CHAPLAIN WRITES TO ISLAND MOTHER

Mrs. E. McAulay, Head of St. Peter's, has received many kind letters from friends on the death of her son in France, one of the last being the following:—

Dear Mrs. McAulay— Your letter came today and I am very sorry to hear that your son did not live. He seemed very happy when I saw him, but one always hopes out here, and as he requested it I wrote as I did. When I had told him I was getting a stretcher party I asked if there was anything more I could do and he said "write to my weak to give any special message."

Dear Mrs. McAulay— I am a Methodist Chaplain, Faithfully yours, E. E. GRAHAM.

THANKS FOR GIFTS

The following is a letter received by the W. P. A. of Victoria from (Sister) Olga Myers now in England. Miss Myers is a daughter of Mr. Wesley Myers, of Victoria, whose brother Cleveland, is a soldier of the East Mediterranean Squadron: Brighton, Eng. June 1, 1917 The Patriotic Society, Victoria

Dear Friends,—Accept my sincere thanks for the pleasant surprise which I received from you a few days ago. I think I appreciate even more the thought which prompted it. It is nice to know one is not forgotten although you are far away. The hospital I am working in can accommodate about 850 patients; the nursing staff consists of about sixty nurses but there are also about sixty nursing orderlies and all the patients who are able to help with the work. This hospital in former times was a palace of George IV. most of the wards are small and hold about 12 or 16 beds, but there are two large wards with 125 and 150 beds each. They are set about three feet apart with a locker (bedside table with two shelves) between them. There are no unnecessary articles in these wards. You are lucky if you can find room to tuck a bed in without scraping your fingers against the locker. Every nurse who has cared for British soldiers states emphatically that a "Tommy" is the finest patient that ever was; and anyone who has been in a war hospital when a convoy of wounded came in, knows how true the statement is. Some of them look very, very ill and weary of life, others look merrily patient; and all of them look tired, so tired. You want so much to get to work making them comfortable, for his look of pain through a forced smile lets you know that he needs you.

We care for them and they go—home or back to the front—while still more come to fill their places. Perhaps I am unapologetic when I say I would rather see the boys "marked up" for unfit for further service instead of convalescent camp, whence they return to their base and to the trenches. It is nursing a procession, but we like it, for there never was so grand a procession as the army of the Allies. Again thanking you, I remain, yours sincerely, (Sister) OLGA MYERS.

RED CROSS WORK

Canadian Field-Comforts Commission Moore Barracks, Shorncliffe, June 20th, 1917. Mrs. R. Kaneen, P. E. I. Dear Mrs. Kaneen, Miss Finn has already acknowledged your generous contribution of $80 for comforts which we were so pleased to receive from you. I notice your enquiry concerning the sale of socks. You may not know that we send our socks out to Companies or small Sections instead of in bulk to a whole Battalion. We think that this ensures efficient distribution at the front and, as far as we can tell, our socks are carefully distributed. We have often had this enquiry but we have never yet found any case of supplies sent out by us being handled except as free gifts to the men. We shall be pleased to send your socks to P. E. I. men. With best wishes to your Society who is doing such good work. Yours faithfully, MARY PLUMMER, Capt. C. F. C. C.

HOW TO ECONOMIZE.

Keep All Food Absolutely Clean and Covered. Food is spoiled by careless handling and storing. Important amounts of perishable foods are made dangerous or inedible because they are exposed to heat, germs, dust, dirt or flies and other insects. Much milk spoils quickly because it is kept uncovered in warm kitchens. Close observance of the doctrine "Keep perishable food, specially milk, cool, clean, and covered continuously may make a striking difference in the food bills of many families. One or two vegetables, beets or carrots, for instance, not needed immediately, are thrown out or allowed to spoil instead of being used in soups or combination dishes. Fruits which could be stewed and kept are allowed to spoil. Vegetables and fruits in quantities often are stored in hot, damp, and poorly ventilated bins and under conditions which hasten wilting, fermentation and decay. Fruits, surplus beans, tomatoes, and other vegetables, produced in home gardens are allowed to spoil on the vines or rot on the ground. A morning's work would clean and preserve such surplusage for use when fruits and vegetables are scarce and high in price. Much food is ruined by being stored where flies or other insects, or rats and mice, can get at it. Much cereal food is ruined because it is not protected against weevils or other insects. A Yank met Pat one day, and surveying his tattered and broken boots remarked: "You have very bad boots, Pat. Surely they must be letting in the water." "Why, no," said Pat. "They are the driest boots I ever wore." "How so?" asked the Yank. "Because," answered Pat, "they drink at every pool of water I meet."
