poked the disc into the empty cage. Irvine, who was playing with a fractured rib sustained by crashing into the boards in Halifax last Friday night, fell and Graham's skate accidentally struck him a glancing blow on the chin, inflicting a bad cut. Irvine was taken to the dressing room and after being repaired, returned to play again about five minutes later.

Duke McDonald scored the second Moncton goal about four minutes later. He raced down right wing, passed to McManus inside the Halifax defense, and then swooped in to poke the rebound off Kuhn's skate into the cords. The Halifax defense looked bad on both these goals and Kuhn slipped up badly on the first one, misjudging the speed of the racing Irvine.

The Wolverines fought hard to retrieve these two goals but their attacks seemed to lack the power and planning of their thrusts of the last play-off tussle here. The stalwart defensive work of Bill Gill and Walker, turned aside most of these thrusts. They were ably assisted by the forwards who clung tightly to their blue-line.

Then near the close of the second period Lawlor scored for the Wolverines and they came near tying the score on several occasions but the brilliant work of Jimmy Foster in the Moncton nets saved the situation.

It was the last goal of the game and the remainder of the time was spent in relieving the Halifax pressure, getting weaker as the period drew to its finish. "Dud" James almost scored a fifth goal for Moncton, but Kuhn made a clever shot when the lanky centre ace shot from right on top of his bootstraps. Although the Wolverines fought bravely and at times viciously in the early stages of the game, they seemed to wilt as the game went into its final stages. At no time were they the powerful threat of their last appearance here.

Graham, Mosher, Ferguson and Lawlor were the pick of the Wolverines, but Lennon was never in the picture and his weaving rushes lacked power. For the Hawks, Foster, Gill, Miller and McDonald played well and Irvine, with his rushing, racing, daring tactics was a standout. Referee Jerry Denoird handed out eleven penalties, six of them going to the Hawks, Bill Gill drawing three.

A crowd estimated at more than five thousand people watched the game and gave the Hawks a great reception after the game, but the first to congratulate them were members of the Halifax Wolverines.

SUMMARY First Period: 1. Miller (Irvine) 2:08. 2. MacDonald (McManus) 6:15. Penalties: Irvine, Ferguson, Mosher, all 2 minutes. Second Period: 3. Lawlor (Graham) 16:01. Penalties: Shields, Lennon, Gill, Lavigne, all 2 minutes. Third Period: 4. Irvine (Muckle) 9:30. 5. Connolly (unassisted) 14:08. Penalties: Lavigne, James, Gill, Connolly, Gill, all 2 minutes. Stops: Kuhn 5, Foster 16.
