

CAN'T THINK?

Constipation causes all kinds of misery. Clear it up by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly. It supplies natural "bulk." You need it. Try it!

Keep regular with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

The Central Guardian

NOTICE—Dr. Dewar's office is still at 98 Prince St. His residence is at the Regent 58 Great George Street. L-2201.

SEIZE LIQUOR

Mounted Police seized a gallon and a half of liquor in a house on Richmond Street last night. Court action will follow, they said.

CARS ARE DAMAGED

Two cars were damaged but the occupants escaped serious injury in a collision on the pavement near Hunter River last night.

SAILS WITH CARGO

With every available foot of space taken, above and below decks, with cattle, swine, produce, etc., the schooner "Mary Pauline", Capt. Thomas Hardy sailed yesterday morning at 5 o'clock for St. Pierre, Mig. The cargo was bought in the Province by the firm of Guthrie Bros.

JOURNALIST VISITING HERE

Mr. Wm. J. Pitts, journalist of Toronto, is visiting the Island after an absence of thirty-three years. Mr. Pitts is a nephew of the late James Reddin of Charlottetown. While here he is the guest of Mrs. L. J. Reddin, Southport. He has observed many improvements in the Island, and is particularly pleased to enjoy again the delightful red and green colors of our scenery.

DELEGATES TO PRESBYTERIAL

Mrs. J. G. Jamieson and Miss Mary Irving are the delegates appointed by the St. James' Woman's Missionary Society to attend the annual meeting of the P. E. I. Presbyterian to be held at Murray Harbor South Presbyterian Church on Friday, July 2nd. The Woman's Missionary Society of Zion Church will be represented by Mrs. Aubrey White and Miss Ida MacDougall.

Personals

Misses Margaret and Mildred Walsh arrived home Monday night from Cambridge, Mass.

Misses Anna King, Dorothy Rowe and Adeline King, Boston, Mass., are visiting friends and relatives at Tracadie and vicinity.

Rev. J. M. Kik of Dalhousie, New Brunswick, is expected to arrive in the province this week to attend his vacation of one month. While here he expects to conduct a series of meetings in the Central Parish.

British Prisons Broaden Reforms

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 29—Reforms, extending wider privileges and more humane treatment to convicts in some of the smaller prisons in the British Isles, have proved so successful they will be introduced in the more populous prisons at Dartmoor, Chelmsford and Parkhurst.

In announcing the experiment, the new Home Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, said among the chief innovations would be the right of a prisoner to receive wages during his incarceration and to spend the income on luxuries such as cigarettes and tobacco. Hitherto prisoners in the larger jails have not been allowed to use tobacco until after serving three years of a sentence and then only if their conduct has been without blemish.

There were two possible ways of dealing with the problem of the young prisoner, Sir Samuel said. One was the method of making prison life so unattractive and discipline so rigid and the conditions so inhuman he would be deterred by the risk of going back. In theory it might appear an effective way of keeping a young man out of prison. In actual practice it had not succeeded. Indeed, the more humane prison administration had become the lower had been the number of habitual criminals.

Sir Samuel alluded to an experiment of greater freedom at the large prison in Wakefield. There, between 400 and 500 selected prisoners carried on their work in the open without guards and slept at night in a hut. More recently the method had been given the right to associate and talk freely, to smoke, read newspapers and avail themselves of a wide range of vocational training.

The camp has been in existence for more than a year without an untoward incident.

senault, Velma Buell, Constance Cook, Edwin Cook, Walter Craig, Ruby Cudmore, Doreen Diamond, Margaret Dore, Betty Hamm, Eileen Johnson, Isabel MacDonald, Kathleen MacFarlane, Helen MacKinnon, Everett Nicholson, Joyce Riggs, Edera Rodd, Yvonne Ross, Elaine Saunders, Freddie Saunders, Elvin Sherren, Blair Swan, Zaida Turner, Junior Rodd, Edson Vanderstine.

MISS FULLERTON

Certificates of Merit—1st Alvina Carr; 2nd Elizabeth Prowse; 3rd Myrtle McLeod; 4th Laura Hawkins; 5th Betty Beer.

Prizes for Proficiency—1st Alvina Carr; 2nd Elizabeth Prowse; 3rd Myrtle McLeod; 4th Laura Hawkins; 5th Betty Beer; 6th Billy Jenkins; 7th Richard Hurst.

Attendance—Marjorie Huestis, 1 year; Richard Hurst, 1 year; June Campbell, 2 years; Josie Larter, 2 years; George McInnis, 2 years; Myrtle McLeod, 3 years; David Tweel, 3 years.

MISS LANGILL

1 George MacDonald, 2 Beryl MacDonald, 3 Harold Jenkins, 4 Margaret MacLennan, 5 Donald Irvine.

Attendance Certificates—Ruby Larter, 4 years; Linda Larter, 2 years; Beryl MacDonald, 1 year; Donald Irvine, 1 year.

Prize List—1st for General Proficiency—George MacDonald; 2nd for General Proficiency—Beryl MacDonald; 3rd for General Proficiency—Harold Jenkins; 4th for General Proficiency—Margaret MacLennan; 5th for General Proficiency—Donald Irvine; Special prize for Writing—Shirley Ferguson.

GRADE III—MISS WEEKS

Certificates of Merit—1 Barbara Pickard, 2 Joan Taylor and Marjorie West; 3 Ruby Downe; 4 Windsor Brehaut; 5 Betty King.

Certificates of Attendance—Barbara Pickard, 2 years; Betty King, 2 years; Veida Larter, 2 years; Betty Ford, 2 years.

Prizes for Proficiency—1 Barbara Pickard, 2 Joan Taylor and Marjorie West; 3 Ruby Downe; 4 Windsor Brehaut; 5 Betty King.

GRADE III—O. TOOMBS

Certificates of Merit—1st George Brown; 2nd Marjorie Cook; 3rd Arthur Coffin; 4th Louis Howatt; 5th Ruby Wakelin and Lyle Farquharson.

Prizes—First prize for General Proficiency, George Brown; Second prize for General Proficiency, Marjorie Cook; Third prize for General Proficiency, Arthur Coffin; Fourth prize for General Proficiency, Louis Howatt; Fifth prize for General Proficiency, Ruby Wakelin and Lyle Farquharson.

GRADE II—RUTH STEWART

Certificates of Merit—1 Marjorie MacLean; 2 Billie Howatt; 3 Walter Conard; 4 Roy Dougan; 5 Donald Tinney.

Certificates for Attendance—Mary Henderson, Elaine Hillier, Jackie Cairns.

Prizes for Proficiency—1 Marjorie MacLean; 2 Billie Howatt; 3 Walter Conard; 4 Roy Dougan; 5 Donald Tinney.

Prize for having most gold stars—Marjorie MacLean.

GRADE II—J. MACDONALD

Certificates of Merit—1 Carmen Smith; 2 Mildred Cudmore; 3 Douglas Pierce; 4 Ruby Vanderstine; 5 Lena Carr.

Attendance Certificates—Roger Chandler, 1 year; Carmen Smith, 1 year.

Prizes for General Proficiency—1 Carmen Smith; 2 Mildred Cudmore; 3 Douglas Pierce; 4 Ruby Vanderstine; 5 Lena Carr.

GRADE I—MARJORIE FRASER

Prizes for Proficiency—Eders Rodd, Velma Buell.

Prizes for Reading—Zelda Turner, Betty Hamm.

Prize for Arithmetic—Constance Cook.

Prize for Spelling—Freddie Saunders.

Attendance Certificate—Elmer Saunders, 1 year.

Grading Certificates—James Alchorn, Alfred Anderson, Minnie Ar-

GRADE I—ALICE FRASER

Prizes for General Proficiency—Marjorie MacPherson, Jane Johnson and Margaret MacDonald.

Prize for Arithmetic—Alfred Larter.

Prize for Reading—Ronny Gomez.

Prize for Spelling—Phyllis Burhoe.

Attendance Certificates—Deborah Carmody, Laura King, and Edith MacLeod.

Grading Certificates (Alphabetical Order)—Shirley Biso, Phyllis Burhoe, Lea Cameron, Margaret Carmody, Earle Carmody, Debra Coffin, Noreen Connolly, Pauline Donovan, Jon Fowler, Connie Glasco, Ronny Gomez, George Gratto, Muriel Hastings, Jimmie Hawkins, Joyce Johnstone, Laura King, Alfred Larter, Allison Larter, Dewar Larter, Margaret MacDonald, Richard MacDonald, Edith MacLeod, Stanley MacNair, Marjorie MacPherson, Aletha Pound, Paula Rayfield, Jack Sherren.

GRADE I—GENERAL FRASER

LONDON, June 29—(CP)—There has been a definite reduction in pollution of the atmosphere of Great Britain during the last 20 years. This is the conclusion reached in the 22nd report of the investigation of atmospheric mixture issued by the department of scientific and industrial research which deals with measurements carried out by 72 municipal and other bodies co-operating with the department in this work.

In the present report, some of which goes back to 1915, is analyzed. The results indicate definite progress for the belief that the smoke abatement movement has had a real effect. The figures are given for various impurities deposited, and in certain cases, show a small increase in the pollution during the last two years, a fact easily accounted for, the report suggests, by increased industrial activity.

Delightful Violin Recital Last Evening

A delightful violin recital by pupils of Miss Kathleen Hornby was held last evening at the Holy Redeemer Hall. All the pupils were heard to good advantage but perhaps special mention should be made of the performance by the junior string orchestra composed of Beryl MacDonald and Marion Punter, first violins; Carol Marie Coles, second violin; Florence Blanchard and Bethany MacDonal, third violins; Arleigh Coles, cello; and Mary Bentley, piano. The orchestra was heard in three selections—"Rock-A-Bye-Baby", "Baa! Baa! Black Sheep", and "Polly Put the Kettle On". Other selections that came in for special notice were "Mother"—Morse; "Pollo Con Variazioni"—Corelli and "Zigeunerweisen"—Sarasate.

A pleasing event of the evening was the presentation of a beautiful gift to Miss Hornby by her pupils.

Prize winners for the year were:

Theory—Primary Grade—1. Betty May Randall. Elementary Grade—1. Carol Marie Coles and Bethany MacDonal. Junior Grade—1. Freda Hennessey; 2. Florence Blanchard. Intermediate Grade—1. Marion Punter; 2. Francis MacNeil. Senior Grade "A"—1. Beryl MacDonald; 2. Benny Walsh. Senior Grade "B"—1. Nellie Hermans; Elinor MacDonald, Helen Farquharson; 2. Josephine Leightizer. Violin, Senior Grade—1. Carolyn Kenny and Ralph Raynor; 2. Earl Jones. Cello, Junior Grade—1. Arleigh Coles.

Special prize for the most progress for the year—Nicholas Kays. The program follows:

Part I.
O Canada (Lavale)—Orchestra. The Violet (Smith)—Betty May Randall (age 4 years). The Pony Race (Krogman)—Bethany MacDonal (age 6 years). The March Polonka (Krogman)—Carol Marie Coles (age 5 years). Love's Old Sweet Song, violin solo—Beryl MacDonald; orchestra—(a) Lullaby, (b) Merry Dances (Franklin)—Florence Blanchard. The Mandolins (Franklin)—Freda Hennessey. Simple Aveu (Thome)—Benny Walsh. Mother (Morse)—M. Carol Marie; O. Berta T. Florence; H. Marion; E. Bethany; R. Betty May; vocal solo, Shirley Hooper; orchestra. Yellow Jonquils (Johanning)—Francis Michael. Amaryllis (Ghyse)—Marion Punter.

Part II.
(a) Rock-A-Bye-Baby (Canning) (b) Baa! Baa! Black Sheep; (c) Polly Put the Kettle On—Junior String Orchestra, first violins, Beryl MacDonald, Marion Punter; second violin, Carol Marie Coles; third violins, Florence Blanchard, Bethany MacDonal; cello, Arleigh Coles; piano, Mary Bentley. Minuet l'Antique (Paderewski)—Beryl MacDonald. Two Guitars (Russian Gypsy Folk Song)—Nicholas Kays. Londoner's Air (arr. by Kreisler)—Josephine Leightizer. Gavotte: from "Iphigenia in Aulis" (Gluck)—orchestra. Dancing Doll (Poldini)—Helen Farquharson. Nocturne (Chopin)—Elinor MacDonald. Benedictus (McKenzie)—Nellie Hermans. March Militaire (Schubert)—orchestra. Hungarian Dance No. V. (Brahms)—Earl Jones. Allegro Brillant (Ten Have)—Helen Wood. The Son of the Buddha (Bela)—(Hungarian Idyl)—Bill Rogers. Folia Con Variazioni (Corelli): (theme with variations)—Ralph Raynor. Zigeunerweisen (Sarasate): (Gypsy Airs)—Carol Marie Coles. Till We Meet Again (Whiting)—violin solo, Earl Jones; orchestra. God Save the King.

RENOVATION S TO LAW COURTS BLDG. PLANNED

Extensive Interior Changes Contemplated—$15,000 Voted For Work.

Tenders have been called for extensive renovations to the Queen's County Law Courts Building in Charlottetown for which $15,000 was voted at the last session of the Provincial Legislature.

The exterior of the building, except for changes in a few windows to conform with interior alterations, will remain as it is. On the first floor and to the right of the main west entrance will be the sheriff's office. The office will be moved to the east end of the building and put in the place of the Probate Court chambers which in turn will be moved directly across the hall to the office of Judge Saunders. The Probate office will remain where it is. The vaults in connection with this office will be extended to the basement. The library on the first floor will remain where it is and will be slightly enlarged.

It is on the second floor, however, that the greatest changes are contemplated. Along the south side of the present court room the plans call for three offices. Judge Saunders will occupy the one on the east end; next will be the Barristers' room and along side that the witness room. Judge Duffy's office will remain where it is as will also Judge Aesop's office in the south east corner of the second floor. The chamber of the Chief Justice will be across the hall in the north east corner of the building where the barristers' room is at present. The court stenographer's office will be on the north side of the building, between the office of the Chief Justice and the court room.

On the third floor it is planned to have several offices which will include grand jury and petite jury rooms. There will be no offices above the court room where the ceiling will be higher than in the adjoining offices on the second floor.

Mr. J. M. Hunter, Charlottetown, is the architect.

May Parade In Human Anatomy

(By The Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, June 29—Visitors to the World's Fair of 1939 may enter a huge model of the human eye, move levers to adjust the pupil and see the world as it appears to a cross-eyed person or as it appears to persons suffering other eye disorders.

A "human replica" of the human eye is another attraction. "It is planned that visitors may walk about just over the globe and then venture back toward the large aperture through which passes the breath on its way to the lungs and food as it goes stomachward," says an advance notice of the fair. The model of the human skeleton may be mechanically adjusted and opened at its hands and bend its arms while the "voice of the skeleton" explains what is taking place.

Stevenson-Roach Nuptials

St Paul's Church in Rothesay, banked with pink and white peonies and greenery, was a charming setting for a wedding on Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, of Miss Orlo Roach, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Roach, First River side, and Charles Stuart Stevenson, son of St. John's. James H. Stevenson of St. John's, general secretary of the Presbyterian Church of England, said at the quadrennial council of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches today.

"The problem demands not simply repressive action," he said in presenting the report on Sabbath schools and youth, "but also more serious consideration than has hitherto been given to adequate and positive Christian teaching and leadership."

In the "increasing state control of the rising generation," Dr. Emslie found another cause for Christian concern. "In China and the United States," he reported, "voluntary and cultural type are receiving government approval, if not active support. On the other hand, state and secular control of youth organizations is notorious in Russia, Germany, Italy, Mexico and Japan, while a similar tendency is clearly marked in Bulgaria, Denmark and Estonia."

Even in Britain, the London clergyman said, "the anxiety of 'In Britain,' he said, "the praiseworthy efforts being made to strengthen the activities of many organizations dealing with week night activities of young people may yet react adversely upon the church, unless due regard is had to the spiritual basis of such work."

Rev. Dr. James E. Clarke of Nashville, Tenn., paid tribute to the United Church of Canada and to the Presbyterian Church in Canada in his report on Christian education, made in behalf of the western section.

"It is important to observe that Canadian churches report that not only in church colleges, but in the universities and among public school authorities, recognition of the essential place of religion in education is to be found. Judging from these reports it appears Canada is leading United States in this respect."

Church Influence Has Royal Trend

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 29—One of the "royalists" which made the Empire teaching and work of the Church of England, declared Archbishop A. J. DePencier, of New Westminster, at a meeting here of the British Columbia and Yukon Church Aid Society.

The position of the church, he said, was emphasized in the Coronation service. By the interchange of ideas and by the visits of officials in England, the church in British Columbia had profited. The Society's theological college had been a benefit to every province in Canada and this had been made possible through the co-operation of friends in England.

Dr. A. F. Winnington-Ingram, Bishop of London, presiding, said the Society had existed 25 years and Canada deserved congratulations on the splendid way it had responded to appeals which had

Warns Gambling Menacing Youth

MONTREAL, June 29—(CP)—Lowering of moral standards "revealed in the widespread craze for gambling, has created a serious situation," Rev. W. T. Emslie of London, general secretary of the Presbyterian Church of England, said at the quadrennial council of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches today.

"The problem demands not simply repressive action," he said in presenting the report on Sabbath schools and youth, "but also more serious consideration than has hitherto been given to adequate and positive Christian teaching and leadership."

In the "increasing state control of the rising generation," Dr. Emslie found another cause for Christian concern. "In China and the United States," he reported, "voluntary and cultural type are receiving government approval, if not active support. On the other hand, state and secular control of youth organizations is notorious in Russia, Germany, Italy, Mexico and Japan, while a similar tendency is clearly marked in Bulgaria, Denmark and Estonia."

Even in Britain, the London clergyman said, "the anxiety of 'In Britain,' he said, "the praiseworthy efforts being made to strengthen the activities of many organizations dealing with week night activities of young people may yet react adversely upon the church, unless due regard is had to the spiritual basis of such work."

Rev. Dr. James E. Clarke of Nashville, Tenn., paid tribute to the United Church of Canada and to the Presbyterian Church in Canada in his report on Christian education, made in behalf of the western section.

"It is important to observe that Canadian churches report that not only in church colleges, but in the universities and among public school authorities, recognition of the essential place of religion in education is to be found. Judging from these reports it appears Canada is leading United States in this respect."

British Prisons Broaden Reforms

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 29—Reforms, extending wider privileges and more humane treatment to convicts in some of the smaller prisons in the British Isles, have proved so successful they will be introduced in the more populous prisons at Dartmoor, Chelmsford and Parkhurst.

In announcing the experiment, the new Home Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, said among the chief innovations would be the right of a prisoner to receive wages during his incarceration and to spend the income on luxuries such as cigarettes and tobacco. Hitherto prisoners in the larger jails have not been allowed to use tobacco until after serving three years of a sentence and then only if their conduct has been without blemish.

There were two possible ways of dealing with the problem of the young prisoner, Sir Samuel said. One was the method of making prison life so unattractive and discipline so rigid and the conditions so inhuman he would be deterred by the risk of going back. In theory it might appear an effective way of keeping a young man out of prison. In actual practice it had not succeeded. Indeed, the more humane prison administration had become the lower had been the number of habitual criminals.

Sir Samuel alluded to an experiment of greater freedom at the large prison in Wakefield. There, between 400 and 500 selected prisoners carried on their work in the open without guards and slept at night in a hut. More recently the method had been given the right to associate and talk freely, to smoke, read newspapers and avail themselves of a wide range of vocational training.

The camp has been in existence for more than a year without an untoward incident.

senault, Velma Buell, Constance Cook, Edwin Cook, Walter Craig, Ruby Cudmore, Doreen Diamond, Margaret Dore, Betty Hamm, Eileen Johnson, Isabel MacDonald, Kathleen MacFarlane, Helen MacKinnon, Everett Nicholson, Joyce Riggs, Edera Rodd, Yvonne Ross, Elaine Saunders, Freddie Saunders, Elvin Sherren, Blair Swan, Zaida Turner, Junior Rodd, Edson Vanderstine.

British Prisons Broaden Reforms

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 29—Reforms, extending wider privileges and more humane treatment to convicts in some of the smaller prisons in the British Isles, have proved so successful they will be introduced in the more populous prisons at Dartmoor, Chelmsford and Parkhurst.

In announcing the experiment, the new Home Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, said among the chief innovations would be the right of a prisoner to receive wages during his incarceration and to spend the income on luxuries such as cigarettes and tobacco. Hitherto prisoners in the larger jails have not been allowed to use tobacco until after serving three years of a sentence and then only if their conduct has been without blemish.

There were two possible ways of dealing with the problem of the young prisoner, Sir Samuel said. One was the method of making prison life so unattractive and discipline so rigid and the conditions so inhuman he would be deterred by the risk of going back. In theory it might appear an effective way of keeping a young man out of prison. In actual practice it had not succeeded. Indeed, the more humane prison administration had become the lower had been the number of habitual criminals.

Sir Samuel alluded to an experiment of greater freedom at the large prison in Wakefield. There, between 400 and 500 selected prisoners carried on their work in the open without guards and slept at night in a hut. More recently the method had been given the right to associate and talk freely, to smoke, read newspapers and avail themselves of a wide range of vocational training.

The camp has been in existence for more than a year without an untoward incident.

senault, Velma Buell, Constance Cook, Edwin Cook, Walter Craig, Ruby Cudmore, Doreen Diamond, Margaret Dore, Betty Hamm, Eileen Johnson, Isabel MacDonald, Kathleen MacFarlane, Helen MacKinnon, Everett Nicholson, Joyce Riggs, Edera Rodd, Yvonne Ross, Elaine Saunders, Freddie Saunders, Elvin Sherren, Blair Swan, Zaida Turner, Junior Rodd, Edson Vanderstine.

British Prisons Broaden Reforms

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 29—Reforms, extending wider privileges and more humane treatment to convicts in some of the smaller prisons in the British Isles, have proved so successful they will be introduced in the more populous prisons at Dartmoor, Chelmsford and Parkhurst.

In announcing the experiment, the new Home Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, said among the chief innovations would be the right of a prisoner to receive wages during his incarceration and to spend the income on luxuries such as cigarettes and tobacco. Hitherto prisoners in the larger jails have not been allowed to use tobacco until after serving three years of a sentence and then only if their conduct has been without blemish.

There were two possible ways of dealing with the problem of the young prisoner, Sir Samuel said. One was the method of making prison life so unattractive and discipline so rigid and the conditions so inhuman he would be deterred by the risk of going back. In theory it might appear an effective way of keeping a young man out of prison. In actual practice it had not succeeded. Indeed, the more humane prison administration had become the lower had been the number of habitual criminals.

Sir Samuel alluded to an experiment of greater freedom at the large prison in Wakefield. There, between 400 and 500 selected prisoners carried on their work in the open without guards and slept at night in a hut. More recently the method had been given the right to associate and talk freely, to smoke, read newspapers and avail themselves of a wide range of vocational training.

The camp has been in existence for more than a year without an untoward incident.

senault, Velma Buell, Constance Cook, Edwin Cook, Walter Craig, Ruby Cudmore, Doreen Diamond, Margaret Dore, Betty Hamm, Eileen Johnson, Isabel MacDonald, Kathleen MacFarlane, Helen MacKinnon, Everett Nicholson, Joyce Riggs, Edera Rodd, Yvonne Ross, Elaine Saunders, Freddie Saunders, Elvin Sherren, Blair Swan, Zaida Turner, Junior Rodd, Edson Vanderstine.

British Prisons Broaden Reforms

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 29—Reforms, extending wider privileges and more humane treatment to convicts in some of the smaller prisons in the British Isles, have proved so successful they will be introduced in the more populous prisons at Dartmoor, Chelmsford and Parkhurst.

In announcing the experiment, the new Home Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, said among the chief innovations would be the right of a prisoner to receive wages during his incarceration and to spend the income on luxuries such as cigarettes and tobacco. Hitherto prisoners in the larger jails have not been allowed to use tobacco until after serving three years of a sentence and then only if their conduct has been without blemish.

There were two possible ways of dealing with the problem of the young prisoner, Sir Samuel said. One was the method of making prison life so unattractive and discipline so rigid and the conditions so inhuman he would be deterred by the risk of going back. In theory it might appear an effective way of keeping a young man out of prison. In actual practice it had not succeeded. Indeed, the more humane prison administration had become the lower had been the number of habitual criminals.

Sir Samuel alluded to an experiment of greater freedom at the large prison in Wakefield. There, between 400 and 500 selected prisoners carried on their work in the open without guards and slept at night in a hut. More recently the method had been given the right to associate and talk freely, to smoke, read newspapers and avail themselves of a wide range of vocational training.

The camp has been in existence for more than a year without an untoward incident.

senault, Velma Buell, Constance Cook, Edwin Cook, Walter Craig, Ruby Cudmore, Doreen Diamond, Margaret Dore, Betty Hamm, Eileen Johnson, Isabel MacDonald, Kathleen MacFarlane, Helen MacKinnon, Everett Nicholson, Joyce Riggs, Edera Rodd, Yvonne Ross, Elaine Saunders, Freddie Saunders, Elvin Sherren, Blair Swan, Zaida Turner, Junior Rodd, Edson Vanderstine.

British Prisons Broaden Reforms

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 29—Reforms, extending wider privileges and more humane treatment to convicts in some of the smaller prisons in the British Isles, have proved so successful they will be introduced in the more populous prisons at Dartmoor, Chelmsford and Parkhurst.

In announcing the experiment, the new Home Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, said among the chief innovations would be the right of a prisoner to receive wages during his incarceration and to spend the income on luxuries such as cigarettes and tobacco. Hitherto prisoners in the larger jails have not been allowed to use tobacco until after serving three years of a sentence and then only if their conduct has been without blemish.

There were two possible ways of dealing with the problem of the young prisoner, Sir Samuel said. One was the method of making prison life so unattractive and discipline so rigid and the conditions so inhuman he would be deterred by the risk of going back. In theory it might appear an effective way of keeping a young man out of prison. In actual practice it had not succeeded. Indeed, the more humane prison administration had become the lower had been the number of habitual criminals.

Sir Samuel alluded to an experiment of greater freedom at the large prison in Wakefield. There, between 400 and 500 selected prisoners carried on their work in the open without guards and slept at night in a hut. More recently the method had been given the right to associate and talk freely, to smoke, read newspapers and avail themselves of a wide range of vocational training.

The camp has been in existence for more than a year without an untoward incident.

senault, Velma Buell, Constance Cook, Edwin Cook, Walter Craig, Ruby Cudmore, Doreen Diamond, Margaret Dore, Betty Hamm, Eileen Johnson, Isabel MacDonald, Kathleen MacFarlane, Helen MacKinnon, Everett Nicholson, Joyce Riggs, Edera Rodd, Yvonne Ross, Elaine Saunders, Freddie Saunders, Elvin Sherren, Blair Swan, Zaida Turner, Junior Rodd, Edson Vanderstine.

British Prisons Broaden Reforms

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 29—Reforms, extending wider privileges and more humane treatment to convicts in some of the smaller prisons in the British Isles, have proved so successful they will be introduced in the more populous prisons at Dartmoor, Chelmsford and Parkhurst.

In announcing the experiment, the new Home Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, said among the chief innovations would be the right of a prisoner to receive wages during his incarceration and to spend the income on luxuries such as cigarettes and tobacco. Hitherto prisoners in the larger jails have not been allowed to use tobacco until after serving three years of a sentence and then only if their conduct has been without blemish.

There were two possible ways of dealing with the problem of the young prisoner, Sir Samuel said. One was the method of making prison life so unattractive and discipline so rigid and the conditions so inhuman he would be deterred by the risk of going back. In theory it might appear an effective way of keeping a young man out of prison. In actual practice it had not succeeded. Indeed, the more humane prison administration had become the lower had been the number of habitual criminals.

Sir Samuel alluded to an experiment of greater freedom at the large prison in Wakefield. There, between 400 and 500 selected prisoners carried on their work in the open without guards and slept at night in a hut. More recently the method had been given the right to associate and talk freely, to smoke, read newspapers and avail themselves of a wide range of vocational training.

The camp has been in existence for more than a year without an untoward incident.

senault, Velma Buell, Constance Cook, Edwin Cook, Walter Craig, Ruby Cudmore, Doreen Diamond, Margaret Dore, Betty Hamm, Eileen Johnson, Isabel MacDonald, Kathleen MacFarlane, Helen MacKinnon, Everett Nicholson, Joyce Riggs, Edera Rodd, Yvonne Ross, Elaine Saunders, Freddie Saunders, Elvin Sherren, Blair Swan, Zaida Turner, Junior Rodd, Edson Vanderstine.

British Prisons Broaden Reforms

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 29—Reforms, extending wider privileges and more humane treatment to convicts in some of the smaller prisons in the British Isles, have proved so successful they will be introduced in the more populous prisons at Dartmoor, Chelmsford and Parkhurst.

In announcing the experiment, the new Home Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, said among the chief innovations would be the right of a prisoner to receive wages during his incarceration and to spend the income on luxuries such as cigarettes and tobacco. Hitherto prisoners in the larger jails have not been allowed to use tobacco until after serving three years of a sentence and then only if their conduct has been without blemish.

There were two possible ways of dealing with the problem of the young prisoner, Sir Samuel said. One was the method of making prison life so unattractive and discipline so rigid and the conditions so inhuman he would be deterred by the risk of going back. In theory it might appear an effective way of keeping a young man out of prison. In actual practice it had not succeeded. Indeed, the more humane prison administration had become the lower had been the number of habitual criminals.

Sir Samuel alluded to an experiment of greater freedom at the large prison in Wakefield. There, between 400 and 500 selected prisoners carried on their work in the open without guards and slept at night in a hut. More recently the method had been given the right to associate and talk freely, to smoke, read newspapers and avail themselves of a wide range of vocational training.

The camp has been in existence for more than a year without an untoward incident.

senault, Velma Buell, Constance Cook, Edwin Cook, Walter Craig, Ruby Cudmore, Doreen Diamond, Margaret Dore, Betty Hamm, Eileen Johnson, Isabel MacDonald, Kathleen MacFarlane, Helen MacKinnon, Everett Nicholson, Joyce Riggs, Edera Rodd, Yvonne Ross, Elaine Saunders, Freddie Saunders, Elvin Sherren, Blair Swan, Zaida Turner, Junior Rodd, Edson Vanderstine.

British Prisons Broaden Reforms

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 29—Reforms, extending wider privileges and more humane treatment to convicts in some of the smaller prisons in the British Isles, have proved so successful they will be introduced in the more populous prisons at Dartmoor, Chelmsford and Parkhurst.

In announcing the experiment, the new Home Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, said among the chief innovations would be the right of a prisoner to receive wages during his incarceration and to spend the income on luxuries such as cigarettes and tobacco. Hitherto prisoners in the larger jails have not been allowed to use tobacco until after serving three years of a sentence and then only if their conduct has been without blemish.

There were two possible ways of dealing with the problem of the young prisoner, Sir Samuel said. One was the method of making prison life so unattractive and discipline so rigid and the conditions so inhuman he would be deterred by the risk of going back. In theory it might appear an effective way of keeping a young man out of prison. In actual practice it had not succeeded. Indeed, the more humane prison administration had become the lower had been the number of habitual criminals.

Sir Samuel alluded to an experiment of greater freedom at the large prison in Wakefield. There, between 400 and 500 selected prisoners carried on their work in the open without guards and slept at night in a hut. More recently the method had been given the right to associate and talk freely, to smoke, read newspapers and avail themselves of a wide range of vocational training.

The camp has been in existence for more than a year without an untoward incident.

senault, Velma Buell, Constance Cook, Edwin Cook, Walter Craig, Ruby Cudmore, Doreen Diamond, Margaret Dore, Betty Hamm, Eileen Johnson, Isabel MacDonald, Kathleen MacFarlane, Helen MacKinnon, Everett Nicholson, Joyce Riggs, Edera Rodd, Yvonne Ross, Elaine Saunders, Freddie Saunders, Elvin Sherren, Blair Swan, Zaida Turner, Junior Rodd, Edson Vanderstine.

British Prisons Broaden Reforms

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 29—Reforms, extending wider privileges and more humane treatment to convicts in some of the smaller prisons in the British Isles, have proved so successful they will be introduced in the more populous prisons at Dartmoor, Chelmsford and Parkhurst.

In announcing the experiment, the new Home Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, said among the chief innovations would be the right of a prisoner to receive wages during his incarceration and to spend the income on luxuries such as cigarettes and tobacco. Hitherto prisoners in the larger jails have not been allowed to use tobacco until after serving three years of a sentence and then only if their conduct has been without blemish.

There were two possible ways of dealing with the problem of the young prisoner, Sir Samuel said. One was the method of making prison life so unattractive and discipline so rigid and the conditions so inhuman he would be deterred by the risk of going back. In theory it might appear an effective way of keeping a young man out of prison. In actual practice it had not succeeded. Indeed, the more humane prison administration had become the lower had been the number of habitual criminals.

Sir Samuel alluded to an experiment of greater freedom at the large prison in Wakefield. There, between 400 and 500 selected prisoners carried on their work in the open without guards and slept at night in a hut. More recently the method had been given the right to associate and talk freely, to smoke, read newspapers and avail themselves of a wide range of vocational training.

The camp has been in existence for more than a year without an untoward incident.

senault, Velma Buell, Constance Cook, Edwin Cook, Walter Craig, Ruby Cudmore, Doreen Diamond, Margaret Dore, Betty Hamm, Eileen Johnson, Isabel MacDonald, Kathleen MacFarlane, Helen MacKinnon, Everett Nicholson, Joyce Riggs, Edera Rodd, Yvonne Ross, Elaine Saunders, Freddie Saunders, Elvin Sherren, Blair Swan, Zaida Turner, Junior Rodd, Edson Vanderstine.

British Prisons Broaden Reforms

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 29—Reforms, extending wider privileges and more humane treatment to convicts in some of the smaller prisons in the British Isles, have proved so successful they will be introduced in the more populous prisons at Dartmoor, Chelmsford and Parkhurst.

In announcing the experiment, the new Home Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, said among the chief innovations would be the right of a prisoner to receive wages during his incarceration and to spend the income on luxuries such as cigarettes and tobacco. Hitherto prisoners in the larger jails have not been allowed to use tobacco until after serving three years of a sentence and then only if their conduct has been without blemish.

There were two possible ways of dealing with the problem of the young prisoner, Sir Samuel said. One was the method of making prison life so unattractive and discipline so rigid and the conditions so inhuman he would be deterred by the risk of going back. In theory it might appear an effective way of keeping a young man out of prison. In actual practice it had not succeeded. Indeed, the more humane prison administration had become the lower had been the number of habitual criminals.

Sir Samuel alluded to an experiment of greater freedom at the large prison in Wakefield. There, between 400 and 500 selected prisoners carried on their work in the open without guards and slept at night in a hut. More recently the method had been given the right to associate and talk freely, to smoke, read newspapers and avail themselves of a wide range of vocational training.

The camp has been in existence for more than a year without an untoward incident.

senault, Velma Buell, Constance Cook, Edwin Cook, Walter Craig, Ruby Cudmore, Doreen Diamond, Margaret Dore, Betty Hamm, Eileen Johnson, Isabel MacDonald, Kathleen MacFarlane, Helen MacKinnon, Everett Nicholson, Joyce Riggs, Edera Rodd, Yvonne Ross, Elaine Saunders, Freddie Saunders, Elvin Sherren, Blair Swan, Zaida Turner, Junior Rodd, Edson Vanderstine.

British Prisons Broaden Reforms

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 29—Reforms, extending wider privileges and more humane treatment to convicts in some of the smaller prisons in the British Isles, have proved so successful they will be introduced in the more populous prisons at Dartmoor, Chelmsford and Parkhurst.

In announcing the experiment, the new Home Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, said among the chief innovations would be the right of a prisoner to receive wages during his incarceration and to spend the income on luxuries such as cigarettes and tobacco. Hitherto prisoners in the larger jails have not been allowed to use tobacco until after serving three years of a sentence and then only if their conduct has been without blemish.

There were two possible ways of dealing with the problem of the young prisoner, Sir Samuel said. One was the method of making prison life so unattractive and discipline so rigid and the conditions so inhuman he would be deterred by the risk of going back. In theory it might appear an effective way of keeping a young man out of prison. In actual practice it had not succeeded. Indeed, the more humane prison administration had become the lower had been the number of habitual criminals.

Sir Samuel alluded to an experiment of greater freedom at the large prison in Wakefield. There, between 400 and 500 selected prisoners carried on their work in the open without guards and slept at night in a hut. More recently the method had been given the right to associate and talk freely, to smoke, read newspapers and avail themselves of a wide range of vocational training.

The camp has been in existence for more than a year without an untoward incident.

senault, Velma Buell, Constance Cook, Edwin Cook, Walter Craig, Ruby Cudmore, Doreen Diamond, Margaret Dore, Betty Hamm, Eileen Johnson, Isabel MacDonald, Kathleen MacFarlane, Helen MacKinnon, Everett Nicholson, Joyce Riggs, Edera Rodd, Yvonne Ross, Elaine Saunders, Freddie Saunders, Elvin Sherren, Blair Swan, Zaida Turner, Junior Rodd, Edson Vanderstine.

British Prisons Broaden Reforms

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 29—Reforms, extending wider privileges and more humane treatment to convicts in some of the smaller prisons in the British Isles, have proved so successful they will be introduced in the more populous prisons at Dartmoor, Chelmsford and Parkhurst.

In announcing the experiment, the new Home Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, said among the chief innovations would be the right of a prisoner to receive wages during his incarceration and to spend the income on luxuries such as cigarettes and tobacco. Hitherto prisoners in the larger jails have not been allowed to use tobacco until after serving three years of a sentence and then only if their conduct has been without blemish.

There were two possible ways of dealing with the problem of the young prisoner, Sir Samuel said. One was the method of making prison life so unattractive and discipline so rigid and the conditions so inhuman he would be deterred by the risk of going back. In theory it might appear an effective way of keeping a young man out of prison. In actual practice it had not succeeded. Indeed, the more humane prison administration had become the lower had been the number of habitual criminals.

Sir Samuel alluded to an experiment of greater freedom at the large prison in Wakefield. There, between 400 and 500 selected prisoners carried on their work in the open without guards and slept at night in a hut. More recently the method had been given the right to associate and talk freely, to smoke, read newspapers and avail themselves of a wide range of vocational training.

The camp has been in existence for more than a year without an untoward incident.

senault, Velma Buell, Constance Cook, Edwin Cook, Walter Craig, Ruby Cudmore, Doreen Diamond, Margaret Dore, Betty Hamm, Eileen Johnson, Isabel MacDonald, Kathleen MacFarlane, Helen MacKinnon, Everett Nicholson, Joyce Riggs, Edera Rodd, Yvonne Ross, Elaine Saunders, Freddie Saunders, Elvin Sherren, Blair Swan, Zaida Turner, Junior Rodd, Edson Vanderstine.

British Prisons Broaden Reforms

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, June 29—Reforms, extending wider privileges and more humane treatment to convicts in some of the smaller prisons in the British Isles, have proved so successful they will be introduced in the more populous prisons at Dartmoor, Chelmsford and