May Get Seat On League Commission

(Special to The Guardian)

GENEVA, Switzerland, June 20.—There are indications that the League of Nations mandate commission, which began its sessions today, will vote to give Germany a seat on the commission. If given a seat Germany will have a voice in the administration of her former colonies. It is understood that the League Council and Assembly will approve the measure, which is regarded as the first actual move by Germany toward regaining some of her lost colonies.

Company Issued Unauthorized Shares

(Special to The Guardian)

LOS ANGELES, Calif., June 20.—The collapse of the Julian Petroleum Company revealed the fact that the company had issued 5,400,000 shares of stock when only 1,200,000 were authorized. $17,000,000 is involved.

At Rotary

At the Rotarl luncheon yesterday the speaker was Rotarian Archie Irwin, who gave a most interesting talk on "Some Reminiscences of his Experience as a Printer and Journalist." He spoke of the changes which have come over the city since he was a boy, and of the muddy streets, the gas lights, the town pumps, and other "conveniences" which were not in existence when he was a body, contrasting them with the "conveniences" of today.

Some incidents in his career as reporter were also related. The disrespect for the press in early days has given place to respect. He, however, severely scored the anonymous writers, of which there were many in those days, and which the newspaper man has still to contend with. No matter who gains in the coming election, these anonymous scribblers will endeavour to claim credit for having accomplished the result.

The President, Dr. MacMillan, announced a meeting of the Red Cross to be held in Heartz Memorial Hall next Thursday, to be addressed by Mrs. Ross.

The Secretary stated he had a letter from Rotarian Reuben MacDonald, acknowledging a letter of sympathy from the Club on the occasion of the death of his mother.

The Stars are also on edge for this game as it will give them the right to the Mayor Miller Trophy, so that they will be playing ball from the start and a good ball game is now in the making.

RAMSEY—STEWART. — The wedding of Miss Ella Ramsey, daughter of Mr and Mrs George Ramsey, Spring Valley to Mr Louis Allan Stewart, Charlottetown was quietly solemnized at Kensington Monday morning by the Rev. The young couple left for a short motor trip throughout the Maritimes. On Wednesday night previous to the marriage the bride was tendered a shower by her hosts of friends and by the many numerous and valuable gifts received it shows the very high esteem she was held in. The gifts included a substantial amount of cash and checks. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome neck pennant. Splendid Address poisonous substitutes in that Province. She was told by a lady in Kensington that one need not go to Ontario to find such conditions, they existed right in that town.

Continuing, she spoke of the conditions in United States —the country which the Opposition point to as an example to emulate; of the poison trail which resulted in 50 deaths in Ontario in one week, from liquor brought over the border from Prohibition U. S. and of the statements made by authoritative Americans to the effect that Prohibition in that country, created an element of criminals and lunatics.

Many of the arguments of the Opposition would be convincing, she said, if that had the least bearing on the issue at hand. Everyone agrees that the abuse of alcohol liquors. Everyone admits that conditions were bad before Prohibition. The comparison between ante and post Prohibition days does not bear on this question. How Government Control is working in other provinces, especially Quebec, does not effect the question on the Island. The Quebec law totally differs from Premier Stewart's policy. Premier Stewart has the interests and welfare of the youth of the country at heart, as is easily apparent from his record and the interest taken by his Government in worthy and charitable institutions.

Mrs. Fallis then irrefutably proved that the provinces now under Government Control had ample opportunity to revert to Prohibition if they so wished.

The advocates of Prohibition claim that no one should vote for a temperance law—the revenue of which would go into the public treasury, because it would then be tainted. They forget to observe that the Federal Government derives a huge amount of revenue from the Customs Excise Tax which they impose upon the manufacture of alcoholic liquors. The fact that the distillers and brewers of liquor are allowed to manufacture such, coupled with the fact that it will be consumed legally or illegally or resort to poisonous substitute, is sufficient to show that Prohibition cannot fulfill its promise.

In conclusion she stressed the necessity of educating the people especially the youth, in the virtue of temperance, and advised the electors to conscientiously study the question then cast a vote accordingly.

Mrs. Fallis resumed her seat amid tremendous applause. Mrs. J. E. B. MacCready gave a brief addres, ending by proposing three cheers to Mrs. Fallis and the Conservative party, which was lustily given by the audience.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

A Serious Argument

PITTSBURGH, June 20.—Struck on the jaw by Earl Smith, Pittsburgh catcher during an argument at the home plate yesterday, Dave Bancroft, Boston manager and shortstop, dropped unconscious and was carried to the dressing room. Services In Zion Presbyterian Church

The Minister occupied the pulpit and preached at both services.

His morning subject was "A Dramatic Passage," namely Acts XII. This chapter is full of dramatic material and packed with haunting phrases. Herod Agrippa I, grandson of Herod the Great occupies a central position. Evil does not always prosper, though for a time the wicked may seem to flourish. Evil meets its doom by appearing to succeed. Herod proceeded further. The seeds of the German catastrophe of 1914-18 were sown in 1864, 1866, and 1870 when in the case of Denmark, Austria and France she succeeded. World forces were arrayed against a praying Church. Plotting and political expediency would have been powerless where prayers succeeded. Mystical interpreters find in verse 10 certain stages in the deliverance of the souls of men. In the "iron gate" they see some last gerat sacrifices.

As in a drama, the chapter closes with the same character, Herod, the man, master, almost god, reaches his limit, when he is smitten by an unseen hand.

"He was eaten up of worms," but the Word of God grew and multiplied."

The special address to the children was the story of a little girl whose brother had been given up by his physician. She overheard the doctor saying that nothing short of a miracle could save him and immediately she went out into the city and tried to purchase a 'miracle." Finally she "met" the miracle and her brother recovered.

Beside the regular program of choir music a mixed quartette consisting of Miss Murley, Mrs. Mutch, Messrs D. McKinnon and M. McKinnon sang acceptably 'What Will You Do With Jesus."

The topic for the evening service was "The Quest for Truth" based on II Timothy 3; 16-17. The Pastor was in fine form and his message applied to the Provincial election to be held next Saturday is bound to have a beneficial effect. His reference to the heritage we possess in our franchise and the price for which it was bought by our forefathers was indeed worthy of serious thought by the electorate.

He first drew his hearers attention to the great advances made in our age in the arts and sciences with particular reference to the recent conquest by Capt. Lindbergh of the vast air space between the new and the old land. But notwithstanding all we know or have the opportunity of knowing in this age, how much there is yet to learn as for instance in the world of Literature, the world of passing events, of Nature, Human Nature and Self.

This very interesting discourse was based on the five essential points in the characters of a seeker after Truth—he must be a pioneer, dogmatic, liberal in his views, practical and above all a man of God.

The soloist for the evening was Mr. Harry Craswell.
