Weeks-MacDowell

A wedding of quiet charm took place Saturday evening, February 23rd, at 7.30 o'clock, when Doreen Weeks became the bride of Laine MacDowell, in a candlelight ceremony at the home of the bride. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. H.J. Weeks, 1123 Queen Street, Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur MacDowell, Summerside, P. E. I.

The marriage vows were spoken before a bank of snapdragons and carnations, backed by fern and tall white tapers. Rev. A. G. Donald performed the ceremony.

Following the singing of Malotte's "Lord's Prayer" by Miss Marguerite Mann, the bride entered the living room on the arm of her father, to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, played by her sister-in-law, Mrs. C. S. Weeks. She was a charming picture in her floor-length gown of white silk jersey, made on simple lines, with a deep V neckline, cap sleeves and featuring a wide gold belt. Elbow-length gloves and white sandals completed her ensemble. She carried a cascade bouquet of calla lillies centered with orchids, and wore budlies in her hair. The only jewellry was a pearl and gold necklace, with matching gold ear-rings. The bride was unattended except for her small niece, Marilyn Weeks, who acted as flower girl, dressed in deep turquoise, and carrying a colonial nosegay of sweet peas and roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Weeks acted as witnesses.

Following the ceremony a buffet lunch was held for immediate friends and relatives, at which the bride's aunt, Mrs. Belle Davison, poured tea. During the reception Mrs. J. Cumming sang, "O, Promise Me". The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Mr. Donald, to which the groom responded. A telephone call was received from the groom's parents, and telegrams of congratulations were received from Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Weeks, New Westminster, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Sargent, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Scott Miller, Lunenburg, N.S.; and Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Read, Truro, N.S.

Mr. and Mrs. MacDowell left on an extended trip to the east coast, the bride travelling in a heather green suit with green accessories and muskrat coat, complemented by a corsage of daffodils. S

"A ROYAL SCANDAL," NEW LUBITSCH HIT TO BE SEEN HERE

—Saucy as a wink of the eye . . . scandalous as a keyhole peek . . . Ernst Lubitsch's "A Royal Scandal," the scintillating new 20th Century-Fox comedy-romance hit, starring Tallulah Bankhead, Charles Coburn, Anne Baxter and William Eythe, opens at the Capitol Theatre.

The delightfully scandalous story of a glamorous queen and her handsome lieutenant, brings Miss Bankhead to the screen in her first comedy role. Tallulah plays the part of Catherine the Great who felt alone on her throne and needed men to surround her.

Academy Award winner Charles Coburn is seen in his most unusual role to date, that of the wily chancellor who juggles the romantic and political intrigues of the imperial palace.

Movie-goers will be treated to a new and glamorous Anne Baxter in the role of a lady-in-waiting who unexpectedly finds herself in romantic competition with the queen.

The young lieutenant is tall and rugged William Eythe who, breaking into the palace to warn the queen of an impending revolution, finds Catherine more interested in losing her heart to him than in the prospects of losing her throne to the royal opposition.

The new hit was directed by Otto Preminger.

Bloomfield and Vicinity

On Wednesday, Feb. 27th, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Metherall celebrated their 62nd anniversary at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Robert Hunter of Rosebank. They were married in 1884 at the Gorrill Home in Cascumpec, which is now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Casey, by the Reverend M. R. Knight, and made their home in Mill River. Their family consisted of four daughters and one son, of which all except one daughter are living. The daughters are: Mrs. Edward Clarke of Lexington, Mass.; Mrs. Fred McRae of Summerside; and Mrs. Robert Hunter of Rosebank; and their only son, Sergeant Metherall lives in the old homestead in Mill River. One daughter, Mrs. Ethel Gord passed away three years ago. This elderly couple are remarkably well, considering their advanced years, and a host of friends join in congratulating them on this happy occasion.

Many farmers in this vicinity are busily engaged in hauling their fertilizer. Mr. Kenneth MacKendrick of Campbellton unloaded a car on Friday.

Mrs. William Pound and young son Donnie, of Fredericton, are at present visiting her daughter, Mrs. Carlyle Ramsay of Rosebank.

Brookfield

The many friends of Mr. Archie Johnstone are glad to know he is recovering after being confined to his bed for the past three weeks with pneumonia.

The people of this community and surrounding districts were deeply shocked and saddened to learn of the sudden passing of Pte. Fulton MacDonald in Germany. His wife, the former Miss Julia MacLeod of Hartsville, his bride of only a few months, previous to his going overseas, was looking forward to his home-coming this month, when the sad news was received. Fulton was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him, and had many friends who will always remember his cheerful disposition and happy smile, whether his troubles were big or small. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Myles MacDonald, formerly of Darlington. He leaves to mourn, besides his sorrowing widow, one sister, Jean, Mrs. Dan MacLeod, Hunter River, to whom much sympathy is extended.

Among the visitors to the city on Saturday were: Mr. Golden Dollar, Miss Miriam Dollar, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon MacLeod, Mr. Wendell Horton, the Misses June MacLeod and Katherine MacLeod.

Mr. and Mrs. Borden MacLeod and daughter Jean were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hickox, New Glasgow.

Miss Ruth MacLeod, Summerside, was the guest Sunday of her sister, Mrs. Archie Johnstone.

Miss Avis Cruwys was a visitor to the city on Friday.

Mr. David MacKinnon, Charlottetown, was a visitor to Brookfield on Wednesday.

A large number of friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Messrs. John and Robert Mobbs to welcome Pte. James Brown, Jim, another of our boys who left his wife, home and little family and all that he held dear, to take up the fight for freedom. An appropriate address was read by Mr. F. Spence and a well-filled purse was presented by Mr. F. Gallant on behalf of those present. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing games and dancing.

Mr. Robert MacKinnon and daughters Joyce and Gloria, of Charlottetown, were visitors to Brookfield on Wednesday.

Wives Meet Husbands Held For Espionage

(By The Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, March 5—A happy if tearful re-union took place here yesterday as the wives of the 11 men held incommunicado since the Russian spy probe was launched Feb. 15 were permitted to meet their husbands for the first time since their arrest.

The wives, notified during the week-end they would be able to see their husbands, reported to Kenneth Campbell, secretary of the Royal Commission inquiring into the ring, who briefed them and swore them to secrecy concerning the re-union.

Officially, the site of the meeting was secret but the wives and husbands presumably had their get-together at the R.C.M.P. barracks in suburban Rockcliffe, where the suspects have been detained during the long inquiry.

U.S. Opposes Soviet Plan For Manchuria

BY ALEX H. SINGLETON

WASHINGTON, March 5 —(CP)—The United States opposed today a Russian plan to seize Japanese industries in Manchuria as war booty and to place a large part of that country's basic economy under Soviet-Chinese joint operation. Chinese authorities also rejected the Soviet proposal.

State Secretary Byrnes made public a note sent nearly a month ago to Moscow and Chungking declaring that any such exclusive arrangement would be contrary to the open-door policy and "constitute clear discrimination against Americans."

His disclosure came amid several other developments bearing on Russo-American relations:

1. Mr. Byrnes told his press conference that he had no official knowledge confirming published reports from Dairen that Russia was shipping Japanese troops to Siberia for use as labor battalions.

2. The state department announced that it is considering methods, including financial aid, by which the United States "can assist Korea to develop a strong and independent economy, freed of Japanese influence."

3. An Iranian Embassy official said the Embassy is preparing a note informing the United States Government that Iran has formally protested Soviet failure to withdraw Red Army troops from her soil, and asking the United States to enter a similar protest.

Subsidies Paid Canners Dropped

OTTAWA, March 5 — (CP) — Subsidies paid canners on certain bulk vegetables and canned products will not be paid on the 1946 crop, a joint statement by the Agriculture Department and the Prices Board said tonight.

Per ton subsidies paid by the Agricultural Food Board during 1945 on tomatoes, peas, corn and green and waxed beans destined for processing would not be paid this year. Later, the Prices Board would authorize increases in the canners' price ceilings on products from the 1946 crop, "composed wholly or substantially" of those vegetables, by an amount corresponding to the subsidy, the statement said.

The "per dozen subsidy," formerly paid by the Commodity Prices Stabilization Corporation, Ltd., would not be paid on "any of the above products" involved and shipped after the following dates, regardless of the crop year: peas, May 31; green and waxed beans, June 30; tomatoes and tomato juice, Aug. 31.

Later ceiling increases also would be allowed canners on the 1946 pack by amounts equivalent to former Corporation subsidies.

C.C.F. Member Faints Watching Operation

WINNIPEG, March 5 — (CP) — An operation in a Moscow hospital was too much for Stanley Knowles, C.C.F. member of parliament for Winnipeg North Centre, recently returned from a Russian tour.

Mr. Knowles was guest of a famous Russian medical scientist and watched a delicate operation for 15 minutes then fainted.

"As I came to, a Russian nurse was standing over me," he said today. "I tried to explain in my newly acquired Russian that I was all right. But I was floored when she answered in perfect English 'take it easy'".

Charge Lecturer Under Official Secrets Act

BY NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, March 5 —(CP Cable)—Dr. Allan Nunn May, a bookish English university lecturer who yesterday discussed physics with students of King's College here, tonight occupied a cell in grimy Brixton Prison, awaiting trial March 19 on a charge under the Official Secrets Act of communicating information on atomic energy to "another person."

Dr. May made a brief appearance in the crowded Bow Street police station this morning and sat impassively as Crown Prosecutor H.A.K. Morgan outlined the "very serious charge" against him. The charge was that Dr. May who was engaged in Canada by the Ministry of Supply on atomic research during the war, had admitted passing on information connected with his work to an unidentified person. He entered no pleas.

One hour later, a blue police van took Dr. May to Brixton, London's remand prison. There he has a private cell where meals are served and he can receive as many visitors as he desires. No application for bail has been made but it is unlikely it would be granted in any case.

Dr. May's next appearance at Bow Street will be in the nature of a preliminary hearing to decide whether he will be committed for trial in a higher court.

The section of the Official Secrets Act under which Dr. May is charged deals with communication of information "for purposes prejudicial to the safety or interest of the state.....which was calculated to be or might be directly or indirectly useful to an enemy."

Since Britain is not engaged in hostilities, the reference in the charge to "an enemy" obviously was not supposed to infer any specific country was or was likely to become an enemy. The phraseology merely was lifted verbatim from section 1 of the 1911 Official Secrets Act.

Conviction under the charge against Dr. May carries a minimum sentence of three years and a maximum of seven years.

Mr. Morgan told the court Dr. May had admitted to Lt.-Col. L. Burt, who, during the war was in charge of a special War Office department dealing with counter-espionage and who last week was appointed chief of Scotland Yard's special branch, that he had disclosed information but he gave no inkling as to the recipient of the secret or his nationality.

New Violence In Iranian Capital

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN

TEHRAN, March 5—(AP) — In the second outbreak of violence in two days, leftist demonstrators broke through police lines in front of the parliament building today and severely beat an associate of deputy Said Zia Ed-Din, described by Soviet publications as anti-Russian.

Only 70 deputies braved the milling crowd of 2,000 to 3,000, mostly members of the leftist Tudeh Party, and they were forced to hold an "unofficial session" because they had no quorum present.

Officials here were reluctant to discuss the situation pending the return of Premier Ahmed Qavam Es Saltaneh from Moscow where he has been conferring with Soviet officials for two weeks. The Premier, expected in Tehran tomorrow, was said to be travelling by Russian plane to Baku, where he planned to stop overnight.

(A Moscow dispatch quoted an Iranian spokesman there as saying Ahmed Qavam had not negotiated the question of Russian troops remaining in Iran, but had merely listened to proposals. He described the talks as "friendly but difficult.")

British Fashion Designers Seek To Increase Exports

By Margaret Bradbury

LONDON, March 5 — (Reuters) —Ten of Britain's leading fashion designers have for the first time banded together to boost export of British clothes and materials to many parts of the world.

They are Hardy Amies, Charles Creed, Victor Stiebel, Norman Hartnell, Molyneux, Digby Morton, Bianca Mosca, Peter Russell, Angelo Balanghe and Worth.

Members of the Incorporated Society of London Fashion Designers, employing more than 1,600 people in their London work rooms, hope to make London the leading exporting fashion centre of the world.

Overseas demands for British fashions are heavy. Canada, the United States and other countries have ordered tweed suits, tailored tweed dresses and evening gowns.

Biggest problem facing London designers is the shortage of labor but fashion experts are confident that when more labor is made available and larger quantities of materials are released London will be in the front ranks of the fashion world.

"Austerity" regulations on styles of garments for export have been lifted but wholesale manufacturers say cloth and wool allocations are not nearly enough to meet present demand.

LIVERPOOL, England —(CP)— One thousand South African brides of British soldiers arrived here in the liner Scythia shortly after the Mauretania left for Canada with 800 English wives.

Princess Insists On "Off Duty" Hours

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, March 5—(CP)—Princess Elizabeth, 20 next month, has been studiously trained for the role of Queen—but she has a life of her own beyond the duties of royalty.

Already the Princess has shown a quiet resolve in her "off duty" hours to avoid the limelight. She goes informally to the theatre and sometimes is one of a gay group at a dancing party afterwards.

On her 21st birthday—April 21, 1947—she may acquire a home of her own which would permit an even greater measure of independence and day-to-day contact with her future subjects.

The girl Britons have come to know as she goes about the country, taking an increasing part in the functions designed for royalty, is of medium height, plump and serious. Her upbringing has been strict and she seems intent to fulfill conscientiously the tasks before her.

This is in keeping with the requirements tradition has established for the monarchy—but the British people applaud when the Princess relaxes her routine to step into London's night life.

This she has done more and more often since reaching 18. Her companions are suitably blueblooded young ladies or gentlemen, the latter usually members of exclusive Guards Regiments.

Sometimes there is a party afterwards at a restaurant. The Princess, pink with excitement, seldom misses a dance. She has danced since childhood and can do them all from Scottish reels to South American sambas.

After a sheltered girlhood, Elisabeth began to take her place at the side of the King in 1944.

She was 18 that year, an age at which she would have acceded to the throne had her father died. When the King paid a visit to Italy in July she acted for the first time as a counsellor of state—and later had to write an essay to demonstrate how she had benefitted from this first practical experience with constitutional law.

Last year her personal appearances became more frequent, either by herself or with her parents. She stood beside them on the balcony of Buckingham Palace to hear the deep-throated victory roar of crowds in May and August, and on each occasion, slipped out with her sister and an escort to mingle with the cheering Londoners and watch the floodlights play across the palace front.

If she leaves her family for an independent life at 21, her home may be Sunninghill Park, in Windsor Forest, Berkshire, which the King is said to have purchased with her birthday in mind.

None of the Princess' escorts has yet emerged as a potential husband. Now and then a gossip columnist discusses the eligibility of her gallant young dancing partners, or even the reduced crop of European royalty, but so far no name has been coupled seriously with hers.

Sends Greetings Cardinal McGuigan

The parishioners and parish priest of St. Augustine's Church, Rustico, were very happy to receive a short time ago a cablegram from His Eminence Cardinal McGuigan immediately after the Sacred Consistory held recently at the Vatican. This cablegram which was read to the faithful at Mass on Sunday, February 24th, reads as follows:

Vatican City,
February 19, 1946
Reverend Clarence Pitre, Rustico, P. E. I. After Historic Consistory send loving blessings native parish, you, Monsignor Chiasson, religious and faithful. Signed,
CARDINAL McGUIGAN

Private School Teacher Faces Serious Charges

(By The Associated Press)

NORRISTOWN, Pa., March 5—Two sisters—one 11 years old, the other 14—accused the headmaster of a private school they attended of having improper relations with them.

George W. Balles, Jr., 35, founder of the coeducational Warminster Academy, and his wife, Laura, 37 are on trial under indictments charging 37 morals offences.

District Attorney Frederick B. Smillie yesterday told a jury of 10 women and two men that "more sex was taught than anything else" at the school.

The courtroom was closed to all except witnesses and newspapermen.

Police testified they arrested Balles last Jan. 11 when he was found parked in a country lane with an 11-year-old girl.

The Balles, parents of a five-year-old girl, have pleaded innocent to all counts. Charges include contributing to the delinquency of minors, open lewdness, assault and battery and corrupting public morals. Balles also is charged with rape.

FARMERS

You have checked over your hens. You know a few are unprofitable. It seems quite a bother to gather them up and take them to market.

There are a few thousand farms. You might be surprised at the quantity of good grain going down the drain pipe.

This is one year when every pound of feed fed, should have a reasonable chance to show you a profit.

The next time you are coming to Kensington bring those hens in to me. They will probably pay for your groceries. I promise not to delay you very long here.
