RULER OF THE AFGHANS.

LONDON, August 6. — A short, stout man, who wears a gray frock coat when visiting, likes afternoon tea, plays a remarkably good game of bridge, does not hesitate to sit down at the piano, and sings a song for the entertainment of a party, and after dinner has been known to speed the parting guest with a long and animated conversation on the character of Habib-Ullah Khan, Ameer of Cabul, Seeker after God's Health and Lamp of the Commonwealth. He did all these things when visiting India in the early part of last year. He seems to have created the impression in some minds that he was the Asiatic counterpart of the German Emperor.

He told various people whom he met that he was the best smith in Afghanistan, the best carpenter, the best drill sergeant. Then he claimed to be able to preach a better sermon than any mullah, and as a matter of fact led seven thousand people in prayer at Delhi—on the largest prayer meeting on record. He speaks seven or eight languages, he plays cricket; he has acquired a liking for the motor car and he seems to think very highly of his powers as a doctor.

Then, too, he apparently knows how to enjoy himself at a race meeting, and when he makes a bet, he pays on the spot if he loses. When he was in India an attendant stalked solemnly behind him, carrying a vast cashbox full of money, for which disbursements were made, when necessary. He is said to be a good sportsman, but when he plays cricket with his attendants the Ameer apparently always wins: It might perhaps be risky for opponents to make a better showing.

A slight impediment in his speech is associated by tradition with an ancient palace intruding to poison him with their apparent.

His left hand has but four digits, due to a gun accident. He would be a one-armed man had it not been for the skill of a British doctor who saved the arm from mortification.

BROKEN IN HEALTH

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restored Strength After Medical Treatment Had Failed.

"I can truthfully say Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me what one of the best doctors in Halifax failed to do—restored my health." This strong statement is made by Mr. Wm. J. Weaver, 172 Argyle street, Halifax. Mr. Weaver adds:—"A few years ago I took employment in a large factory as fireman. I knew the work would be hard, and friends told me I would never stand it, but as I was a strong man, weighing 180 pounds, I laughed at the idea of not being able to do the work. Anyhow I started and found the job a hard one indeed. There were a number of firemen employed and men were taking and quitting the job every few days. I kept at the work for two years and during that time lost 60 pounds weight, and was a broken down man. I could not take my meals and often took my dinner back home with me without touching it. When I would be working on the night shift I could not sleep in the day time, and this added to my trouble. Finally I became a total wreck and had to quit the work. I could hardly drag myself about, and yet had become so nervous that I could not sit still and would walk about the house until I was ready to drop. The doctor came to see me every day, and changed the medicine time and again, but it did me no good. Finally he wanted me to go to the hospital, and at this stage a friend came to stay with me overnight. While he was reading the evening paper he came across the testimonial of a cure wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He said, "why don't you try them, nothing else is helping you and they may do you good." He went out and got me a box at once. When this was done I got a half dozen boxes, and before they were all gone I began to feel like a new man. I continued using the pills for a couple of months when I was again as well and stronger as ever I had been in my life, and I have not seen a sick day since. I feel confident there is no remedy in the world equal to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for building up a broken down nervous system, and for such troubles I would strongly recommend them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure such cases as Mr. Weaver's because they make the rich, red blood that feeds the starved nerves and tones and strengthens every part of the body. That is why they cure anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuritis, St. Vitus dance, paralysis and other troubles due to bad blood and shattered nerves. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

REPUTED PORTRAIT OF CHRIST.

LONDON, August 6. — There is an interesting sequel to the archeological discovery made recently by the Abbe Gaffre, eminent French Egyptologist. While exploring a village in upper Egypt the abbe came across an ancient parchment, which, he says, describes in detail the sending of the disciple Thaddeus to Agbar, king of Edessa, with a portrait of Christ, which learned authorities say is the only one in existence.

This portrait has hitherto been considered apocryphal, but it is obvious that, if the Abbe Gaffre's discovery should bear out all his expectations.
