Whirlaway and Alsab hook up Again today

NEW YORK, Oct. 9—(AP)—Whirlaway and Alsab, all square after two clashes, hook up again tomorrow in the American Turf's Jones' stake race on the flat—the two solid quarter miles of the $25,000 added New York Handicap at Belmont Park.

Even other horses have been named for the start of stammas, as well as speed, but if any of them, with the possible exception of Townsend B. Martin's Bollingbrook, are under the wire ahead of either Whirlly or Alsab it'll be an upset even more surprising than the one that turned over the apperant Alsab turned in the first victory in the series that has developed into the turf's No. 1 rivalry, hanging it on Warren Wright's ease by a whisker in the Narragansett match race, Whirlaway, however, evened things last Saturday when he led Mrs. Albert Smith's same little colt by a length in the two miles of the Jockey Club Cup at Belmont.

In between the two races, Bollingbrook whipped Whirlly in the Manhattan Handicap with the aid of decided pull in the weights. But in the old Grand Prix, he had to contend with third. Assignment of weights for tomorrow's handicap gives Alsab a two-pound bigger advantage than he had in last week's weight-for-age event. This time, Whirlly will pick up 130 to the Sab's 121. Bollingbrook gets in with 116.

Mid-West Expects Biggest Crowds

NEW YORK, Oct. 9—(AP)—With Southern California and the Midwest in the lead, the mid-west crowds to draw the biggest crowds through the turnstiles for tomorrow's football games in the United States.

Sixty thousand fans are expected to sit in on the U.S.-Buckeye engagement at Columbus with another 30,000 at South Bend for the inter-sectional clash between Stanford and Notre Dame and the same number at Chicago for the conference tilt between Purdue and Northwestern.

Rizzuto leaves Home for Norfolk, Va.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9—(AP)—Phil Rizzuto, diminutive shortstop whose play was a highlight of the New York Yankees in the recent World Series, leaves tonight for the Norfolk, Va., naval base where tomorrow he starts training as a seaman first class.

Admitting he was "a little scared" about the changeover from civilian life to that in the armed service, he declared, "In the meantime, I felt the same way when he first came up to the Yankees. I wouldn't take a million for those two years with the Yankees," he said.

factories producing for Germany. It also brought from the German radio the threat tonight of reprisals for raids "instigated by the military."

For the first time the Germans mentioned Flying Fortresses, although this was their 14th raid over western Europe. It appeared the Germans had been withholding from their people news that American air forces are taking part in European activities.

Beazley Says Watson and Egan go to About Enlisting Red Wings

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 9—(AP)—Another chapter is beginning in the story-book career of Johnny Beazley, the 23-year-old Nashville boy who climbed almost overnight from obscurity to a mediocre bus-leader to World Series stadium.

Beazley, who was drafted by the Yankees, suddenly found himself famous this week after pitching St. Louis Cardinals to two dramatic victories over the Yankees.

Gridiron warriors start their season's battles this afternoon on the St. Dunstan's armory when S.D.U. and a strong R.A.F. team tangle in an exhibition encounter.

The game should be a rugged encounter from start to finish. Local followers will remember that last year these two squads met in several exhibition encounters and each time the ruck displayed was judged as anyone would wish for.

In fact several of the old-time ruggists were heard to remark on more than one occasion that the brand being played competed favourably with the best of the time. That was quite a compliment coming from old veterans and this year will both sides be ready to give the lineups the encounter promises to be even better.

The game will get underway at 3:45 on St. Dunstan's new playing field.

Island sport followers will learn with regret of the death in hospital yesterday afternoon of Spourgen "Dutchy" Diamond, former W.H.K. star, after only a short illness.

"Dutchy" as he was familiarly known was a well known figure in Island athletics back around 15 years ago. Baseball and hockey were his main sports and he was particularly in baseball where he had down first base fans but distinctly remember the mighty bat he used to wield.

Long booming drives used to come from "Dutchy" regularly and opposing pitchers had plenty of reason for the big first baseman every time he stepped up to the plate.

In hockey, "Dutchy" will be particularly remembered for the time he stepped into the ring against St. John's Grammar. The time the Abergweils gave the amateur world champions the battle of their lives at St. John's "Dutchy" turned in a superb performance that night and for several seasons after turned in smart performances while still wearing the livery of the Abergweil Club.

"Dutchy" has passed on now but in his last great fight he exhibited the same diamond courage that he displayed in his athletic prime and he was still fighting hard—although a losing fight—when the final summons came early yesterday afternoon.

Speaking of the postponed Conn-Louis fight Baz O'Meara says in part: Nothing has been heard of late of the Conn-Louis fight after all. They are back to back in the chores while all the close-in returns have forgotten all about the incident.

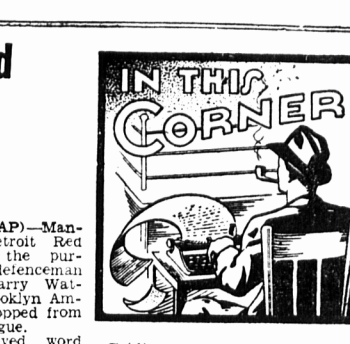

Secretary of War Stimson never really told why he called off the dog. He found something that wasn't too savory. You can bet on that. Perhaps the writers know now why the bout was called off. They raise a terrific fight at the time but have subsided. They may have been told the reason which might have been reflective on some who had a yet appeared publicly in the picture.

In any event there will be no bout but later on if Joe and Bill are around there may be an attempt to stage the bout because it can be done and much money realized for the services.

When this bout took place one of the mistakes made was that no provision was made for the fact that the United States has a law against army laws against them receiving remuneration but it shouldn't have been any to make sure that the money would be paid to a trust fund for their dependants after a certain time elapsed.

TORONTO, Oct. 9—(CP)—Rear Admiral Ben Morell, chief of the bureau of yards and docks of the United States Navy, today issued a report of American labor leaders today and told them in plain language the wartime record of their unions was not good enough.

Morell pleaded with the delegates to renounce all peacetime jurisdictional rules which interfere with maximum efficiency, asserting that some rules were compatible to the position that a marine, because he was trained as a machine gunner, cannot use a rifle or unload a landing boat.
