Weekly Livestock Market Report

SUMMARY

While cattle markets remained about steady throughout the week with some slight gains especially on cows, hogs were the feature of the situation making gains of anywhere from 50c to 75c at all markets except Toronto where an opposite trend was followed and prices dropped 65c by the close. Calves were mostly steady throughout except at Toronto, where the market fell off from 50c to $1 under lack of export orders. Sheep and lambs were steady to firm and showed little or no change in price. The lowering of the United States tariff did not draw a fair volume of cattle to American markets and returns were estimated to be somewhat higher than could have been obtained on Canadian markets.

CATTLE MARKETS

TORONTO offered 5,585 cattle. Cows and bulls advanced 15c to 25c and other killers held steady. Weighty steers ranged from $6 to $7.25, a few choice heavies made $7.50, good butchers $6.35 to $6.65, tops $6.75 and common down to $5. Cows ranged from $3.25 to $5.85 with some light ones at $5, and canners and cutters were mostly $2.50 to $3. Fed calves brought $7 to $9.25. The few stockers offered were steady at $4.50 to $5.50. Milkers and springers had better action up to about $80 for tested tops.

While deliveries were fairly liberal at most major markets, the cattle market maintained a fairly steady price level. Toronto was 15c to 25c better on cows and bulls with other killing classes holding steady. Weighty steers sold up to $7.25 with a few choice heavies at $7.50, and good butchers brought $6.35 with some tops at $6.75. One load of very good heifers sold at $7 on Thursday. There was a healthy undertone to the demand at Montreal and supplies were cleaned out at steady rates with some being the first to sell. The bulk of the good steers were at $6.50 to $7.25 with an extreme top at $7.25. Supplies were more liberal at Winnipeg but the trade maintained fairly good action with some sales possible a little easier from the extreme top of last week. Medium and heavy calves were not seriously disturbed. Liberal buying orders on Southern account took the best of the steers at $6 to $6.50 and good cows at $4.50 to $5.50. Medium and heavy weight steers were taken for local requirements at $5.50 to $6.25 with tops at $6.50. The market at Calgary was active with cows selling higher for choice butchers and steers were making $5 to $6 and good cows up to $4. Edmonton showed no undue activity and was barely steady with some spots showing a 5c loss. The top of the market for steers was $6. Moose Jaw was in line with the previous week up to a top of $5.50 for best killing steers, while Regina had steers up to $5 and cows 25c up from last week with good ones at $3.50. The top at Saskatoon was $6 on a strong market, while Vancouver under light receipts was firm to 25c above the previous session with good steers at $5.50 to $6.

MONTEAL had 1,305 cattle and the market displayed a stronger undertone. Steers ranged from $4.50 to an extreme of $7.25, with most of the good at $6.50 to $6.75.

CALF MARKETS

TORONTO calves dropped 50c to $1 during the week closing weak at $9 to $9.50 for choice, with the bulk at $9 down. A few grassers sold at $4.50.

HAMILTON calves opened 25c higher and closed with an easier undertone. Veals ranged from $5 to $11.50 drinkers from $5 to $8 and grassers $4 to $4.50.

HOG MARKETS

The hog run for the Dominion was 31,935 compared with 45,284 last year.

TORONTO hog market opened steady but dropped 65c to close at $9.50 for bacon of trucks. With too many overfinished hogs discounts were increased.

HAMILTON packers' prices closed at $9.50 to $10 for bacon of trucks alive, and $12.90 to $13 dressed.

MONCTON $9.15 and $12.50.

MONTEAL hogs were stronger, bacon at $10 to $10.25 f. & w. and closing at the higher figure with truck hogs up to $10.50. Rail grades $13.65 to $13.75.

SHEEP AND LAMB MARKETS

TORONTO was generally steady with good lambs at $9 to $9.25 some $9.50 and some medium to good Westerns $9 to $9.40. Sheep made $2 to $5.

MONTEAL sold a few good ewes and wethers at $8 to $8.50, and mixed lots mostly bucks ranged from $6 to $6.75. Sheep were $2.50 to $4.50.

OVERSEAS CATTLE EXPORT

Shipments this week nil. Same week last year 486.

RODGERS-DOUGLAS NUPTIALS

A very pretty wedding took place on Nov. 17th at 4 P. M. at Zion Church Manse by the Rev. G. Carlyle Webster when Miss Alice Jane Douglas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Douglas, Head of Hillsboro, became the bride of Mr. Milton Alsworth Rodgers, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rodgers, Fanning Brook. The bride was attended in a navy and pink suit with accessories to match, the young couple were unattended. After the signing of the Register by Miss Lola Douglas and Miss Louise Rodgers, the bride and groom were escorted to the home of the bride at Fanning Brook, where a wedding supper was served to the immediate relatives and friends. A host of serenaders gathered some in funny costumes to express best wishes to the popular young couple. The remainder of the evening was spent in music and dancing. The bride and groom received many costly gifts including cheques. Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers will make their home in Fanning Brook. Previous to their marriage the bride was tendered a shower by her many girl friends at the home of Judge and Mrs. H. L. Palmer, where she received many useful gifts, being attended by Miss Rita Birt. She also received a beautiful dinner set from Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Palmer and family. She also received a lovely carolee from Mrs. Simpson. Mrs. Palmer's mother-in-law, Mrs. Palmer's mother-in-law.

Calves Mostly Steady

With the exception of Toronto where the market dropped 50c to $1 under the absence of export buying, calf markets were mostly steady. Toronto closed weak at $9 to $9.50 for choice heavies. Montreal opened 25c higher but the undertone was easy at the close. The top for the week was $11.50. Winnipeg was steady with dressed veals at $9 to $9.50, while Calgary and Edmonton were unchanged up to a top of $7. Saskatoon and Regina had tops of $8 and Vancouver $6.

Too Many Heavy Hogs

With a plentiful supply of feed on hand in most hog producing areas of Canada there is at present and likely will be for some time a tendency to overfinish hogs. This tendency, however, unless abandoned will decrease the number of correct weight carcasses available for overseas export, and will certainly have an adverse effect on hog prices. Discounts on heavy hogs were increased this week at a number of markets.

Hogs Higher Except at Toronto

Canadian bacon sold in Great Britain at 78s to 81s this week as compared with 82s to 91s a week ago. Canadian hams were unchanged at 96s to 98s.

Hogs opened steady at $10 to $10.15 at Toronto for off truck carcasses, but dropped sharply to a general $9.50 by the close. Montreal and all other markets were much stronger than last week. Montreal sold carcasses at $10 to $10.25 f. & w. and closed at the latter figure. Winnipeg scored substantial upturn opening at $8.75 and closing at $9.25 for carcasses f. & w. Calgary closed higher with carcasses at $9.00 off trucks, while Edmonton was also better at $9.40. Prince Albert and Saskatoon moved up 60c to close at $9 for carcasses off trucks. Moose Jaw and Regina closed the year at $8.50 and closed this week strong-

United States Market Mostly Steady

The Buffalo market had some 500 Canadians on offer and while a little uneven, the market was mostly steady. Prices on hand-weight to weight Canadian steers ranged from $9 to $9.40 with most sales between $8.50 and $9.25. These prices were estimated by shippers to show a margin of about 50c in favor of the Buffalo market compared with Toronto. A number of Canadian bulls sold at Buffalo between $6.50 and $7. Early trade at St. Paul was weak to 25c lower but later advanced to the market making some recovery. Good Canadian steers sold at St. Paul between $8.75 and $9.75 with mediums around $7, heifers from $5.75 to $7.50, cows $5 to $6.50 and bulls from $6 to $6.75.

Exports to the United States this week were 3,969 beef cattle, 137 dairy, and 433 calves. During the same week last year 1,206 beef cattle, 235 dairy, and 673 calves crossed the line.

A decided improvement was reported in the market for fat cattle in Great Britain with indications for the future encouraging. Store trade remained steady and later a heavy demand for good dairy cows. Birkhead re-exported best light weight steers up to a top of 15-1c dressed weight including offal, and hand weights up to 15c. Glasgow estimated good Canadian carcasses at 96s to 98s per pound live weight and bulls $6. There were no exports of Canadian cattle to Great Britain this week, but in the same week last year total carried 486 head to Birkhead.

Machine Which Speaks Shown To Scientists

(By HOWARD W. BLASESLEE Associated Press Science Editor)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5—(AP)—A machine which speaks, forming its own tones in imitation of human tones, was shown to scientists today at the Franklin Institute.

Its name is the Voder and it is the first machine in the world to create speech. There is no "canned" talk, no human recording.

The Voder resembles an oversize typewriter, with a pipe organ keyboard. But instead of musical notes, the keys sound speech tones. It was built by the Bell Telephone Laboratories to be exhibited at the Great Fair this year in San Francisco and New York.

The machine shows that the art and science of communications has advanced to the point where, if all the people lost their voices, they still could punch a battery of keys, to say audibly, in the old way, whatever they liked. Although there never has been such a machine before, all the parts, except keys, are from "stock" from apparatus already in daily use in phoning.

But practise is required to talk. On the experience of 300 telephone girls who have tried, it is a hard job to learn to use the machine. It includes a hiss that is slightly electrical. It inflicts either up or down the scale, shouts or whispers, becomes the first part of a word letting the finish die out, and mimics man or woman.

In fact, it can imitate the bleating of sheep, howling of cattle, grunting of pigs or a woodpecker's pecking.

The mechanical voice is like nothing heard before. Some tones are familiar, others new. As the operators develop skill the voice becomes more human.

A near perfect "Mississippi" is easy to say, Ohio and Iowa are very difficult. You are likely to say "slip" when you want to say "ship"; Voder does a fine Bronx cheer.

"My mother makes the best bread ever, but she says she couldn't make it nearly so good if she didn't use REGAL Flour. No matter how hungry I get between meals, a good thick slice of mother's bread, with jam or peanut butter on it, always makes me feel good as ever. I'm sure glad she bakes with REGAL Flour. You should just taste her buns and biscuits, too."

Is English History Made at Tory Dinner Parties?

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON.—It was an interesting little dinner party Lord Baldwin gave the other night. Meeting and dining with King George VI and Queen Elizabeth at the official opposition in the House of Commons, and several of his Labor colleagues.

Politicians with long memories recall a similar affair 15 years ago—which was followed soon after by Britain's first Labor government.

Late in 1923 Lady Astor, a member of the Tory party, invited to her house in St. James' Square, Ramsay MacDonald, Philip Snowden, Arthur Henderson, J. H. Thomas and J. R. Clynes—all leaders of the Labor party in the House of Commons. They were to meet King George V.

Later in 1938, Lord Baldwin, himself former Tory Prime Minister of Great Britain, entertained the present king at dinner and head as guest, in addition to Atlee, Arthur Greenwood, the deputy leader of the Labor opposition; A. V. Alexander, Tom Williams, Fred Marshall and J. B. Esde.

In former Labor administrations Atlee was Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster and later postmaster general. Greenwood was minister of health and Alexander was first lord of the admiralty.

In 1923 it was given out that Lady Astor threw her party so the king could get to know personally some of the leading men in the Labor party.

In 1938 it was given out that Lord Baldwin threw his party for the same reason.

OMEN HUNTERS

In both cases the general public will understand why Tories gave the dinner.

Had the king been invited by a Labor leader to meet Labor leaders it would have looked as if the king was mixing in politics and showing bias.

But when a Tory host has Labor guests it accentuates the social and personal side.

The Astor dinner party of 1923 was held in January, 1924, by the formation of the first Labor government England ever had.

The omen hunters are wondering whether the dinner party of 1938 is to be followed in 1939 by another Labor government.

It is understood the present king, like his father before him, thoroughly enjoyed himself. Like his father, he was a keen sportsman and a keen hunter. He was pulled out of his pipe and had a grand time puffing away after the port was passed.

STRAIGHT TALKING

The Labor leaders told the king more than that. They spoke to him pointedly and honestly what they thought of home and foreign affairs.

For a constitutional sovereign who stands above all parties and must favor none it was a very valuable evening. So much so that it is understood the king plans to have himself invited to more dinners of the same informal sort.

A VISION AT CHRISTMASTIDE

'Tis Christmas eve; listening I lie
To air-borne voices from the
And South. Says one, "Friendship must die!"
Reply goes back, "Friendship with Best,"

Or men of brutal deeds, covet
Not we "Oh! Therefore 'tis war, and "Oh!
Civilization down will go;
Awful—no car, no picture show!"

God help me so to get my face,
With His, my Elder Brother's
Grace, Towards Jerusalem;
Nor kneel, with that poor cringing
Which knows not yet what means
"Be Strong!" Towards Godes-
berg and Munchen.

Messies I dream... To my torn soul
Bereft of joy, in raving war
Of raucous tyrannous tongues, the whole
Celestial vault man's hate did mar:

In aspect hale Mars ruled the skies,
"The sudden swung—sweet gift
of God—
The Star of Love into mine eyes:
Heaven opened! And the lifted rod.

Became a shaft of burning gold,
Whose mystic light bade me behold.
Unveiled, the beauties that adorn
His "morn' Place" from 'evil till now—
That I might weep—no more forlorn.

The new-born moon by Venus low
Shone, rain-washed, in bellicose
Love's fractured girle, rent by Night.
Or bursting pomegranate bright,
Set for the "Pure-in-heart's" delight.

The crystal globes sing true:
Supernal rest!
My senses receive: comes "Peace as
He gives"—best.

"He that dwelleth in the 'Secret
Place of this Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty."

left Flintshire in 1927 for Alberta.
He farms in the Viking district.

"I hope he has not grown a beard," she told reporters before the ship sailed from Glasgow last week.

Ship's officers said she seemed quiet throughout the voyage.

MR. STANISLAUS BUOTE

The death of Stanislaus Buote, a former resident of Rustico, but for 21 years a resident of Rumford, Maine, occurred Tuesday, January 3rd, at the Rumford Community Hospital after a short illness. Mr. Buote has been employed in the Rumford Department of the Oxford Mill. He was a member of several organizations of St. John the Baptist Church including the League of the Sacred Heart, the Assumption and the Artisan. A Liberal service was held at St. John's Church, Friday morning at which Rev. Father Cloutier officiated a solemn Requiem High Mass was said Saturday morning. Pall bearers were Messrs. Joseph I. Dolron, Peter Arsenault, Henry Dorion, Joseph S. DeRoche, Arthur Normando, and Wilfred Caron. The delegation from the League of the Sacred Heart were Messrs. Robert Arsenault, Xavier Gaudette, Joseph E. Arsenault, and George Leoume. The spiritual and floral bouquets were many and beautiful.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Amelia Brown Buote, Mrs. N. V. Kenney of New York; Mrs. Louis F. Hunt of Framingham, Mass.; Aubrey Douglas, Mrs. Arthur Cormier of Rumford; Mrs. Carl Merrill of Dixfield, Maine; Eddie of Halifax, N. S.; Allen J. of Livermore Falls, Maine; Mrs. Paul Doherty, New York; Mrs. Helen Blanchard, Natick, Mass.; also one sister, Mrs. Robert Pineau, Charlottetown, P. E. Island, 17 grand-children, one great grand child. (Patriot Please Copy)

DEFENCE PLANS UNDER FIRE

LONDON, Jan. 10—(CP Cable)—The Ministry of Health's announced intention to survey all available billeting for refugee children in the event of air raids comes at the peak of a wave of criticism which is rolling over the whole Air Raid Evacuation program. Editorial writers, publicists and even scientists lately have intensified their criticism of A. R. P. preparations for the safety of the civil population in the event of war. These critics contend plans have retrogressed since the Munich Pact ended the German-Czechoslovak war some three months ago.

Professor J. B. S. Haldane of University College led an attack on the $100,000,000 scheme to give any family applying a portable, splinter-proof shelter to stay in their own homes. Dr. Haldane said the Spanish Civil War had shown more people would be killed in shelters than out of them. They would be imprisoned by falling buildings, he said.

There have been numerous suggestions for large communal shelters but plans have not extended beyond the tentative stage.

Meanwhile, winter rains and snow have filled trenches dug at the height of last fall's war years. Arthur Cook—Canford, a year-round swimmer, diver into the sea, R. F. French on Princess Hill and after coming to the surface gasping said: "If women and children had tried to take refuge in that trench they would have been drowned."

Newspapers of the last few days have printed pictures showing Sir John Anderson, charged with supervising the A. R. P. program, skating blithely at a winter resort in Switzerland. Opponents of the Government want to know why he is not in London working.

Critics maintain the Government is approaching the evacuation plan from the wrong angle. They hold it should provide large camps which could be used in peace-time for lodging the thousands of unemployed workers who get holidays at very low prices.

They suggest also that construction of these camps would partially overcome the unemployment problem, which still confronts the Government despite the rearmament program.
