members who were continually attempting to obstruct.
Industry as a factor of social services was spoken about eloquently and at some length. This idea embraced the larger conception in labor of every kind. Mr. King connected with this aphorism in the action of the Liberal party in furthering the Old Age Pension scheme. The bill had been carried through the House but was thrown out by the Tory Senate. It returned, the Liberals proposed to carry that bill into effect. Mr. Meighen said he wanted to have all the provinces agree on it before it got his sanction; but he would wait until doomsday before he got all the provinces to agree on anything. That he had no intention of escaping a vote of censure when he asked for dissolution of Parliament was emphatically stated by Mr.

SPEECH OF MR. R. H. JENKINS

At the Strand Theatre Last Night.

Mr. R. H. Jenkins in his introductory remarks said: It is with much pleasure we extend a real hearty welcome to the Right Hon. Mackenzie King to this hall, and to this Province tonight. His wonderful work in the upbuilding of Canada is known by every person in this hall, as well as by those who are listening to by Radio.

Our little province has always been loyal to the Empire of Confederation, and no whisper has ever been heard regarding Secession. Loyalty to contracts is one of the outstanding characteristics of our people, and because of this we find that the other portions of the Dominion are willing to co-operate and give us what we desire. In Parliament I found this especially true regarding the members from Quebec and the Western Provinces.

The honorable gentleman who sits on this platform tonight was severely criticized by many people because of some newspaper statements attributed to him when down in these provinces by the sea last year. Ladies and gentlemen, that is what I know from personal experience that this province has no more loyal friend than the honorable gentleman who had the task of leading the House last session. And why do I say this? Because shortly after going to Ottawa I waited on Mr. King and told him that so far as our province was concerned one of our outstanding needs, in fact imperative need, was a second Car Ferry. If an honorable member will be my pleasure to assist them in any way, and on January 21st of this year shortly after Parliament assembled, in fact just as soon as it was possible to do so, I made an appeal to the House of Commons for a second ferry. So when any individual may tell you that Mr. King is not sympathetic to our Province, I say it is untrue and not borne out by facts.

All these gentlemen, we know that questions of national importance will be discussed here tonight, but nevertheless it is important at such a time as this to discuss matters of a provincial nature. After all, we are always in touch with our Province, and it is in anything which will interest our financial condition. I wonder if we, the people of this province, realize what the Robb Budget has done for us in common with all other provinces. It means a saving of at least $3.00 per capita, and this would mean a saving to our people computed on the last census returns of $8,615 people, of $265,845.00 for the year alone, a saving well worth while.

Our opposition friends tell us on every platform throughout the Province at every meeting, that these reductions were long overdue. I ask in all fairness, what did they do to assist us in putting the necessary legislation through? How do these reductions affect us? Those who have purchased automobiles this season will realize what the reduction in duty on these machines means. When the duty on farm machinery was reduced in 1924, we were told that business in this particular line would be ruined and the manufacturers would be driven out of business. Such did not happen, and so with automobiles. The manufacturers are busier than they have been in their history, and plants which closed for a few days are now making extensive additions to their factories.

Our tax on receipts of $10.00 or more was abolished and this, besides saving the people money, wipes out one of the nuisance taxes and means that in this respect we are coming back to normal.

But best of all to the people of the city of Charlottetown and especially those who are employed in our railroads here, substantial reductions have been made in the income taxes.

Again, the reduction in postage will touch almost every person. It is not so much the saving of 33 1/3 per cent, which appeals to us, as the fact that we are coming into an era when the burdens of the people of this country are to be relieved to a very considerable extent. Comparisons of ten breed trouble and discontent, and when our people in Canada went over to the Republic to the South, they saw automobiles selling at a very much lower price than in this country, and when every time they posted a letter they recognized the fact that they were bearing an extra burden. It tends to breed dissatisfaction and discontent.

Under the Mackenzie King administration these irritating matters were being remedied, and as Mr. Robb has intimated, a further concession will be given to our Canadian people.

Further than this, everything in Canada is gradually improving. The trade of the country is going ahead by leaps and bounds. Industrial activity in Dominion is shown by a large increase in car loadings, the number being larger than any year with the exception of war years when munitions played such an important factor in the commerce of the country. Production of pig iron shows an increase over 1925 so far this year, and the production of steel ingots and castings has been maintained. Building contracts for the month of May, 1926, were the largest for any employee of Mr. R. H. Ings, success-single month in the history of the Canadian building industry. The production of newspaper in Canada since the beginning of the year has even exceeded that of our neighbor, the United States, the amount being 153,969 tons, as compared with their 141,032.

Pulp and paper exports for the first five months totalled nearly 70 millions of dollars, compared with 60 millions in the same period last year.

A very large increase in the mineral production of the country is indicated, and especially in Ontario this industry is going ahead at a tremendous rate.

Land purchases in Canada is on a very much larger scale than for some years past, and the last fiscal year our exports of wheat to more than 60 countries showed a substantial increase over the previous year, amounting to about 250 million bushels worth 364 million dollars as against 190 million worth, 250 million dollars the previous year. Our poultry industry has also shown wonderful progress, and it can truthfully be said that Canada scarcely appreciated the worth of her poultry until exhibits went overseas in 1924 to the Wembley Exhibition, and the International Congress at Barcelona, Spain, and came into competition with birds from other countries for the first time. In the success and enthusiasm which followed, Canada immediately leapt to an important place in the international poultry industry. Since that time Canadian poultry breeders have come to attach a much greater value to their industry and have been more active and energetic in fostering it. Canadian producers have been in demand in all parts of the world and have been shipped to the Argentine, Japan, England, Fiji, Australia, Holland, Sweden, Denmark, and Ireland, as well as various parts of the United States.

There has been a steady rise in the last five years in the number of hens in Canada, their average production, total egg production in the Dominion, and their total value. Between 1921 and 1925 the number of eggs produced rose from 25 cents to 26 cents; and the total value of eggs produced from $40,968,841 to $57,950,340.

We could go on for a much longer time showing how our market and conditions are improving. Only this morning the paper showed where an enterprising firm in our city was making a large shipment of butter to the United Kingdom. Our people should note that while in some respects we are in a poor condition as regards transportation that so far as our overseas markets are concerned we are in a much better position than our Western friends, and we should be able to market our goods more profitably than ever before owing to these favorable conditions.

Then I might refer to the Australia Treaty and the West Indies Treaty, both of which were negotiated by the King administration. If proper advantage is taken of the extra trade facilities opened up especially by the West Indies Treaty, I am quite sure that it will spell extra prosperity for our Province.

Treaties, like anything else, must be taken advantage of if they are to be of any value, and it does not matter how good a Treaty may be if we do not make the most of it. It will be a dead letter so far as we are concerned, unless we are in a position to close by pointing out the great asset we have in our tourist traffic. On account of the increased traffic in this respect I am most anxious to see the contract let for the second Car Ferry and an improvement made in our transportation system, especially from Sackville this way. Our railway officials are most anxious to please the public, but they cannot do it with inferior equipment.

With the King Government in power sympathetic to our needs, we can step forward believing that a brighter day is dawning for Prince Edward Island, and with that in view we shall all work together for the upbuilding of the development, and the prosperity of this beautiful Province we all love so well.

Ch'town Business College Notes
Those wishing to take the Civil Service Examinations should register at the Charlottetown Business College, on September 7th.
The term 1926-7 will be the greatest in the history of the C. B. C.
The splendid satisfaction that the graduates of the C. B. C. continue to give employers is the best evidence of the thoroughness of the courses.

The exceptional high health rate of the students attending the C. B. C. is owing to the care existed over them and the bright, airy classrooms.
Established in 1873 and with an honorable record throughout those years, just imagine the army of graduates holding responsible positions everywhere and giving splendid satisfaction, ready to welcome and assist to lucrative positions those who follow from year to year. "The C. B. C.'s get there!"
Intending students should make their business to register at the Charlottetown Business College as early in the term as possible.

Commencing Monday evening, September 6th and continuing for the balance of the week, the Gladys Klark Stock Co., will be the attraction at the Prince Edward Theatre. This company needs no introduction to theatre goers here, having played Charlottetown a number of times before and the general verdict of press and public was, that it was one of the best dramatic companies ever here. Monday evening, "The Marriage Question," Comedy and Drama mingled with highly entertaining results, superbly played by Miss Klark and her associates, Tuesday evening, "Cinderella O'Reilly," a rapid, amusing comedy, Wednesday evening, "The Hat," a smashing good melodrama with a mystery that goes off with a bang in the last act.
Other plays, "The Unmarried Mother" and "The Hoodlum," Vaudeville between the acts, including Valmore Balfour, a real singer of jazz and blue songs.
Seat sale will start at 9.30 Friday morning at the theatre box office.
