HALIFAX Presented With Oil Painting

HALIFAX, March 4 — (CP) — An original oil painting depicting the founding of Halifax 200 years ago, was today presented to the city in a brief ceremony here.

C. D. Devlin of Toronto, vice-president and general manager of Confederation Life Association, turned the painting over to Mayor J. E. Aheron on behalf of his firm. The presentation was made in honor of the 200th anniversary of the city's founding.

Painted by J. D. Kelly, it depicts Halifax's founder, Hon. Edward Cornwallis, discussing plans for fortifications with his chief engineer, John Bruce, shortly after the group of founders landed June 21, 1749. In the background, settlers are erecting dwellings.

Mr. Kelly has specialized in Canadian historical subjects for 60 years. He did original sketches during the North West Rebellion in 1885.

HINTS TO MAKE POWDER STAY ON

Maybe the reason why your powder slides off your face with such annoying frequency is because you don't sink it in when you apply it. A skin does not actually have the smooth surfaces that it appears to have. Examined under a microscope, the most impeccably smooth skin would reveal a texture as rough and as craggy as a coarse dry sponge.

When powder is used to make this rugged surface even, skin looks smoother and powder stays put longer.

To "sink in" your powder, press in your puff. See that the puff carries a good dusting of powder to your face. Sink powder in, and remove with a complexion brush any surplus that makes your face look dusty.

If you haven't tried using two shades of powder—an idea of applying tone on tone which one cosmetic house endorses—now, while skins are pale from lack of sunshine, is the time to try this trick.

NORWAY'S ACTION SIGN BALANCE OF POWER CHANGING

By J.M. ROBERTS, Jr. (Associated Press News Analyst) Norway's refusal of a mutual defence pact with Russia is new evidence of changes in the European balance of power which have been taking place in recent months.

Just a year ago Finland was knocking under to Moscow's demands for such a treaty, and Czechoslovakia had just been formally inducted into the Soviet sphere.

Today, with the United States support, Norway and Denmark are able to make their own decisions and to tell Russia so.

"The facts alone will form the basis for deciding which steps shall be taken for the defence of our land and it is self-evident that such appraisal rests solely with the Norwegian Government," says the Oslo reply to the Kremlin.
