"Ladies' Day" A Romantic Comedy

Comedy and romance are the twin themes of "Ladies' Day," a rousing story of behind-the-scenes work in a big-league baseball club with Lupe Velez and Eddie Albert heading the cast. "Ladies' Day" plays at the Capitol Theatre today and Wednesday.

The romance is a hectic one with an excellent Latin screen star and an eccentric pitcher for the Sox as its chief characters. The comedy derives from the frantic efforts of the pitcher's teammates, the manager, and finally the team-mates' wives, to break up the romance, because when the pitcher is in the throes of a love affair, he is useless on the mound—and the Sox hope to win the pennant this season.

All this motivates a swift-paced and hilarious film that offers something new in the way of motion picture mirth-making. Max Baer as a dim-witted catcher, Patsy Kelly as his snappy wife, Jerome Cowan as a trouble-making banker and Cliff Clark as the Sox's manager, figure in this RKO Radio feature.

Mrs. Patricia Coadbody (right) who still sticks to her story about the shooting of her mother, Mrs. Frank S. Williams, by a mysterious woman who hid in their Chicago hotel room, shows Corporal A. L. Brodie (left) how the murderer aimed the gun at her. One investigator declared he believed Mrs. Williams was killed during a struggle with her daughter for possession of a revolver.

The Suprioring Sanctuary

By Leslie Cargill

Your merchant ships are not armed. They light back, and sink many a submarine. Ours is a hard life and perilous.

"You appear to enjoy it, lieutenant."

"That is most unkind, after I come to you for a friendly chat."

"Surely we aren't supposed to be delighted at being in your power."

"Make the best of it," he advised.

"We are all bored."

"Too bad! Too bad! For naturalists this place could be a paradise."

"Considering how long you've had an eye on it, you ought to know."

Without another word he turned on his heel and stalked away.

"Doesn't like 'em neither," Hugh commented.

They March Better on Tea

Commandos march better on tea than on water. This fact has been demonstrated by an official test recently carried out in Great Britain. A Canadian battalion was undergoing a 12-days course of battle training. The last six days were devoted mainly to marching, and during the period the foot-sloggers covered more than 280 miles. As an experiment, three out of four platoons were allowed to get all the water they wanted. The members of the fourth platoon were kept entirely off water and were given only tea. The "water platoons" made good use of their water bottles, but the "tea platoon" was the only one to finish the course intact. Which only goes to show that there is something in the soldier's traditional liking for a cup of rose-lee.
