

COLLAPSED ON FIRST BED

Kidneys were terrible, Hamilton woman declares. Blesses Gin Pills

To Mrs. Louise Pike life was unbearable. She admits frankly, "I had backache almost continually—could not carry a pail of water without getting dizzy or giddy."

What a plight to be in! But this wasn't all. Mrs. Pike's letter states further, "I couldn't sweep the floor without sitting down frequently, or walk upstairs without collapsing on the first bed. I decided to try Gin Pills," she goes on, "and now I feel the best I have ever felt in my life."

Attention to your kidneys now may save you pain and money later. Take Gin Pills the very first time you notice symptoms of trouble—backache, dizzy spells, spots before your eyes, head-aches, swollen joints, brick dust in urine, a burning sensation attendant on scanty or too frequent urination. Soothe and strengthen your kidneys. Stay healthy. Take a box at your drugstore. National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada Limited, Toronto, Canada.

The Glorification of Youth Is a Silly Tribute We Pay to a Superstition, Says Dorothy Dix. It Is Not Youth, but Middle Age, That Is the Time of Greatest Pleasure and Happiness

THE cult of youth has become an obsession with us. Men annually spend millions of dollars on patent nostrums in the vain attempts to sprout hair on their bald heads and raise a crop of ambrosial locks. Puffy gentlemen go on starvation diets and walk weary miles on the golf links in a frantic endeavor to eliminate their bay windows and regain a boyish figure, and hoary grandpas deck themselves out in Klansy-Kant Kollege Klotches and rattle their poor old bones doing the Charleston and the Black Bottom.

BEAUTY QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Use of Sage Tea. Dear Miss Leeds—Please tell how to prepare and use sage tea. Will it injure hair? A. E. S.

Answer—The sage tea is mixed with ordinary black tea. Place two ounces each of dried sage leaves and black leaves in an iron pot with three quarts of boiling water. Cover loosely and allow the teas to simmer until the liquid is reduced to one quart. Now remove the pot from the fire and allow the teas to stand for twenty-four hours. Strain off the leaves and saturate the hair evenly with the liquid. Let the hair hang loosely and fan it gently to dry it. This mixture is not a dye and is quite harmless. Of course it will not keep for any length of time, but must be used when made. It may be applied to the hair with a toothbrush or a small sponge. Results are gradual.

LOIS LEEDS. Premature Graying. Dear Miss Leeds—I am 14 years old and am getting quite gray. The hair underneath and near the scalp is not gray, however. I have decided to use sage tea to restore the color. Please tell me how to prepare it. X. Y. Z.

Answer—The recipe for the sage tea is given above. I am wondering whether you have not mistaken the cream on the top layer of hair for premature graying. If you are in the habit of going about outdoors without a hat it would be natural for the top hair to fade. If this is not the case, however, I would advise you to consult a physician to see whether the graying may not be due to some internal disorder that is robbing your hair of its pigment. LOIS LEEDS.

Barkening Red Hair. Dear Miss Leeds—I am a very young girl and am considered a beauty. My only drawback is my red hair, which is a rather bright red. How can I darken it? Would it become streaky? MAY.

Answer—I think it would be a great mistake for you to make your hair darker. Red hair is distinctive and there are many girls who would give anything to have hair like yours. One's complexion harmonizes with the natural shade of one's hair so that the hair color is changed it looks artificial. The sage tea will give you a natural color. If you are a blonde, you may use it after your shampoo to give your hair a streaky luster. It will not become streaky. LOIS LEEDS.

Stimulating the Growth of Hair. Dear Miss Leeds—My hair is very thick and will not grow fast. What could I put on it to make it grow thicker and faster? RUBY.

Answer—First you must build up your general health and make sure that your weight is correct for age and height. Second, massage your scalp thoroughly twice a day. Do not merely rub the surface of your head, but move the scalp over the skull as you massage. This will stimulate the circulation of the blood. It is the blood that feeds the hair roots and of course good health insures good blood. The chief value of hair tonics lies in the fact that they must be massaged in. A hot oil treatment before your shampoo may help you. There are many possible causes of thin hair, including the use of hot irons or kids, and in order to cure the condition you must find and remove the cause. There is no single remedy for all cases of thin hair and slow growth of the hair. LOIS LEEDS.
