Sir Charles Tupper in a short vigorous letter to the Montreal Star that, in his opinion that journal "is making a serious mistake in attacking the deliberate judgment of the Canadian House of Commons" on the navy question. The Star in an editorial of a column's length defends its position and jocularly charges Sir Charles with supporting his old enemies, "the unspeakable Grits." The present attitude of Sir Charles in London and Sir Hibbert in Victoria, B. C. toward former supporters and opponents is, to say the least interesting.

On the night of Thursday last a child about five months old was left at the door of a barn house in west Devon. It appears that a woman from that section, whose husband has been in the United States for the past two years, and had provided a home for his family, wrote his wife to come to him and bring the family. The woman, thinking that three children would be as many as she could conveniently travel with, decided to leave one at the home. On Friday morning the resident sent a message to Policeman Phillips, Summerside, asking him to detain the mother of the child, but as there were no legal papers, he could not interfere. The mother departed by the Empress on the same morning. In the meantime the abandoned infant is being well cared for.

On Wednesday, Nov 10th, the home of (Russ) and Mrs. Burgoyne, Found's Mills, was the scene of an event of particular interest, it being the wedding of their oldest daughter, Miss Lilla Gertrude, to Lemuel Wood of the same place. A large number of friends and relatives of both bride and groom were present to witness the ceremony, after which all partook of a most sumptuous repast prepared by Mrs. Burgoyne in her usual good style. The bride, who was handsomely attired in a very becoming dress of white silk and wool, was attended by her sister, Miss Susie, while the groom was ably supported by his brother, Lefuta from Elliott's Mills. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry Pierce, at the beginning of which the bride was given away by her uncle, Benjamin Chappell of Summerside. The presents were both numerous and costly, among them being a beautiful fur coat, the gift of the bride's father, Mr. and Mrs. Wood will reside at Found's Mills.

Doctors. Could Not Cure His Dropsy but Dodd's Kidney Pills Cleared it Out Completely.

Maldstone, Sask, Dec. 3.—(Special)—"Cured me completely. That's what Dodd's Kidney Pills did for me." Such is the statement made by Thomas Moon, a well known resident of this place who for two years suffered with Dropsical Swellings brought on by diseased kidneys. "I had pains in the small of my back," Mr. Moon continues, "and across the loins. The swelling commenced first in my leg and gradually got to my body. I tried different doctors but kept getting worse every day until I was swollen up to an awful size. "One doctor sent me to the hospital where I got a little benefit but the swelling soon came back. "Then I used Dodd's Kidney Pills completely. Dropsical Swellings are caused by diseased kidneys failing to take the surplus water out of the blood. Cure the kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills and the Dropsy naturally cures itself.

Two hundred and fifty seven years ago today the Dutch Admiral, Van Tromp, with a fleet of 80 vessels, surprised Admiral Blake with 40 British ships in the Downs, off Dover Strait. The Dutch defeated the English and captured or destroyed six of the English vessels. Thereupon the Dutchman triumphantly sailed up the English Channel with a broom at the masthead to denote that he had swept the English from the seas. Of course the great majority of schoolchildren in this city know of the succeeding events, but if there are any who do not, they will find an exceedingly interesting sequel to the Dutchman's temporary conquest.

A writer from Ottawa to the St. John Telegraph says: "The Prince Edward Island Liberal members lose no opportunity of getting the subject of 'better communication' before the house. 'Judge' Warburton—the old title he is now an M. P.—made a forcible presentation of the case again this week in asking for the papers in possession of the department upon the subject. The Finance Minister, and yet, of course, it was coupled with some reference to cost and engineers reports. There is no doubt this question of 'better communication' must be settled sooner or later. Every Islander of course, says 'Tupper', but the possibility of that has been surely established. Falling this, however, there may be other ways to improve the present inadequate service."

The death occurred in this city yesterday morning of Mrs. (Capt) John McPherson, of Prince Street, the sad event taking place about ten o'clock. Mrs. McPherson had been a great number of friends of the deceased and her family, and though known to Mrs. McPherson had been in delicate health of late, they were not prepared for the distressing announcement of her sudden death. When Mrs. McPherson arose in the morning she was not as well as usual and a doctor was summoned. She recovered somewhat from her supposedly temporary attack, but later she became unconscious and fell suddenly to the floor. Those ensuing shortly after. The people of St. Ann's, Lot 65, witnessed a very pretty event on Tuesday Nov. 23rd, when Thomas A. Costello, an employee of the Telephone Co. Charlottetown, was united in marriage to Miss Agnes Quinn of Summerside. The bride was charmingly attired, and was attended by her sister, Miss Maggie Quinn, who made a very graceful bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by his brother, Louis Costello. After the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Maurice McDonald of the Bishop's Palace, Charlottetown, the happy couple marched from the church greeted with congratulations from the many spectators who thronged the churchyard, and with a steady stream of bride and groom as they passed along. In the meantime some of the thoughtful young folks were at the church gate, with the horses and carriages awaiting them; and when all was ready the joyful little party drove around the neighbouring vicinity, calling upon their choicest friends and treating them in such a manner that indeed could not be considered unworthy of a well high spent when the cheery little company reached the home of the bride where a few lively dances took place including the Wedding-Red, which was very nicely stepped off, music being supplied by the violinist, Pope Costello. A few enjoyable hours were spent with the bride's mother, and then all drove to the groom's home during the wee sma' hours of the morning, when the crowd dispersed and the bride and groom, accompanied by their friends, returned to the home of the bride's mother, where they were met by a large number of friends who were present, and to their future home in Charlottetown.—Com. C. E. L. Jarvis, St. John, Insurance Adjuster for the Maritime Board of Underwriters, came to the City last evening from Souris where he had been appraising the loss by the recent fire there. The loss sustained by the town of Souris can be roughly estimated at about $20,000. J. Hughes & Co being the heaviest losers.

In the Arena Rink last night a small attendance greeted the management who had put on two events, viz: five mile and one mile runs. The night's sport was not so well advertised as former races in this city and this fact, doubtless, was partly responsible for the diminutive size of the audience. But the two races were, in spite of this, good and well worth seeing, and those who were there were not disappointed in their expectations of witnessing something "worth while." The five mile was the first event called and the three starters—Michael Thomas, M. Robertson and Harry Harley, faced the starter about eight thirty-five.

From the first Robertson took the lead which he held for one lap, when he was passed by the Indian. The race was a close one, however, as Robertson again at the front. There were two other changes in the first mile, which the beginning of the next mile was marked by Robertson's taking the lead. Each of the succeeding miles was reeled off regularly with occasional temporary bursts of speed, which for the moment, changed the positions of the runners. The last two miles were run by Robertson in the lead, Thomas and Harley following, and it was not until there was but a half mile of the course left that the speed increased materially, with Robertson then in the lead. From this point he was never headed and though most energetically pushed by Thomas, he came in a winner doing the distance in the good time of 25:57. Harley fell out of the race when but a lap to go, and just at the time when it was necessary for him to exert himself to the utmost. The one mile was called on shortly after and only Robertson and Thomas showed up to compete. The race as led from start by Robertson who led this position for five laps when Thomas decided to try his hand at setting the pace. After three or four more laps Robertson again took to the front, a place he held until the end of the twelfth lap after a start. Evidently he imagined his race was then run and won, and he slowed up and stopped at the first turn. Here he was passed by Thomas and on receiving the warnings of the officials made another start, and a splendid sprint caught up to the Indian, whom he forced to do the distance in four minutes and fifty two seconds. Robertson's friends are saying what would have happened if that's Morley's story.

There died at her home in Murray River, on Nov 1st, 1909, Mrs. Rebecca E. Cook, widow of the late Dr. Francis Cook. She was the fourth daughter of the late Captain David and Mrs. Bears and was born in Cape Canow, N. S., on December 4th, 1831, so was in her 78th year. She was married on August 16th, 1853, to Demas Francis Cook of Guysborough, N. S., and removed to Murray River in 1855, locating at what is now called Gladstone, in the spring of 1857 they moved up near the head of the Murray to a farm where they have since resided. In religion Mrs. Cook was a Baptist, she was baptized by the Rev. D. G. McDonald, the first summer he preached in this locality, and was among the most devoted members of the Murray River Baptists. Nothing was too hard or too much for her to do to advance Christ's cause. Their house was always the Minister's home and many a weary and discouraged minister found there a welcome and a home and it was always without money and without price. She was a good neighbor, always ready to help when needed. During her last illness, which lasted for some months, she was carefully and tenderly cared for by her children and friends. She leaves to mourn one son, T. L. Cook, on the homestead; one daughter, Mrs. Matthew McLeod also of Murray River; one sister, Mrs. John W. Horton of Gladstone; one brother, George W. Bears of Cliffdale, Mass., and a large number of other friends and relatives. At her funeral, which was held in the Baptist Church, a large number of friends and neighbors met to pay a last tribute of respect to one whom they had known and respected her almost a half century before, and her eldest son many years ago. The funeral services were conducted by her Pastor Rev. J. B. Hogan, who preached an eloquent sermon.—Com.

A large number of citizens have the inclemency of the weather to join the Scotchmen in the annual Celebration of St. Andrew's, the Patron Saint of Scotland.

The occasion was made a most happy one—St. Andrew's night is always that when celebrated by the Caledonia Club—and was a social affair. Among those seated on the platform were Lieutenant Governor MacKinnon, Rev. T. F. Fullerton, President Macdonald, Colonel Ogilvie, First Vice President MacKay and Chief Scott.

After bounteous refreshments had been partaken of, a program of songs, recitations and toasts was proceeded with.

President S. A. MacDonald in a neat speech heartily welcomed the visitors to the hall and spoke in a patriotic vein. This was followed by a song—"Mary of Argyle," beautifully rendered by Miss Blanchard, and which called forth an enthusiastic demand for an encore. A Bagpipe solo by Clansman Peter Ferguson was excellently done. Alex. Martin, ex M. P. then rose and replied in a most happy manner to the toast "The Land and the Who Honor It." Miss Lylie Nicholson's Scotch recitation was a splendid effort and was warmly applauded. Little Rita McDonald followed with Highland Dance and her performance, so full of youthful grace, and freedom of movement, was especially pretty and was received with hearty applause. Lieut-Gov. MacKinnon then honored the toast "The Land of the Heather" and made patriotic reference to the Scotchman's birth place.

Roland Kay's song was greatly appreciated and Miss Stewart's solo was a splendid vocal rendition. "The Land We Live In" was responded to by Clansman James McIsaac whose happy remarks were followed by a sweetly rendered song by G. Elmer Ritchie.

A program of dancing followed and it was not until after midnight that those present dispersed, all filled with happy memories of "St. Andrew's Night, 1909."

A life-like photo of Mr. Collett appears at the front of the report and will be readily recognized by his I. O. O. F. brethren in this province who had the pleasure of making his acquaintance during the meetings of the Grand Lodge in this City in 1908.

A correspondent from Caledonia writes:—The farmers at Caledonia are busily engaged in preparing for the winter season, most of the products have been shipped. A number of young farmers at this place and vicinity arrived in Montague Monday to dispose of their sheep. One had as many as seven. Some returned to their homes to enjoy themselves in visiting, while others spent the day in Montague, and arrived home in the wee small hours. A very enjoyable time was spent in the Orange Hall, Monday night last, when the audience was entertained by J. J. Stewart, who with his magic lantern placed on canvas many romantic as well as comic views. The hall was crowded to the doors with eager spectators. After the pictures were all shown, the crowd began going out, the entertainers turned down the lights and the crowd was obliged to retire in darkness. This resulted in the tumbling down of the stove pipe. When the people go to amuse themselves they should be permitted to retire in the light not in darkness. Dan Nicholson, Dawson City, formerly of Caledonia west, is home visiting his mother, Mrs. John D. Nicholson. Angus McLeod, Glen Martin, left here for the 19th for Boston where he intends to spend the winter. Miss Sarah K. Stewart of Pigeon Cove, Mass. is visiting her parents, M. M. and Mrs. Stewart.—Com.

Had a Bad Cough For a Number of Years.

WAS AFRAID OF CONSUMPTION.

Mrs. A. E. Brown, Ottawa, Ont., writes: "I have had a very bad cough every winter for a number of years which I was afraid would turn into consumption. I tried a great many remedies but only received temporary relief until I got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after taking two bottles my cough was cured. I am never without a bottle of Norway Pine Syrup."

Too much stress cannot be laid on the fact that when a person catches cold it must be attended to immediately or serious results may follow.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the medicine you need. It strikes at the foundation of all throat and lung complaints, relieving or curing all Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Asthma, Sore Throat, &c., and preventing Pneumonia and Consumption.

So great has been the success of this wonderful remedy it is only natural that numerous persons have tried to imitate it. Don't be imposed upon but insist on getting "Dr. Wood's."

The Hon. John Richards has disposed of his oyster area, situated between East Bideford and Lennox Island, to a syndicate composed of Mr. Burleigh and the Sharp Bros., Franklin, Shelton and Willard. The reported price of $8000.00 which was paid for it indicates the value of the claim.

The choir rendered excellent service, and good reports were read from the delegate to branch meeting and the secretary. All present enjoyed the meeting and a liberal offering was made for the Fund.

Recommended As An Ideal Remedy

Lloydtown, Ont., March 19th, 1909. "For some years I have been greatly troubled with headaches and indigestion, brought on by stomach disorders, constipation and biliousness. I have tried many remedies with only indifferent success, until 'Fruit-a-tives' came to my notice. Being a general storekeeper, I was selling good many 'Fruit-a-tives' to my customers, and remarking how pleased they were with the results obtained from using 'Fruit-a-tives', I decided to try them and, I might say, the effects were almost magical. Headaches and biliousness disappeared and to-day I recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' to my customers as 'An ideal remedy.' "I might also add that about three years ago I was laid up with LUMBAGO AND SCIATICA—couldn't get out of bed or lift one foot over the other. A good treatment of 'Fruit-a-tives' cured me of these pains and banished the Sciatica and Lumbago so that to-day I am as well as ever and can lift anything necessary." (Signed) W. S. BOND.

The bridge at Stanley had the abutment on the western side washed out and no one crossed on it yesterday. Trees and fences throughout the province fell before the gale but whether any buildings have gone down or not has not been discerned. If the weather moderates this morning the boats of the Steam Navigation Company will cross as usual.
