SUMMERSIDE AGENT.—Mr. Byron MacDonald of the MacDonald Drug Co., is now Guardian representative in Summerside and will be pleased to receive news, advertising, new and renewal subscriptions and Job Printing. Mr. MacDonald sells the Morning Guardian at his store. His Telephone No. is 12-2.

SUCCESSFUL OPERATION.—While in Portland, Me., Mr. Joseph Gaudet, proprietor of the Capitol Theatre, Summerside, who has been handicapped for some time by several of his fingers having contracted in the muscles in such a way that he could not open his hands, underwent an operation in the State Street Hospital on Wednesday. It is pleasing to note that the operation has proved successful and Mr. Gaudet will now have the full use of all his fingers again.

CONVALESCENT.—It is very welcome news to hear that Mrs. J. H. Nantes of Maplewood survived the very serious condition in which she was for some time after the operation in the city Hospital on Sunday March 2nd. On that morning Dr. Boyver of Crapaud was called in to her home to find Mrs. Nantes the victim of a most serious—incurable, most physicians agreed—attack of appendicitis, and ordered her removed immediately to the hospital. When it is considered that she had to drive 20 miles to Charlottetown, over pitches and slues, and on a cold day too, and underwent an operation half an hour after arriving in the city, it speaks volumes for the skill of Drs. McGuigan and Smith, who found Mrs. Nantes in a very alarming state, and entertained very slight hopes for recovery. But thanks to their surgical ingenuity and the care and nursing of the good Sisters and nurses, ably assisted by Dr. Margaret Keegan of New York who had been called home on account of the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Wm. Bradley, and who contributed in no small degree to the convalescence of Mrs. Nantes, she is now out of danger. It is noteworthy that Drs. McGuigan and Smith and Miss Keegan are all natives of Kelly's Cross parish as well as their patient.

ALBERTON HYDRO ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT.—Sir,—There is still some discussion over the electric lighting of Alberton. Some of the council and a few of the citizens insist on having a volt meter connected with the line somewhere between the railway and the Lawson house, and also they say if they get this volt meter reading below 110 volts they will flag the government to find the negligent firm. They also ask will the volt meter improve the light? Why should it as it would be on the wrong end of the line. If these critics would recommend the investment of the money it takes to buy this and stick a few more 40 watts on the town it would improve it and help the lighting plant to give a better light when there is a shortage of water as the light plant is not compelled to supply any standard when handicapped by want of water, as they have agreed to light the town by water power only. Any critic who thinks for himself. It is also currently stated that there is no authority to turn off the current at the time it is impossible to procure 110 volts. Probably the owner of the plant should have the authority but there is no need to worry as his contract with the town will soon expire and that will likely mean an invitation to come to Lennox where you and your light plant will be welcome.—I am, sir, etc., INTERESTED.

AGED RESIDENT DEAD.—The death occurred on March 29th, after an illness of three months, of Mary McEachern, formerly of Monticello, aged sixty-five years. Her funeral took place on March 31st, at St. Margaret's Church. Services at the church and grave being conducted by her pastor Rev. K. C. McPherson.—R. I. P.

HORSE NOTES.—Chief of Police White of Montague has recently disposed of his fast pacing gelding Chieftain Boy to Mr. Wesley Coulston of Lower Montague. A considerable sum changed hands in this transaction, and Mr. Coulston is being heartily congratulated on his purchase. Besides being the direct source of the peace and quietness which Montague has enjoyed during the past few years, and for which the citizens are ever so grateful, our worthy chief is also a sportsman of considerable note, and ranks high among our island horsemen, in fact he is never so happy as when seated on the sulky in a thrilling neck to neck contest as we have seen him on many occasions, invariably winning the contest.—J.

Amendment To The Public School Act

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

Thursday Morning, March 27.

The House in committee on Act to amend the Public School Act, 1920, and amendments thereto with Mr. T. W. Bentley in the chair.

PREMIER STEWART explained the purpose of the bill which was to make provision for realizing school taxes in arrears, on real estate in the various districts. Heretofore there has been no machinery for the purpose of realizing such a tax by sale of land. In 1914 there was an amendment to the previous Act providing that such tax shall be a lien on the land, but there was no provision for realizing on this lien, and the section was comparatively ineffective. When the Act of 1920 was put through both Mr. Stewart and the present leader of the Opposition urged that such a provision be inserted; but there was a great deal of legislation going through that year; the House was in the middle of the Tax Act and deemed that there was not time to withdraw the School Act and propose the necessary amendment. The Premier believed that with the proposed amendment in the Act there will be a remedy available which it would be seldom necessary to exercise. Many farms throughout the Province are now vacant and the owners of the farms are in the United States or elsewhere. They are probably very well able to pay the school tax, but because they are abroad they neglect it, or for some reason do not pay it. This bill provides machinery to realize on these taxes which have been in arrears in many cases.

Section 2 provides that in case it appears to the trustees that parties neglecting or refusing to send their children to school are so poor that it is impossible to collect such assessment from them, the trustees may make a general assessment for the amount of the deduction, or pay it out of the general funds in their hands and provide for same when making the next annual assessment.

Mr. J. H. BUNTAIN cited a case in court where a father who had been paying $5 or $6 for the education of his children, refused to pay that tax in his own district because he was too far away from the school. He sent his children to school in his neighboring district. The judgment given in court was in favor of the defendant. He had the liberty to send his children to that school and the consequence was that he paid no school tax at all. This condition, if it continues, will give a great deal of trouble to the Superintendent of Education. Other people might also apply to have their children educated in neighboring districts. Will the person who has been exempt from the amount paid by his district? Mr. SAUNDERS did not see how a man could possibly get clear of his obligation in his own district, in which he must be a rate-payer.

Mr. DENNIS believed the poor of a district should be provided for by the whole Province, and not by their district, if they are unable to pay their school assessment. This is an unavoidable condition, just as sickness is.

PREMIER STEWART pointed out this reference that in the case of sickness the distinction is clearly drawn, but poverty is a relative term.

Mr. W. TANTON instanced the hardships poor people have to contend with. He was heartily in support of the clause which provided that the school assessment of these people be paid for them.

Section 2 and following sections were passed.

Mr. H. D. McEWEN referred to the difficulty that might arise in determining the proper amount of arrears.

Mr. SAUNDERS said there never had been provisions for taking proceedings against the land. It is a necessary provision and will effect a good remedy. There should be no difficulty in ascertaining the arrears.

After further discussion by Premier Stewart, Mr. Saunders, Mr. McEwen, Hon. J. A. McDonald and others, progress was reported on the bill.

IN MEMORIAM

PARNENAS SMITH

The sad death occurred of Mr. Parnenas Smith on the 28th of February at his home in Pleasant Valley in the 72nd year of his life. The deceased had been in his usual good health until about a month before his death, when he was stricken with heart trouble, which confined him to his home, but with the best of medical skill and tender nursing he was able to be up around the house the last few days of his life feeling quite smart and in his usual good glee. His family had all confidence of his complete recovery until death came suddenly at three o'clock in the morning his spirit passing away to its Maker.

The late Mr. Smith was a man of splendid character, honest and upright in all dealings and was beloved and respected by all who knew him, friend and stranger alike were ever sure of a welcome in his house where his cheery greeting will be sadly missed. He was a prosperous and industrious farmer of the community.

There are left to mourn besides his sorrowing widow, two daughters, Mrs. John D. McKenzie and Mrs. Nell Wadman of Bradalbane and four sons, Neil and Frank in Newton Centre, Mass; Hessel in Winn, Maine and Harry at home and one brother, James of Grandville.

The funeral took place on Monday, March 3rd, at 1.30 p.m. to Frederickton Cemetery. The Rev. O. H. Peters pastor of Pleasant Valley Church officiating. The pall bearers were: James McSwain, Isaac Sharpe, David McLure, Murdock Corbett, Malcolm McLennan and Frank Weeks.

MRS. CATHERINE VANIDERSTINE.

The death occurred in hospital at Boston, Mass., after a short illness of Catherine McLaren, widow of the late Webster Vaniderstine of Forest Hill, P. E. I.

The remains arrived at St. Peter's Bay station on the 20th inst where quite a number of sleighs gathered to meet the train and were taken to her home at Forest Hill.

On the following day the funeral took place and was largely attended by friends and acquaintances coming from far and near to pay a last

Examine Linoleum for Yourself —Then Buy it with Assurance

It is easy to tell genuine Linoleum—the high grade modern floor covering. But if you do not protect yourself by following these simple tests you may easily be fooled.

Always turn over a piece of linoleum or a linoleum rug and make sure that it has genuine burlap backing—all real linoleum has. Then look at the edge—it should have a natural brown tint, much like an ordinary, unused cork.

Nowadays it is well to be careful in buying linoleum, for there are many products on the market that look like it, but which have neither burlap nor cork in their make-up. And if you buy, and do not get real linoleum you will probably be disappointed.

Linoleum is made of cork, oxidized linseed oil, kauri gum and other materials pressed firmly into a backing of strong, tough burlap. The processes used combine to make a floor covering that is very smooth, durable, clean and highly sanitary. For every type of floor it is ideal.

You can buy linoleum by the yard or in the form of rugs, in sizes to suit all rooms. Write us today for rug folder in colors, showing patterns that will please you. Or your nearest house furnishing store will show you the actual patterns of

Eye Examination

Exhaustive research has revealed that at least seven out of ten people need glasses but only three out of ten wear them. That means that about four out of every ten are in need of optical service.

It may be that you are one of the four. An examination of your eyes will readily determine the condition of your eyesight and we earnestly urge you to give serious consideration to the matter of having this examination made.
