THEATRE SPOTLIGHT

Flying Marines Blast U-Boats in Atlantic!

The convoys must get through Guarding America's life-line to the world's far-flung battle lines. Uncle Sam's flying Marines take off from Iceland through a howling gale of thundering shells . . . to plunge U-boats to the bottom . . . and plunge you into a hurricane of hair-raising adventure! Defying all perils of the watchdogs of the Atlantic protect supplies to America's fighting men . . . amidst a raging tempest of thrills!

With Bruce Bennett, Virginia Field and John Beal featured in the leading roles, Columbia's adventure-filled "Atlantic Convoy" roars into the Empire Theatre to-day for an extended run. Directed by Lew Landers, the screen play, which was written by Robert Lee Johnson, tells the story of America's winning fight to keep our sea lanes open so that we can keep Old Glory flying wherever the battle rages!

Other members of the cast include such favorites as Clifford Severn, Larry Parks, Stanley Brown, Lloyd Bridges, Victor Kilian and Eddie Laughton. Colbert Clark produced for Columbia.

"The Fleet's In" Promises Gobs Of Tunes, Laughs

A smooth blending of the talents of three popular stars and a host of top light entertainers, plus nine top tunes swung out by one of the nation's best bands, and a story that's got hilarious possibilities, can be confidently expected when "The Fleet's In," new Paramount comedy with music, ties up to-day at the Prince Edward Theatre.

The chief roles are occupied by Dorothy Lamour, who wears a saron or not, as the occasion requires (this time it doesn't); William Holden, last seen in an aviator's uniform in "I Wanted Wings," and Eddie Bracken, popular screen funster.

The roster of featured entertainers looks like the impressive line-up of talent for a United Service Organization show for the boys in camp. There's Betty Hutton, America's Number One Jitterbug; Betty Jane Rhodes, song stylist; Jimmy Dorsey and his orchestra, with Yocella and Lorraine and Rogann, well-known comedy dance team. All this, and Dorothy Lamour, too!

NEW LABOR

ing from the calling of men for military service.

In the exercise of its "immense powers" over the services of men and women, National Selective Service might take decisions which would need revision if needless hardship were to be avoided.

"The National War Services Boards will accordingly be retained to hear appeals from decisions of Selective Service offices," Mr. King said.

Other Announcements

Mr. King also made these other important statements in regard to manpower:

1. Special surveys and registers of manpower, needed from time to time to produce a picture of the situation, "will be made as required."
2. A special registration of womanpower "will be undertaken shortly" (Previously it has been said officially that September is the likely month for this survey).
3. In the near future, "employers will be asked to report all additions to and separations from their staffs since April 1."
4. To help safeguard the welfare of families affected by employment of additional women in industry to replace men for heavier tasks, day nurseries are being established in co-operation with the provincial authorities in Ontario and Quebec, and other welfare activities are being "vigorously developed."
5. The government has decided that "non-essential" civilian activities should be curtailed or eliminated and the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has been instructed to put this policy into effect by such measures as appear necessary for the purpose."
6. Besides these restrictions and eventual eliminations, "measures will be taken to ensure that minimum essential needs are satisfied by the use of the least possible amounts of manpower, materials, machinery, fuel, power and transportation."
7. Labor training will be continued "on a growing scale" to help overcome the shortage of skilled workers.
8. Provision of housing, the reconditioning of the physical unit, the maintenance of health standards and the organization of personnel management are being promoted by the government.
9. Much more complete control and direction of employment: new

VISITING THE CITY — Dr. F. McGarry, Sudbury, Ontario, is visiting Charlottetown for a few days. He formerly lived in Iona. P. E. I. He is staying at the Charlottetown Hotel.

VISITOR ENTERTAINED — An enjoyable afternoon was spent at Jenkins' shore Marshfield, when Mrs. Hector Jenkins, entertained at a hamburger fry a number of girl friends in honor of Miss Janet Chaffie, Mrs. Jenkins' daughter, who was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Budge, who arrived in Charlottetown and were spending their vacation with Mrs. Hector Jenkins, Marshfield.

JUNIORS HELP RED CROSS — Three groups of children in Charlottetown have recently increased the Junior Red Cross War Fund by having sales of different articles. Valuable assistance was given by Mrs. Noreen Conolly and Shirley Kay brought in $6.00 as the proceeds of their sale, Stella Pickering, Vera, Margaret and Lois Stewart and Barbara Pickering brought in $1.59 and Susan and Jack Reddin and Paul Jenkins $1.25. The children reported quick returns and were well patronized by the men of different services. Several groups of school children have increased the same manner and have increased the War Fund very substantially.

SUMMER PARTY — The Misses Eleanor and Fern McGill entertained about thirty guests at a waffle and marshmallow roast held in their home at Marshfield in honor of Miss Janet Chaffie, Potter Hill, Rhode Island, who was visiting her cousin, Mrs. Hector Jenkins, Marshfield. The earlier part of the evening was spent in games, while the latter part engaged by roasting the waffles and marshmallows in the large open fireplace. Music was then supplied by Graeme Boswell and Frankie White, which all departed to their immediate homes, wishing Janet a pleasant vacation on P. E. I.

FUNERAL OF AIRMAN — The funeral of the late L.A.C. J. C. McIntyre was held yesterday morning from the residence of his brother Stewart McIntyre, East Point, to St. Mary's Church, South, where Requiem High Mass was sung by the pastor, Rev. D. P. Croken. Assisting in the Sanctuary were Mr. Basil Croken, Rev. R. J. MacDonald, Rev. P. Mullaly, Rev. G. MacDonald, Rev. E. Robin, Rev. L. MacDonald, Rev. A. Sinnott, Rev. C. McKenna. Assisting the choir was Rev. Bernard Gillis, D.D. An escort party and firing party and six pallbearers from the R.A.F. station at Charlottetown were in charge of the funeral. A large number of members of the Canadian Legion of the South Branch B. E. S. L. attended in a body. Service at the grave was conducted by Rev. D. P. Croken. The casket was first over the grave followed by Past Post. Lac. McIntyre was killed in a mid-air collision near Armstrong, Ont., last week.

QUIET HALF-HOLIDAY — Citizens yesterday observed a quiet half-holiday unlike last week when the Old Home program was in full swing. Yesterday there were no sporting events and beyond a few out playing golf or tennis the remainder were contented at home or putting around in the garden or swimming at Kensington beach or off Victoria Park. There was no special sporting event in the province. One of the nearest approaches to a special program was at Alberton in Prince County where a picnic was held. A band from the H.M.C.S. Queen Elizabeth, training centre for naval men here, went to the Prince County village to assist with the program. Some Charlottetown citizens and a few from other sections of the province went to harness racing events on the mainland. The year to be continued until the end of September. Previously they ended in August. Some stores may not continue until the end of next month but a decision is expected soon.

DRISCOLL-MACDONALD — A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Dunstan's Basilica Saturday, August 14th, at 2.30 p.m. when James Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Driscoll, Mt. Herbert, was united in marriage to Elizabeth Cecilia, only daughter of Mrs. and the late Mr. Hugh L. MacDonald, Charlottetown. Reverend Father Louis Dougan, performed the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. James Russell, MacDonald, St. George's, looked very winsome in a two-piece, street-length dress of heaven blue crepe, with matching hat. Her corsage was of sweetheart roses, and she carried a beautiful white prayer book and Rosary. Her only attendant was Miss Ann O'Meara, Ottawa, who wore pale pink sheer with white accessories. Her shoulder bouquet was of sweet peas. Mr. Wilfred Driscoll, cousin of the groom was best man. The organist was Mrs. Joseph Dougan. Immediately after the breakfast was served to the immediate relatives of the contracting parties at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Weymouth Street. The young couple left by motor on a short honeymoon to New Glasgow and Antigonish, Nova Scotia. For travelling, the bride donned a smart dress of London tan crepe, with brown accessories. Prior to her marriage, the bride was the guest of honor at several charming showers. Guests at the wedding included Reverend Father Louis Callaghan, cousin of the groom, and Miss Helen Driscoll, Ottawa.

Schools Still Without Teachers

Officials of the Department of Education here said last night they were still without a complete picture of the school teacher situation in this province. They said they had reports from a number of schools without teachers but since the reports were made teachers had been secured for some.

A more complete picture was expected within the next few weeks when supervisors complete their first inspection trip. When they turn in reports the whole shortage—if there is one by that time—will be revealed.

A number of rural schools without teachers two weeks ago have found teachers for the term but numbers are still without any. In one section three schools in adjoining districts are closed.

Many rural schools opened August 14 and others are scheduled to open August 25. Charlottetown and Summerside schools open Sept. 2.

Charlottetown schools are not troubled by the teacher shortage, nor are the schools in the towns and villages.

4,000 Steel Workers To Vote

SYDNEY, N.S., Aug. 19—(CP)— Plans were complete tonight for a vote of a strike vote tomorrow among 4,000 employees of Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation's plant.

Workers' Union who decided last night to stage the vote, said tonight there would be no "holiday" from work while the men balloted. The vote will be open from 7 a.m. to midnight, A.D.P., with the workers voting outside their hours of employment.

President George MacNeill said the result would not be known until "some time Friday."

The vote was called to emphasize union demands for higher pay, chief of which is a raise in the basic hourly rate from 43 1-2 to 55 cents an hour. An application was turned down by the Regional War Labor Board early this month.

Subsequently, the union asked the Federal Labor Department for a strike vote. Yesterday, union officers made public a telegram from Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell saying the vote question "should not be brought up at this time."
