"GANGWAY FOR TOMORROW" AT CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE

—Presenting an unusually absorbing story of modern America, RKO Radio's "Gangway for Tomorrow" opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre with Margo, John Carradine and Robert Ryan heading the cast.

The films unique plot deals with the dramatic backgrounds of five widely different persons, now working shoulder to shoulder in a defense plant to turn out planes for our fighting men overseas. The lives of these five, and the cogent reasons why they are now united in the struggle for victory, lend an intense earnestness to the picture and make it a memorable piece of film fare.

A French refugee girl and her dramatic escape from a Nazi firing squad, a race-track driver who smashed up on the eve of joining the air force, a beauty-contest winner who learns the futility of fame, a prison official with a secret on his conscience, and a hobo who has the meaning of Americanism driven into him by a shrewd small-town judge these are the chief characters in the unique offering. Due to the adroit use of off-screen narration and smooth flash-backs, Producer - Director John H. Auer has made each episode distinct, while still blending them into a single compact picture.

GIVES EXPERT—

revealed, too, that since only one type of virus can occupy one cell, this knowledge became of indispensable value in effecting a distemperoid virus because of the "blockade" principle.

Body Cells Affected

When a dog or fox was ill with distemper, Dr. Green said, a certain portion of the body cells were affected by that virus. When a strong dose of the distemperoid virus was injected into the sick animal, the counter-acting virus began immediately to lodge in the non-diseased cells, thus blockading the further progress of the distemper virus with a resultant cure of the sick animal.

Dr. Green cautioned against amateur diagnosis of distemper. He based his statement on his scientific discovery that the symptoms of the disease varied according to the organs affected by the virus. In some animals, manifestations of the disease showed by pus forming about the eyes and nostrils, with a rash around the mouth. In other cases, no pus was formed and no loss of appetite resulted. In still other cases, the whole cutaneous (skin) surface of the body became affected.

Caused Different Symptoms

He had been able to cause different symptoms in different animals, the Doctor stated, by grinding up, in one instance, an infected spleen and injecting portions of it into a healthy animal. In other cases, he had injected portions of diseased skin tissue, and in still other cases, blood tissue.

Once the distemper virus lodges in body cells, epithelium cells, nerve cells, or secretory cells such as those of the liver and spleen, it destroys them, the Doctor stated, and breaks out in greatly increased quantities.

The distemperoid virus not only cures 90 per cent of dogs or foxes affected with distemper, but it immunises them for life, Dr. Green said. Its injection into young foxes over eight weeks old was followed by no serious reaction.

Referring to dogs, Dr. Green said it was his definite opinion, based on much scientific experimenting, that chorea, a disease from which dogs often suffered, had no relationship whatever with the distemperoid virus. Chorea, Dr. Green said, was a nutritional disease caused by wrong nutrition, and though dogs which had been treated with distemperoid virus might possibly contract chorea there was no connection between the virus treatment and chorea.

Mr. W. Chester S. McLure warmly congratulated the speaker on his address and declared the talk had been of great value to him.

Mr. W. R. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, in moving a vote of thanks, stated that the Provincial Department of Agriculture and the people of the Province were under a great debt to Dr. Green as a result of his world-affecting discovery.

Mr. Gordon MacMillan presided at the meeting.

Two Sent To Supreme Court After Jail Break

James McNeil, 20, Summerside and Layton Chisholm, 16, Kensington, were committed for trial in Summerside yesterday by Magistrate W.E. Darby K.C. on a charge of breaking jail. Chisholm whose term of six months for breaking, entering and theft would expire on August 18 and McNeil who had served about six weeks of his sentence of a year for theft overpowered the assistant jailor on Thursday afternoon and made their escape. They were apprehended later in the evening hiding in bushes just west of Summerside near the rifle range.

When they appeared for preliminary hearing yesterday the case of Chisholm was proceeded with first. The first witness was Gothard Baker, jailor, who testified that Chisholm was in custody in the Prince County jail serving a term of six months for breaking, entering and theft.

Jack Steele, assistant jailor, said that at noon on June 14th he let the accused out of his cell and took him to the waiting room where his sister was waiting to see him. Witness then went to the jailor's office and later Chisholm appeared and said he was ready to return.

The witness continued, "I went down with him to where I took him from and when we got there he refused to go in and he turned and grabbed me by the left arm and pushed me up against the wall. He called for McNeil, another prisoner, to take the keys. McNeil grabbed me. They tusseled with me and they got the keys. When they had me overpowered they pushed me into Chisholm's cell and one of them got a towel to tie me up. They held me under the bed. I heard them talking about taking the keys and opening the main gate. They saw I wasn't able to move around much more. After they had all the gates opened they came back and locked the cell and warned me not to holler. They did not tie me up."

Witness said in about five minutes he was released by Alfred Yeo. He next saw the prisoners between 6 and 6:30 when they were returned by the R.C.M.P.

Sgt. L.J.C. Watson, R.C.M.P. testified that at 5:15 p.m. on June 14th he was advised that two prisoners had escaped. At approximately 6 o'clock accompanied by Chief White and Sgt. Schurman of the Summerside Police Force and Constables Carter and Curtin of the Summerside detachment R.C.M.P. he made a search on the outskirts of Summerside near the rifle range. Witness said that he was searching next to Const. Carter in some bushes and heard him shout. He proceeded to where he was and found that Const. Carter had the two escaped prisoners in custody. This was near the shore. The prisoners were returned to jail. In conversation with them they did not deny the break. McNeil said Mr. Baker was the cause of the whole thing and if he ever got a chance he would kill him. He claimed Baker had a spite against him, witness said. This concluded the case for the Crown and the Magistrate committed the accused for trial.

The evidence in the preliminary hearing of James McNeil was about the same. Gothard Baker testified that he was in custody serving a term of one year for theft which would expire April 30, 1946. He had no spite against McNeil, he said.

At the conclusion of the evidence the Magistrate asked the accused if he had any questions. McNeil answered "yes", and said that he had been locked in a cell because he refused to carry ice up to the jailor's apartment.

In reply Mr. Baker said that McNeil had been disorderly and would not work. He had been locked in his cell only one day but had been confined to the corridor.

At the conclusion of the hearing he was also committed for trial

Mr. C.D. McCallum represented the Crown. The accused were not represented by counsel.S.

Home On Leave From So. Pacific

Home after serving nine months in the South Pacific is S 1-c Lorne Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen T. Doyle of 24 Highland Avenue. Doyle in his last trip participated in the attacks on the Philippines,, Iwo Jima and the battle of Okinawa. He was in the initial landing force that invaded Iwo Jima.

The Everett South Pacific Veteran holds a commendation ribbon awarded to the destroyer on which he serves. Doyle's most recent battle while in the Pacific was against the suicide planes of the Japanese Air Force.

Seven of these fanatical manned planes plunged straight down towards Doyles ship, which suffered damage and is at present undergoing repairs in California.

A graduate of the Immaculate Conception school, Doyle enlisted in the Navy two years ago, while still in his junior year at Everett high school. He received his training at the Sampson Naval Training Station, N.Y.

His first trip overseas was on patrol duty in the Atlantic.

He will return to his ship upon the termination of his leave on June 15. (From Everett, Mass. Gazette.) Mr. Doyle was a former resident of Charlottetown.

Interment was in the church cemetery.

OPTIMISTIC TRADE REVIEW — An optimistic article on Prince Edward Island export trade prospects, based on statements made at various times by Premier J. Walter Jones, appears in the Toronto Financial Post. The article says the Government through the provincial travel bureau has been contacting the 22 Canadian trade commissioners scattered throughout the world, giving advance details on P.E.I. products that will be available for export. Some favorable responses, already have been forthcoming. English importers are said keen to reopen purchases of live cattle to meet beef shortage and increase milk production. Anticipated, too, is renewed interest in the Island's fox furs as soon as Britain resumes luxury imports, and increased demand for Malpeque oysters and canned lobsters. Argentina has indicated readiness to buy pedigreed bulls and this is seen "as another market for the province's registered Holsteins." The same country is also looking for certified seed potatoes particularly of the Katahdin variety. France "appears newly interested in fox furs — there have been recent enquiries from two dealers in Paris." There has also been found "an enormous demand in New Jersey for disease-free poultry, and it is expected that as soon as the railway can guarantee speedy express services there will be large shipments of P.E.I. eggs for hatching purposes." From Minnesota have come enquiries for Malpeque oysters in barrels, and there are "good prospects of large exports there in the coming oyster season."

Reception Committee Plans

Plans for the reception of the returning veterans were made yesterday afternoon in the Legion Home at a meeting of the Citizens' Reception Committee, which is headed by President Leo J. Bradley of the Charlottetown branch of the Canadian Legion, and which is representative of the Legion, the Red Cross, the Navy Club, the City Council and Provincial Government. It was unanimously decided to tender the boys a banquet at The Charlottetown tonight after meeting them on their arrival at the station.

(Worth noting is the fact that the Committee has been carrying on work of this kind for a long time, on very modest funds. $250 was raised by a dance, $100 by a grant from the Government, and $50.60 from the Sports Committee headed by Mr. Samuel Doyle. The Committee requires at least $2,000 to meet and welcome returning veterans this summer. The City and Government will assist but citizens are also invited to do so. Donations are being received through Mr. H.S. MacLeod, secretary of the Committee, care of the Unemployment Insurance Office, Charlottetown.)

It is expected that overseas men will be returning for the next five or six months, and it is hoped that before the end of July the two Prince Edward Island batteries, the P.E.I. company of the North Nova Scotia Highlanders and others will be returning as units.

Honor Rolls Unveiled

A large congregation assembled at Cross Roads Christian Church, June 10 to attend a double Honor Roll unveiling.

The service was conducted by the Minister, Rev. Sterling B. Stackhouse assisted by Bryer Jones Jr., who read the Scripture and lead in prayer.

An original poem was read by the minister followed by the reading of the names. The Honor rolls were draped with a large flag and were unveiled by L.A.C. Blake Wood, R.C.A.F. and Sgt.-Major Kenneth Gard, Army. Two minutes of silence was observed for two who had made the Supreme Sacrifice , followed by Hymn "Abide With Me" played by the organist, Mrs. Caldwell Wood, and the National Anthem followed by Dedication Prayer by the minister.

The names on the Honor Rolls were engraved by Mrs. Austin Kennedy.

A duet was rendered by Mrs. Caldwell Wood and Mrs. Louis Howatt: "Wait And Murmur Not."

Mr. Stackhouse took for his text "What honor hath been done to Mordecai for this". The service closed with the singing of Hymn Sometime We'll Understand"

Report Of United Church Settlement Committee Tabled

SACKVILLE, N.B., June 15 — (CP)—Rev. A.S. Weir chairman of the Settlement Committee informed the Maritime conference of the United Church this afternoon that 25 charges could not be supplied because of a shortage of ministers. Six of 47 Maritime ministers who have been in His Majesty's forces have returned but it will be some time before the majority of the others are released.

The committee suggested that there be cooperation or local union between some congregations until adequate supply becomes available.

The final draft of the settlement committee includes:

Prince Edward Island Presbytery — L.M. Murray, Oct. 1, 1944, Kensington; J.I. Morrison, Jan. 1, 1945, Hunter River; M.D. MacLeod, Dundas; G.K. Ward, Bideford.

Through Sleepers Here To Montreal Are Not Affected

MONCTON, N. B., June 15 — (CP) — In regard to the recent announcement of the cancellation of sleeping car services made at C.N.R. headquarters, Montreal, officials in the Atlantic Region stated here that it would have a vital effect on the travelling public in the Maritimes. The move was made in order that priority on railway equipment be given to movements of members of the armed forces.

Sleeping cars 93 and 94 operating on train 43 Moncton-Saint John, will be cancelled Saturday. The night sleeper on the Moncton-Saint John run will make its last trip Saturday at 4.05 p.m.

Night sleepers between Halifax, Truro and Sydney will be taken off with the last trip out of Halifax and Truro on June 17 and that out of Sydney on June 18.

The Campbellton-Levis sleepers will make their last trip out of Levis on June 16, and from Campbellton on June 17. The Levis-Campbellton; Montreal - Campbellton; Montreal-Riviere Du Loup and Montreal - Metis sleepers have also been cancelled.

The order does not effect through-sleepers on the Ocean Limited, the Scotian and the Maritime Express running between Montreal, Halifax and Sydney.
