Last week travel has been very heavy and the vanguard of the August vacation-hunters got off with a rush. According to the Boston and Portland papers, the rush in those cities for the summer resorts was something tremendous and railroad officials were "up against it" in getting the crowd on its way. In St. John travel to the various summer resorts showed the impetus of August and many St. John people started off on their vacation trips. Travel through St. John to this Province and Nova Scotia is already heavy and it bids fair to increase as the month progresses. Travel on the I. C. R., eastbound, has been good this season and the officials are not heard making any kicks.
