LET the wheels of progress roll. EVEN a tadpole can boast of his social position for he is in the swim. IT SEEMS to be the aim of the British forces in Mesopotamia to capture every town that ever had a rug named after it. NOW, WHO MIGHT THIS REFER TO? Let your speeches be brief. And remember, my son, That your talk, like good beef, Shouldn't be overdone. HE CAN'T. A canner, exceedingly canny. One morning remarked to his granny. A canner can do anything that he can. But a canner can't can a can, can he? BA-LOONATICS! There was so much gas from the Opposition that the House simply couldn't help rising. STRANGE FACTS. Many mothers-in-law are all right. You occasionally get a good cook. Sometimes the garden seeds come out. The last match doesn't always blow out.

PAYMENT OF SALARIES TO RAILWAY EMPLOYEES

(Special to The Guardian.) OTTAWA, April 27—Senator Gibson Robertson introduced a bill for the payment of wages and salaries to railway employees, in the Senate last night. It provides payment twice a month. The present practice is to pay once a month. Senator Robertson stated that the press had reported statements which were unfair to employees of Government railways. The statement he referred to declared that employees of the Government railway were not loyal to the roads which they were employed by. Senator Robertson said that he was familiar with organizations of railway men on all of the lines including the Government railway. He assured the Senate that the men who looked after the movement of trains on the intercolonial were now faithful servants of the railroad and of the state.

A FAMINE OF TURNIP AND OTHER ROOT CROPS EXPECTED

It is of vital importance that the Farmers Grow Their Own Turnip This Year In the fall of 1914 the Seed Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, fearing a shortage in supply of field roots and garden vegetable seeds owing to disturbed conditions in European countries, which before the war were the source of supply for such seed, put forth an effort to include the farmers of the Dominion to grow their own seed. While this effort was only partially successful we have not to date met with any serious shortage. The principal reason for this was the large stock of old seed held in reserve, and many root fields in the Maritime Provinces last year showed the effect of the use of old seed. For the coming spring season conditions would seem to indicate that there is about enough of small garden vegetable seeds of rather low vitality which will necessitate heavier seeding, and a slight shortage of Swede turnip seed. As this is the principal field root crop for the Maritime Provinces and our farmers will agree with me that we cannot afford to reduce the acreage of our root crops, it is not about time we began to consider ways and means of procuring seed for our 1918 crop? It is almost a certainty that areas formerly used for the production of field root seed in countries such as France and the British Isles will next season be used for production of food for home consumption and the exportation of seed prohibited. In view of this the only thing left for us is home production. While no doubt the few who are already growing Swede turnip seed for sale in the district will make there is no possibility of their producing enough seed for the 25,000 acres annually grown in the Maritime Provinces. In the face of this the only solution of the problem is for every farmer who is raising turnips to sow his own seed. Any farmer who has a bushel or two of medium sized airily well shaped turnips, can with a little care grow as good seed as he can buy at any time. The proper way of making a selection in the fall leaving all the roots, and about four inches of the top attached to the plant. But even with the tops cut close to the bulb and the roots trimmed off on can produce seed. The cotyledon or crown growth will be destroyed but the lateral shoots will come up and produce good seed. These stalks are weaker and you have more trouble in preventing breaking down before ripening. Select about four good turnip plants for every pound of seed you wish to produce, choose a piece of dry or well drained soil fairly rich corner of an old garden is a very good place to cultivate well, plant in rows three feet apart and about eighteen inches apart in the row. If you are putting out thirty plants put them in three rows, of ten each, or if you have only a dozen, three rows of four each. The reason for this is, that the plants in this way support one another and ripen more evenly. The turnips should be set in the ground deep enough so that the top or crown will be covered by about a half inch of earth. Keep clear of weeds till the plants are about eighteen inches high, after that they should cover the ground and take care of themselves. About the time they are going out of bloom stalks should be driven in and something like binder twine or wire put around them about 2 1/2 feet from the ground to prevent them from breaking down while ripening. They are fit to cut as soon as the pods turn a light brown. Mangels, beets, parsnips, and carrot seed may be produced in the same way. This means of preventing a seed famine in 1918 is open to every farmer who has some good sound roots or vegetables in his cellar at the present time. One farmer in 1915 who had never attempted the work before produced 125 lbs of extra good Swede seed on one-eighth of an acre and there is no reason why any farmer cannot obtain like results. S. J. MOORE, Maritime Representative of the Seed Branch, Ottawa.

For Sale The Beautiful Clydesdale Stallion "Blackband Sensation" No. 9476 Foaled in 1908 This horse was bred in Ontario from imported parents. He is a beautiful dark bay with white hind feet and narrow strip on face, and weighs 1800 lbs. Is pronounced by competent judges to be the best type of draft stallion brought to this Province for many years. Exceptionally handsome with high crest, good mane and tail, the short-cut of backs, heavy bone with plenty feather, and the very kindest of dispositions. This should prove a very valuable horse for farmers. His late owner says that he has a good reputation as a Sire in Ontario and his colts are big, growthy fellows. He also says that he never knew of a surer horse of any breed in his thirteen years of experience with stallions of all kinds. Farm and Fireside says that the next ten years are bound to see the greatest demand for horse flesh the world has ever known. It can't be met in a day. Prepare for it. Apply to WM.
