CENTRAL GUARDIAN IT IS YOUR DUTY TO GET WELL! Mayor Holman Urges 'yes' vote in Plebiscite His Worship, Mayor B. Roy Holman, referring to the coming man-power plebiscite, issued the following statement, endorsed by motion of Coun. R.C. Chandler, seconded by Coun. A.T. MacKinnon and unanimously adopted, at the regular meeting of the City Council last night: "A matter which demands comment by me, as Mayor of the City of Charlottetown, is that of the plebiscite which is to be held on April 27th, 1942. "While it is not our duty as Civic representatives to advise the electors on such matters, nevertheless we believe we should urge every citizen to vote "Yes". "I am sorry to say that a number of our citizens do not fully realize the purpose or meaning of a plebiscite. For their benefit may I state that a plebiscite is a vote taken on some special matter submitted to the people and on such vote is determined the decision in the matter which is to be taken. "At the time of the last Dominion Election, a pledge was given by the present Government and the Opposition alike as follows: "That as a method for raising men for military service Overseas, resort would not be had to conscription, in other words, that voluntary enlistment would be the method by which men would be raised for Overseas Service. "While our present Government have power to legislate conscription measures, it is our opinion that the pledge thus given at the time of the election is a moral one rather than a legal one as we do not believe that it should be the decision of the people as to whether or not they are to be held to their pledged word. "The Government feels that to disregard their pledged word would have a tendency to destroy not only faith in the government, but faith in all democratic institutions as well, the very cause of a state of disunion which would jeopardize our War effort. "I think like this when we all realize the gravity of the situation we take as an example, Wendell Willkie, and stand behind our Government in the same manner that we are backing President Roosevelt. "There is no complacency in Charlottetown. There never has been. There never will be. I believe that the number of boys sent from here to the various Armed Forces 75 out of every 1,000, of total population, the amount subscribed to War Bonds and War Services, and the War work done by the youth Organizations bespeaks our attitude and so, again I say - Vote "Yes" in the plebiscite, and give our Government a free hand. "To stay at home and not vote would be to act the quising Naz. "To vote "No" would please the Nazis. "To vote "Yes" will be to support our cause and our Allies who are fighting beside us". GERMANS SEEK (Continued from page 1) Most of the axis-inspired propaganda was directed against the threat of British and American thrusts into German-occupied territory in western Europe and at least a part was concerned with Germany's desire for protection from the west before the Nazi spring offensive against Russia begins. "The Reich government, especially the army command, would like to be assured of a protected rear before starting an offensive in the east," a neutral dispatch from Berlin said. In addition to general and military "friendship" reports from neutral sources, Germany has been waging a reorganization in the procedure of the Rion trial where five former French leaders are defendants in an investigation of responsibility for France's war defeat. The Germans, including Hitler himself, have been seeking to change the trial from an inquiry into defeat guilt to trial to answer the matter of wages for city employees was brought up by Coun. Chandler when he introduced a resolution requesting that the salary of the City Accountant, Mr. Gordon Stewart, be fixed at $1,200 for the year 1942. This is an increase of $120 a year. He referred to a "contingent account" which was supposed to have been set aside for the purpose of paying increases in salary. He felt that Stewart was underpaid and the City "might lose him" if his salary was not raised. He spoke of the matter having been discussed in "casual" and said he "expected controversy" if the employee came directly under the control of the Finance Committee. Coun. MacKee did not object to granting the increase to the particular employee but wanted to know why they should start in the "middle of the ladder." He thought the City Clerk was entitled to an increase. Mayor Holman expressed the opinion that he was in favor of the increase to avoid the possibility of losing the services of such a valuable employee. Coun. Douglas opposed putting the resolution to a vote. He urged waiting until later in the week to deal with it. He would have to vote against it if it was put to a vote right away. He wanted to know why the City Accountant was picked out and "the rest" let go. He charged "Coun. Chandler doesn't want to see my street officials get anything." Coun. MacDonald said that there was liable to be an increase granted at this meeting, then a cost-of-living later. He declared there are a lot of employees of the city under-paid while some City employees are over-paid. Coun. MacKinnon agreed with the Mayor that the matter should be dealt with at a special meeting, however, when assured by the Mayor that the City Accountant's name would not come up when "the others" were discussed he was satisfied to vote on it. Coun. Butler asked "if he was taken by the soldiers, would the city close the office?" When the resolution was put to the vote, the result was as follows: Ayes, Coun. Chandler, Stems, Blanchard and MacKinnon; Nays, Coun. Douglas, McKee, MacDonald and Butler. The deciding vote, in favor of the increase, was cast by Mayor Holman. Following this a resolution was introduced by Coun. Chandler requesting that the cost-of-living be provided in the Dominion Government's Order-in-Council made applicable to City employees. Considerable discussion took place as to what the cost-of-living bonus should mean to employees. There was a great variety of opinion on the matter. Some thought it would amount to nothing while others thought it would be the vicinity of $15 a month. Accordingly the resolution was withdrawn pending a study of the matter by City Recorder K. M. Martin. It will be brought up at a special meeting. Communications included a letter of thanks from Hon. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan and Dr. J. P. Lantz for a grant to purchase additional surgical instruments for No. 7 General Hospital overseas; a request from the Children's Aid Society for $150, which was acknowledged and placed on file, and two applications for a job as street sweeper. Coun. Douglas explained that it had been decided that more street sweepers would not be required since the rubber lighter had been submitted. A resolution commending City Fireman Harold Hennessy, Constable Stron, and Constable Stems Webster for their act of bravery in rescuing a young citizen from drowning in the Hillsboro River, was passed; another resolution awarded the tender for supplying 30 pairs of rubber boots for the firemen to the LePage Shoe Company; another granted $25 to William Bradwell, payment of gasoline used in connection with his duties with juvenets and delinquents; and one granted leave of absence to Constable Keith Johnston to the City Police Force now on active service.

COL. J. L. RALSTON and LIEUT. COL. J. A. MacPHEE Will address a mass meeting at the CAPITOL THEATRE FRIDAY, APRIL 17th. AT 2 P. M. Everybody Welcome

"The Great Mr. Nobody" Gay And Entertaining Now At Capitol There's a moral to be learned from "The Great Mr. Nobody," the Warner Bros. film with Eddie Albert, Joan Leslie and Alan Hale, now playing at the Capitol Theatre. It tells, amusingly and poignantly, that "what it takes" to be a hero aren't bold, magnificent actions, but that quiet spirit that even a newspaper advertising salesman can possess. Accent is on human characterization in the plot. There's Albert, a dreamy, open-hearted hero-worshiper nicknamed "Dreamy." His girl friend, Mary, who works on the paper with him, portrayed by Joan Leslie, is sweet and understanding, but she gets furious with "Dreamy" for letting everyone step all over him. "Dreamy" is an old landed sea captain who rooms with "Dreamy" Lumbering along in his job, the salesman does badly, and he is fired. Later, his boss falls into the bay. "Dreamy" dives in to save him, but he is rescued himself instead. But "Dreamy" made the here—a different kind of hero—and much is in store for him.

"We warned, if it is not done, and done soon, we will be faced with an epidemic of venereal disease and illegitimacy. Since the outbreak of hostilities there has been a marked increase in the syphilitic rate in this province, and in gonorrhoea there had been a tremendous increase. The number of illegitimate children born in this province in the year 1941 was 1,100. In giving motion of introduction of this by-law, he expressed belief that "such by-law will be welcomed by a great majority of our citizens who at the present time are finding it most difficult to discipline their young boys and girls and see that they are in their homes at a respectable hour. Then again there is a large number of our citizens away on various War Services, which means that the responsibility for bringing up of the children falls on the mother at home and it is our duty to give them every assistance possible. The father's absence from the home can be offset in some degree by this civic supervision over these younger people." Coun. MacKinnon pointed out "A by-law to this effect will be worthless unless our City magistrates give power to bring habitual offenders before him and impose certain penalties." He also thought "it is most important that a clause or clauses be inserted in the by-law which parents must be brought to task if they are shirking their responsibility." Coun. C. Douglas stressed the need of supervised playgrounds in the city which, in his opinion, would be very effective in handling the situation. Health Committee Named The Civic Health Committee, appointed on recommendation of Mayor Holman, consists of the following: Mayor Holman, Coun. J. E. Stems, chairman of the Police Committee, and Coun. B. Earle MacDonald, chairman of the Fire Committee. The committee is authorized to conduct investigations and to report to this Council conditions detrimental to the health of the citizens of Charlottetown. It also has "control over, and direction of, the City Health Officer, the Meat and Milk Inspector, and the City Sanitary Officer, who shall be appointed by this Council from the members of the City Police Force, and especially instructed to act in this capacity in addition to such other police duties as may be allotted to him." This committee was formed on motion of Coun. R. C. Chandler seconded by Coun. J. E. Stems. Complaints regarding unsanitary conditions in City Restaurant, and in a Livery Stable, were voiced by Coun. J. T. McKee and Coun. A. T. MacKinnon. The committee will deal with these matters. Mayor Holman explained that such a committee existed for many years but had been abolished by a former Council. Mr. V. A. Almsworth, Manager of the Maritime Electric Company, was present at the meeting and on invitation of Coun. J. T. McKee, chairman of the Light Committee, explained in detail the lighting program in the business section which INDIA IN DEADLY (Continued from page 6, Col 7) Admiral Somerville has been named commander of the eastern fleet. He replaces Vice-Admiral Sir Geoffrey Layton, commander in chief of the fleet, who was temporary commander of the fleet since Dec. 11. Admiral Somerville is the man whose makeshift fleet of all sorts of ships and boats rescued the army from Dunkerque in May and June, 1940. He participated in the destruction of the German battleship Bismarck in the Atlantic last May. Mr. Churchill frankly acknowledged that it was quite impossible to supply continuous air protection to all British ships at sea, saying: "Unless these risks are taken, there is no means of carrying on the immense business of convoy and sea war which falls upon the Royal Navy." Mr. Churchill agreed to an early statement on the present course of the war but insisted it be at a secret session. "Suggestion that Britain follow the United States in Pearl Harbor precedent by appointing a commission to inquire into military reserves was dropped amid applause when Ian Hunter, Conservative member, asserted: "The United Nations must be more concerned with the offensive in the future than with what happened in the past. It was suggested that where the enemy was known to be in preponderant strength the admiralty might use the old strategy of sending out only submarines and surface raiders. On the Indian political situation, Mr. Churchill declined to make a statement until Sir Stafford Cripps returned from his fruitless mission of trying to arrange Dominion status for India. Is critical Of all talk, No action NEW YORK, April 13—(AP)—Martin Agronsky, blue network correspondent, asserted today in a broadcast from the United States headquarters in Australia that the allied supreme war council "seems to exhibit a dangerous lack of cohesion and decision." Candidly critical of the council's conduct of the war in the Pacific, Agronsky continued: "Responsible observers here are increasingly disturbed at the painful contrast between constant talk of allied offensive action and equally constant allied failure to do anything but talk. "It's time to attack the conference overboard and bring on the allied strength to bear on remedying what may become an irretrievable position in the Far East if allowed to deteriorate much further. "Everybody here seems agreed on at least two things, one is that on the record we are still waging a defensive war, though we talk of fighting an offensive war, and two, that something must be basically wrong with either our directors of strategy or our strategy itself. "It keeps us perpetually unable to take the necessary offensive action." Agronsky said he was told that the considered opinion of qualified experts was that in all the Japanese campaigns "in this part of the Far East" the enemy never used more than 500,000 troops. The broadcast cleared through both Australian and United States censorship without interruption.

Coun. Douglas explained that it had been decided that more street sweepers would not be required since the rubber lighter had been submitted. A resolution commending City Fireman Harold Hennessy, Constable Stron, and Constable Stems Webster for their act of bravery in rescuing a young citizen from drowning in the Hillsboro River, was passed; another resolution awarded the tender for supplying 30 pairs of rubber boots for the firemen to the LePage Shoe Company; another granted $25 to William Bradwell, payment of gasoline used in connection with his duties with juvenets and delinquents; and one granted leave of absence to Constable Keith Johnston to the City Police Force now on active service.

HEAVILY BOMBED MELBOURNE, April 13 — (CP)—Rabaul, pivot of the Japanese lodgments in the southwest Pacific Islands facing Australia, bore the brunt of weekend offensive operations by Allied American forces at least a part was concerned with Germany's desire for protection from the west before the Nazi spring offensive against Russia begins. "The Reich government, especially the army command, would like to be assured of a protected rear before starting an offensive in the east," a neutral dispatch from Berlin said. In addition to general and military "friendship" reports from neutral sources, Germany has been waging a reorganization in the procedure of the Rion trial where five former French leaders are defendants in an investigation of responsibility for France's war defeat. The Germans, including Hitler himself, have been seeking to change the trial from an inquiry into defeat guilt to trial to answer the matter of wages for city employees was brought up by Coun. Chandler when he introduced a resolution requesting that the salary of the City Accountant, Mr. Gordon Stewart, be fixed at $1,200 for the year 1942. This is an increase of $120 a year. He referred to a "contingent account" which was supposed to have been set aside for the purpose of paying increases in salary. He felt that Stewart was underpaid and the City "might lose him" if his salary was not raised. He spoke of the matter having been discussed in "casual" and said he "expected controversy" if the employee came directly under the control of the Finance Committee. Coun. MacKee did not object to granting the increase to the particular employee but wanted to know why they should start in the "middle of the ladder." He thought the City Clerk was entitled to an increase. Mayor Holman expressed the opinion that he was in favor of the increase to avoid the possibility of losing the services of such a valuable employee. Coun. Douglas opposed putting the resolution to a vote. He urged waiting until later in the week to deal with it. He would have to vote against it if it was put to a vote right away. He wanted to know why the City Accountant was picked out and "the rest" let go. He charged "Coun. Chandler doesn't want to see my street officials get anything." Coun. MacDonald said that there was liable to be an increase granted at this meeting, then a cost-of-living later. He declared there are a lot of employees of the city under-paid while some City employees are over-paid. Coun. MacKinnon agreed with the Mayor that the matter should be dealt with at a special meeting, however, when assured by the Mayor that the City Accountant's name would not come up when "the others" were discussed he was satisfied to vote on it. Coun. Butler asked "if he was taken by the soldiers, would the city close the office?" When the resolution was put to the vote, the result was as follows: Ayes, Coun. Chandler, Stems, Blanchard and MacKinnon; Nays, Coun. Douglas, McKee, MacDonald and Butler. The deciding vote, in favor of the increase, was cast by Mayor Holman. Following this a resolution was introduced by Coun. Chandler requesting that the cost-of-living be provided in the Dominion Government's Order-in-Council made applicable to City employees. Considerable discussion took place as to what the cost-of-living bonus should mean to employees. There was a great variety of opinion on the matter. Some thought it would amount to nothing while others thought it would be the vicinity of $15 a month. Accordingly the resolution was withdrawn pending a study of the matter by City Recorder K. M. Martin. It will be brought up at a special meeting. Communications included a letter of thanks from Hon. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan and Dr. J. P. Lantz for a grant to purchase additional surgical instruments for No. 7 General Hospital overseas; a request from the Children's Aid Society for $150, which was acknowledged and placed on file, and two applications for a job as street sweeper.
