P. E. I. Light Horse Held Unique Place

By WILLIAM BOSS
(Canadian Press War Correspondent)

WITH THE CANADIAN FORCES IN THE NETHERLANDS, Nov. 2 — (CP) — (Advance) — Defence unit for the headquarters of the 2nd Canadian Corps, where it was responsible for the well-being and security of Lt.-Gen. Simonds and his staff, the Prince Edward Island Light Horse is the only regiment in the Canadian Army whose strength embraces both infantry and armored corps personnel.

Some units are infantry, others are armored, but the P.E.I.L.H. is unique in being both. Infantry personnel were responsible for the ground defence of the headquarters while the armored corps manoeuvre and manned three squadrons reserved for the General's reconnaissance trips.

Dual Appointment
Indicative of the degree to which the regiment was integrated in the headquarters was the commanding officer's dual appointment, Winnipeg's Maj. Ernest Raymond Collins, in addition to being commanding officer of the P.E.I.L.H. was also the Headquarters' deputy camp commandant.

The unit's only operational responsibility, in terms of being committed to the line to maintain definite contact with the enemy, was during the advance from the Rhine bridgehead, when for four days it held a sector along the Twente Canal. Originally committed for only 24 hours, the P. E. I. L. H. filled its role four days.

The operation brought a mention in dispatches for CSM, Fred Hodder, Paris, Ont. and resulted in the unit's only casualty in the northwest European campaign, Cpl. Darrel Wilson, St. Peter's, P. E. I.

The outfit never lost a vehicle or a prisoner, but bagged 160 Germans. Brought overseas originally as Headquarters squadron for the 1st Canadian Armored Brigade, it received its corps assignment in England. With the disbanding of the 2nd Corps Headquarters, the P. E. I. L. H. was placed under command of the 5th Canadian Armored Division, with which it will ultimately return to Canada as a unit.

Unit Strength
By no means large — its peak strength was 268 — the P. E. I. L. H. nonetheless provided the 5th Division with one officer and 35 other rank volunteers for Pacific service.

Company commanders at the close of hostilities were Captains Lloyd G. MacPhee and George A. Godfrey, Charlottetown, P. E. I., and Samuel R. Charters, Brampton, Ont., while subalterns were Lieutenants Gordon Johnson, Saint John, N. B., Reginald Harvey, Moncton, and Jack McPhee, Toronto.

"Unity Needed"
Says Speaker

"The only way this Province will receive just treatment from the powers that be, is by presenting a united front, and working together, regardless of political, racial or religious creeds."

The speaker was Mr. John F. Conolly, Provincial Deputy Minister of Reconstruction, addressing a special dinner meeting of the Men's Association of the Charlottetown Baptist Church, in the school-room of the church, on Thursday evening. Twenty returned service men of the church were special guests at the meeting.

The president of the Men's Association, Mr. J. P. Campbell, presided. Mr. Conolly, who was introduced by Mr. E. J. Rupert, painted a word picture of the recent Dominion-Provincial Conference held at Ottawa, and outlined the important part of the Provincial delegation played at the Conference. He explained how the Province stood to gain or lose by the proposals made. The speaker also explained the set-up of the Provincial Reconstruction Committee, made up of men, who had been successful in their particular line of endeavor. He paid a tribute to these men, who had given their time and advice gratuitously. In concluding Mr. Conolly made a strong plea for unity, regardless of political, racial or religious creeds, and pointed out that the economic salvation of the Province depended on unity.

The speaker was tendered a hearty vote of thanks, moved by Mr. Harper MacLennan, and seconded by Dr. J. A. Clark.

The returned service men of the church who were present as special guests, were extended a hearty welcome by the Pastor of the Church, Rev. I. Judson Levy. Mr. Levy said that this was a time we had all prayed for and looked forward to, when we could welcome home those who had served in the forces. Mr. Levy invited the men to participate actively in the work of the church. He said that there was a feeling of sadness, when it was recalled that some would never return. A fitting memorial service would be

Gort Resigns

Viscount Gort

The Resignation of Lord Gort as High Commissioner for Palestine was announced to Commons yesterday as recent outbreaks of violence in Palestine were branded officially as a "Wanton resort to force which might nullify Britain's attempts to solve the Jewish problem."

Apparently there was no direct connection between Lord Gort's resignation and the disturbances, however. Making the announcement, George Hall, Secretary for the Colonies, said the High Commissioner had stepped down because of ill health.

Training for PEACE

Throughout Canada today tens of thousands of our boys have turned from the grim tasks of war and are anxious to learn useful peacetime vocations.

Many of these boys went overseas before they had finished their education—many were too young to have established themselves. After long years of war it is absolutely essential that they be given a thorough vocational training.

The least we can do to help these boys accomplish their aim. They have fought long for us—and it is our duty to see that they are well equipped to re-enter civilian life.

Canada's vocational training plans—in fact her complete rehabilitation programs—are among the finest in the world. This is one of the reasons why this present Victory Loan is so vitally important. Your purchase of Victory Bonds will help to give some young veteran a chance to carve a career for himself. And remember—there is only one Loan during the next 12 months—so buy more than ever before.

Reason enough?

EVEN if there were no other reason for buying all the bonds you can in the 9th Victory Loan, it should be reason enough that men wounded and disabled in action must continue to have the best of care.

Our debt to them is but one of Canada's obligations to all who served, and are still serving, in the armed forces.

Investing our money is after all a small way of repaying a debt which cannot be measured in money. But it is concrete evidence we recognize the debt and that we will not fail to meet the obligation it brings us.

Put all you can into the 9th Victory Loan. Set your personal objective higher to reach and pass the higher objective of the loan.
