Boston Transcript—Prince Edward Island which in the past has possessed many attractions for summer tourists, has found this patronage steadily declining, and in casting about for a reason, her citizens are reaching the conclusion that it is caused by the banning of the automobile. Effort will be made to remove that restriction. This is a result that might easily have been forseen by a people more broadly in touch with the movements of time. The world is very full of attractive resorts, but the automobile has become an almost indispensable medium of summer pleasures. The grass now generally grows in the roads where it is not permitted to travel.

William D. King, Manomet, Mass. who came to this Province some weeks ago on a visit, expects to leave tomorrow morning on return to his home. Mr. King is one of the most popular of the American tourists who come to the Garden Province to enjoy its outing privileges. This time Mr. King was particularly unfortunate in meeting with an accident during his first few hours fishing a Morell whereby he sustained a broken shoulder and has been laid up since. It is earnestly hoped that Mr. King is suffering no ill effects as a result of the regrettable occurrence and that when his annual visit is paid next year that he will meet with better fortune on his holiday tour. He has expressed in no uncertain terms his appreciation of the cordial and considerate treatment accorded him while a patient at the P. E. I. Hospital and elsewhere since the accident.

Those interested in the oyster industries in this province will be concerned in the following despatch from Ottawa:—One of the most important discoveries that has ever been made with respect to oyster culture was explained for the first time yesterday to the Committee on Fisheries of the Commission of Conservation by Dr. Joseph Stafford, of McGill University who made the discovery as the result of many years close scientific investigation. The great difficulty in oyster culture heretofore has been the inability to determine the exact time when the swimming oyster eggs are ready to sink to the bottom to attach themselves to hard, clean bodies called cultch, put there for that purpose. This cultch, which usually consists of old oyster shells, has to be put in the water only a few hours before the young oysters sink or it becomes slimy and useless. Dr. Stafford after years of patient investigation has discovered a means of telling just when the eggs are ready to sink to the bottom. so that the oyster farmer knows the exact time he should put down the cultch. The committee passed a resolution recommending that the Government instruct fishermen how to apply Dr. Stafford's discovery.

Is there something that you require in Fishing Tackle? If so, we would like you to see our stock before making your purchase. We never had such a splendid assortment of flies, casts, lines, etc, and our prices were never so low. See our 75c and $1.00 roads. E. A. Foster, Central Drugstore. 6-7Mtf.

Edson and Mrs. Douglas, Lawrence, Mass., have arrived in this Province on a visit to Mr. Douglas' former home at Head of Hillsboro. They will spend several weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Herbert Lee and Mrs. Levi Laird have returned home after spending a few days visiting friends at Cape Traverse, Augustine Cove and Tryon.

Mrs Hammond Toombs, North Rustico, who has been undergoing treatment in the P. E. I. Hospital, Charlottetown, for the past twelve weeks, returned home yesterday much improved in health. Mrs. Toombs expressed her pleasure with the treatment she received from the Matron and nurses.

Rev. J. B. Champion, pastor of the Salisbury N. B., Methodist church, well known in this province, had a narrow escape with his life on Sunday. He started Sunday morning to drive to Allison, one of the preaching stations on his circuit. As the day was fine, he took two of his little daughters along with him. When near Boundary Creek he noticed in the distance an automobile rapidly approaching, and as his horse is young and not much accustomed to automobiles, Mr. Champion lifted his two children out of the carriage. As the auto drew near he found that his horse was becoming very nervous, so he held up his hand as a signal to the people in the car to hold up so that he could get his horse by. But they paid no attention whatever to his signals. They neither stopped nor slackened speed, but dashed on by. The result was that the young horse became unmanagable. Mr. Champion saw that he could not manage the animal, although he hung on as long as he could, when finally he partly jumped and was partly thrown out of the carriage. He gave his ankle a bad wrench, received a severe bump on the head, and was bruised pretty generally, and while not severely injured he received a bad shaking up. The horse dashed away, running over logs and stones in his mad race. The carriage was completely demolished, the harness badly broken up, and the horse was pretty badly scratched up. Rev. Mr. Champion, although feeling pretty sore, pluckily filled his other two preaching appointments on Sunday.

::Cased Pipes. We have just secured an agents line of samples in cased pipes—some new styles for the young fellows as well as patterns for the veteran. READING GLASSES

A good many people think that in selecting glasses for reading it is quite sufficient to merely try on various pairs of glasses, until a pair which they think suits is found.

PERFECTION (TRIAL 2.21½)

The handsomest trotting stallion of Prince Edward Island. His stock proven that he is a first class sire. Perfection will stand for the season 1912, at his owners stables.

P. C. BROWN,

EVERY woman occupies a position somewhere tween the imperfect and the ideal Sometimes all one requires to give her an ideal figure, is a properly selected, perfect-fitting corset.

It is marvelous—what a difference this corset will make—and how well worth while it is!

Every woman can find her prototype in a W. B. Corset. No matter what her lines, she can find in the W. B. Corset line the model which will make her figure ideal.

For slender figures and those of average proportions, we have a well graded series of W. B. Erect Form and Nuform models, which for variety and beauty could hardly be surpassed.

The more Junoesque types of feminine loveliness will find the W. B. Reduso Corset their greatest boon. For while the dignity that goes with added weight is admirable, it may be marred by imperfect proportions. And when a Reduso corset will produce perfection, why not employ it?

The bust, the hips, the abdomen, are all adjusted to more graceful proportions, and proper poise is easily attained by wearing the Reduso.

The fabrics, trimmings and boning in all W.B. Corsets are of a standard to please the most fastidious.

W. B. Erect Form and Nuform models $1.50 up.

W. B. Reduso models $4.00 to $10.00.

Most authorities will concede that Mrs. Marvin is an authority on Corsets and her opinion is highly valued among those who know.
