DEBATE ON NAVAL PAY SHORTLIVED

Admiralty Will Investigate All Cases of Hardship Arising From Pay Reductions In Navy.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—"The past is past," declared Sir Austen Chamberlain, First Lord of the Admiralty, in the House of Commons this evening. "It is in the interests of the men in the navy and those outside the navy to forget it." Sir Austen was opening the debate on the reductions in naval pay which the Laborite opposition had clamored for since yesterday. But to the surprise of everybody, the debate was short-lived. The expected attack from the Labor benches failed to materialize. After brief statements from one or two private members who followed Sir Austen, the matter was by general consent allowed to drop.

The Maritime Y's Mens Convention which at the invitation of the local Club is being held this year in Charlottetown, met last night at the Canadian National Hotel where the registration of the delegates took place at seven o'clock.

At the dinner which was held at seven thirty, fifty four Y's Men were present, and everyone heartily enjoyed themselves as is the custom of all Y's Men at such times of goodfellowship. A splendid dinner was served after which cigars and cigarettes were passed around, and with feelings of contentment the Convention sang heartily some of their favourites on such occasions. The singing was led by Song Leader George Johnson, Moncton.

After the songs Mr. Percy Crandall was appointed Fines Master by popular acclamation.

Mr. J. M. MacFadyen, President of the Host Club, expressed his pleasure at being present at the gathering of the Y's Men and hoped that if the weather would permit the visiting delegates would see the beauties of the Island as arranged by the Entertainment Committee.

The President then extended the

BLAMES WOMEN FOR TROUBLE IN THE FLEET

Naval Men At Portsmouth Are Of Opinion That Sailors' Wives Responsible For Unrest In The Navy.

PORTSMOUTH, England, Sept. 17.—It was the women who started that trouble in the fleet up at Invergordon, naval men in this port are inclined to believe. The newspapers here and at most of the other naval ports have been deluged with letters from sailors' wives condemning the proposed pay cuts as unfair and demanding that the Government reconsider it. The wives also gave their husbands a piece of their minds and this, so the story goes, started the unrest.

WILL LIKELY BUY WHEAT FROM CANADA

Between Twenty And Twenty-five Million Bushels Going Overseas During Next Twelve Months.

(Special to the Guardian) PARIS, Sept. 17.—Canada will likely sell to France between twenty million and twenty-five million bushels of wheat during the next twelve months, according to calculations made by representatives of the Canadian wheat growers here. Much will depend, however, on the present economic negotiations between France and Soviet Russia. If the accord goes through the Soviet may flood France with wheat which is capable of competing in quality with the Canadian variety. The British United Press learns, however, that the Franco-Soviet negotiations are meeting with many difficulties. The Soviet are asking financial aid from France and it is reported that the latter demands political concessions in return.

Personnel of New Directorate Has Not Been Decided Upon.

(Canadian Press) OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 17.—With the Dominion and Quebec Governments in agreement that the Beauharnois project should be continued, the probability appears that attention will be turned shortly to the question of re-organization of the present company. It is understood, while no official statement has been made, that the existing directorate will be eliminated and a new set of executive officers will be installed in the carrying out of the enterprise.

Extend Lobster Fishing Season In Nova Scotia

OTTAWA, Sept. 17.—Changes in the lobster fishing season in Western Nova Scotia were announced today by the Department of Fisheries. Because of existing conditions in the industry, the fishing season this year will open Dec. 1 and close Jan. 15. This will affect the coastline from Burn's Point, Digby County, to Cole Harbor, Halifax County. The minimum catch, it was stipulated in the regulations, will be nine inches exclusive of claws and feelers. The spring season in this section will open March 1, 1932, and will close May 15. This will be two weeks shorter than the usual season and will compensate for the enlargement of the all season.

INDICATIONS OF BETTER DAYS TO COME

(Special to the Guardian) TORONTO, Sept. 17.—Suddenly, unexpectedly, except to the experts in the world of economic gloom, appeared indications yesterday of good days to come.

Broomhall, world authority cabled Chicago that China might want 135,000,000 bushels of wheat in flood stricken areas. Liverpool also notified Chicago that Russian offerings of spring wheat are largely withdrawn. A plague of locusts is reported from Argentina which may affect crop prospects. European yield of high grade wheat is said to be comparatively low.

Back From North With Many Tales Of Arctic Life

Government Steamer Beothic Arrives At North Sydney After Her Yearly Journey Into The Regions Of Berg And Floe—Brings Many Passengers Including Crew Of Schooner Shipwrecked Last Sept.

(Canadian Press) NORTH SYDNEY, N.S., Sept. 17.—Back from her yearly journey into the regions of berg and floe and hardship, the steamer "Beothic" came to her dock here today. Seven weeks had elapsed since the Government's supply ship pointed northward with supplies and relief for the police post medical stations and scientific expeditions scattered throughout Canada's vast Arctic Archipelago.

Cheer of "Back Home"

Seven weeks—of routine to the crew, romance to the stay-at-home—which saw the Beothic's trailed smoke settle on eight thousand miles of lonely water, saw the little thousand ton steamer bring the cheer of "back-home" to the Northland's thin population of white men, the assurance of physical well-being to the injured or sickening native.

Many Passengers

Seamen, shipwrecked on barren coasts and prospectors looking for a lift home, came down on the Beothic, physicians who had spent a part of their lives ministering in the Archipelago, policemen who had kept the social order there, returned for awhile to step ashore and matter-of-factly take up the business of existence in a less rigorous region.

Eskimo Feels Depression

Word came back on the Beothic of problems and activities that dif-

WITH COURAGE UNITY AND SACRIFICE

(Canadian Press) TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 17.—"With courage, unity and sacrifice, the same spirit which brought them through the struggle of 1914-1918, the British people will fight and win their fiscal battle of 1931." In making this statement before the Empire Club here today, the Rt. Hon. and Rt. Rev. A. F. Winnington Ingraham, Bishop of London, described the British fiscal crisis as "the greatest in our history, with one exception. There was no use trying to minimize the danger, said the Bishop, "you know perfectly well what a flight from the pound sterling would mean," among other things there would have been no dole at all." He had unqualified praise for men like Snowden and Thomas. Rather than let the nation go over the precipice they went over it themselves, sacrificing their political careers.
