PASSING OF MR. G. H. SIMPSON—Sympathy is extended to Dr. J. C. Simpson of Summerside in the death of his father, G. H. Simpson of Bayview who passed away in Vancouver, B. C., recently. Mr. Simpson had been in failing health for some time and went out to Vancouver in January to his brother, Dr. Stewart Simpson. Dr. Simpson visited his father in February and found his condition had not improved. Mr. Simpson was a prominent resident of Bayview. His wife predeceased him some years ago. The body was forwarded to Bayview, P. E. I., for burial. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon. The following family are left to mourn, two daughters, Dora, Mrs. Buntain of Rustico, Mrs. Walter MacKenzie of Springfield; two sons, Dr. J. C. Simpson, Summerside and Mr. Rupert Simpson on the home-stead at Bayview; also his mother, Mrs. Toombs of Mayfield, P. E. I., a sister, Mabel, Mrs. (Rev.) Macintosh and his brother, Dr. Simpson in Vancouver, to whom sympathy is extended.—S.

LADIES AUXILIARY HOLDS TEA—The Ladies Auxiliary of the B. E. S. L. at Summerside held a delightful and successful tea on Nov. 11. The Army where the tea was held was beautifully decorated with flags and bunting, the work being done by Mrs. Jos. Woods, Mrs. R. L. Mollison; also a number of young men from Summerside Academy. The tea tables looked exceptionally beautiful with a centre piece of poppies and fern also lighted tapers. Mrs. Louis Moore and Mrs. Brenton Clark poured. Assisting in service were Mrs. R. E. Ellis, Mrs. L. R. Corney, Mrs. J. J. McNally, Mrs. L. R. Mollison, Mrs. McPhee, Miss Dorothy Pond, Miss G. Nicholson, Miss H. McPhee. Other ladies on the committees were Mrs. Jos. Woods, Mrs. J. E. Hallett, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. S. McAssey, Mrs. A. Brennan. The proceeds from this tea is used for needy ex-service men.

WEDDING BELLS—A quiet autumn wedding took place at the United Church parsonage, North Bedeque, on Saturday, Nov. 13th at 10 a.m. when Elizabeth Addie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Drummond, South Free town, became the bride of James Stanley Biggar, son of the late Charles and Mrs. Emily Biggar, Stanley Bridge. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. J. W. A. Nicholson, North Bedeque. The bride was becomingly gowned in a blue transparent velvet, with hat and shoes to match. After the ceremony Mr. Biggar and his bride left by motor on a trip to New Brunswick, and on the return they had a supper at the bride's former home which was daintily prepared by the bride's mother and sisters, after which a host of friends from Free town and elsewhere gathered to wish them a long and happy life together. Mr. and Mrs. Biggar will make their home in Stanley Bridge, where the groom is a prosperous farmer. Previous to her marriage the bride was guest of honor at a shower given to her at her home by her many relatives and friends, at which she received many costly and useful gifts.

Alberton Fox Show Is Opened

The Alberton Fox Show was opened yesterday under very poor weather conditions. Owing to the weather no official opening was held nor speeches made. The entries however reached almost the 300 hundred mark with the lighter classes predominating. Entries in the light silver and pale silver averaged 22 to 24 in each section whereas the darker classes were not so well filled. The quality was on the average very good. Four of the classes were judged yesterday and the remainder as well as the championships will be judged today. Mr. Clifford Rogers and Mr. Brenton Clark are the judges and expressed satisfaction at the number of entries and quality of the foxes. Mr. A. W. O'Brien expressed regret that the weather had kept many speakers away but congratulated the exhibitors on their exhibits and thanked them for the cooperation they had given the directors.

"Pleasure Cruise" Presented At S'side

A packed house in the High School Auditorium had the pleasure on Monday evening of witnessing the performance of "Pleasure Cruise" as presented by Professor Harry E. Gomez and Mr. Harry E. Porter of Charlottetown, with their cast of 125 performers. They were supported by Professor Gomez's orchestra. Mr. Tex Cochrane added much to the evening's entertainment with his wonderful rendition of his well known cowboy songs, with his own accompaniment on the guitar. The play which was staged on the good ship "Eureka" on a pleasure cruise to Honolulu with a swing and the snappy sailor songs and quick repartee of the passengers left not a dull moment. The last scene at Hawaii was a masterpiece and received well merited applause. Following is the cast of characters:—

Death Of Rev. McGuigan

Cathedral, Montreal. The young priest then returned to his native province and was appointed assistant priest to the Rev. J. J. McDonald, Kinkora, who was unwell at the time.
After three months work at Kinkora Father McGuigan was transferred to St. Mary's Church, Sturgeon, during the six months' absence of the regular pastor, the Rev. William Phelan. After his work at Sturgeon Father McGuigan labored for about 14 months in Charlottetown as assistant priest at St. Dunstan's Cathedral. In October 1899 he went as assistant priest to the Rev. L. J. McDonald of St. Patrick's, Lot 40, where he remained until April 1900 when he was transferred to Summerside. There he acted in the capacity of parish priest for the two parishes of Summerside and Miscouche in the absence of their respective pastors, the Rev. D. J. G. McDonald and the Rev. J. A. McDonald.
In October 1900, following a short term as assistant to the Rev. Monsignor James McDonald, V.C., at St. Andrews, Father McGuigan was appointed parish priest at St. Bonaventure's Church, Tracadie. The appointment was in appreciation of valuable assistance rendered and as a fitting acknowledgement of Father McGuigan's prudence and ability. He had charge also of the outlying missions, St. Michael's, Corran Ban, and St. Eugene's, Covehead.
After thirteen years labor in the Tracadie parish Father McGuigan was transferred to Vernon River where he had labored since endeavoring himself to his parishioners as he had in his other fields of labor. He was a man of forceful individuality, broad learning and "deep piety" and enjoyed the confidence and respect of all, irrespective of class or creed.
In addition to his church work Father McGuigan took a keen interest in agriculture and was president of the Central Seed Fair about 25 years ago.
Surviving of a family of twelve are two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Walsh, Hope River, and Mrs. James Kelly, Roxbury, Mass. His Excellency Archbishop J. C. McGuigan of Toronto, the Rev. J. A. Murphy, D.D., Rector of St. Dunstan's University, the Rev. P. Walsh, Parish Priest at Palmer Road, and Dr. M. A. McGuigan of Charlottetown are nephews.
Last night the remains were taken from Frank Hennessey's Funeral Home to St. Dunstan's Basilica where they were received by His Excellency, the Right Rev. J. A. O'Sullivan, Bishop of Charlottetown. As the body entered the Basilica the male choir sang "Miserere Mei" after which the office of the dead was chanted. The pallbearers were: Messrs. H. P. McPhee, Hon. M. R. McGuigan, J. J. Duffy, P. J. Rossitor, Leo McDonald, and E. J. H. Morrissey. Pontifical High Mass of Requiem will be celebrated by His Excellency Bishop O'Sullivan this morning at 10 o'clock and at 2:45 this afternoon the remains will be taken to Vernon River where they will lie in state until Friday morning when the funeral mass will be celebrated. It was not known definitely last night whether Archbishop McGuigan would be present at the funeral.

wig's father a week ago. The tragedy which left Ludwig the only surviving male member of his branch of the family also cast a pall about Buckingham Palace where King Leopold of Belgium was a guest at a state banquet of King George VI.
The Grand Duke's wedding party boarded the plane at Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Germany. The liner did not make a scheduled stop at Brussels because of the fog, continuing 50 miles to Ostend, on the North Sea.
Eyewitnesses said the plane struck a chimney in attempting to land at Steene Airport on the outskirts of Ostend. One wing was torn off and the crippled ship crashed 300 yards away with a violent explosion, followed by flames.
Visibility was only 250 yards and there was a ceiling of only 160 feet when the crash occurred.

escape to the rocky ledge 25 feet away.
The seven hours on the ledge before they were taken off by George Harnish of Dover, N. S., and his two sons, were hours of misery, the men said. It was high tide when they landed, and the waves were breaking over them, drenching them to the skin. Rain came down in torrents, whipped by a bitter east wind.
Finally Harnish, who had seen distress signals set off when the ship first struck, approached the reef in his fishing boat. Unable to run close to it for fear of pounding his craft to pieces, he dropped a dory, and took the shipwrecked crew off two at a time.

Great Britain Is Aiming At Self-sufficiency

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 16 — Aiming at self-sufficiency, Great Britain is growing more wheat, increasing its herd of dairy cattle and producing more sheep and poultry. Dr. W. J. Black, director of colonization and agriculture for the Canadian National Railways, said today on his return from a short business trip to the United Kingdom. "I was much impressed," he said, "with the new orientation of agriculture in England and Scotland. The English farmers are encouraged by their government to grow more wheat. A few years ago, the government offered to pay them a premium over a certain price. While this advantage does not apply now, with prices above the minimum, still the tendency to grow wheat remains."
To satisfy the greater demand for milk, Dr. Black said, herds of dairy cattle are being enlarged all over the country. He did not, however, see an opening for Canadian beef. The price of beef in England was not sufficiently high above Canada's price to justify shipping steers from the Dominion. The market was likely to be closed for some years yet.
"I noticed a tremendous increase in the number of sheep raised in Scotland," he added, "and in both England and Scotland a great deal more poultry is being raised. Apparently, Great Britain is aiming at more self-sufficiency in agriculture. This is a condition which appears to be quite general all over Europe, a result of the numerous trade barriers which have been erected since the war."
This was only one factor, however, Dr. Black said, there was certainly encouragement for agriculture in the fact that more large estates were being divided and opened to cultivation. On the other hand, the new tendencies were checked somewhat by the lack of people to work the farms. In spite of the keen demand for farm laborers and the good wages the number of hands available for agricultural development appeared to be quite limited.
"The normal market in England for Canadian cheese and butter remains quite undisturbed," Dr. Black observed. "There is also great demand for Canadian apples as for Canadian bacon, at fair prices."

FIGHT INSECTS

FREDERICTON — The battle of science against destructive pests was fought intensively in New Brunswick this year by the forest insect division of the Dominion entomological laboratory here. Numerous parasites were liberated in the experimental stage.
